Pledge Allegiance To U. S., Renounce Use Of Violence

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—American Communist leaders today pledged allegiance to the United States and eschewed violence on the road to political and economic change.

They proclaimed internal democracy for their party—provided dissenters limit themselves to talking—and rejected as "liquidationist" the thought that the party be turned into an educational league.

The leaders' views were set forth in a "draft resolution" to be submitted to the Communists' 16th National Convention scheduled for next February.

Prepared in the name of the party's 22-man National Committee, the document was said to be the first such statement since 1950. It concededly contained "far-reaching changes" in the party line.

But these changes did not affect the ultimate Communist goal: "Replacement of the system of profits for the few with a system of production owned by the people and operated for the use of all."

Nor were there any changes among the familiar Communist whipping boys: The 'giant trusts," "pro-Fascist reaction," "Wall St. forces," "American imperialism," and the "powerful enemies of freedom—the Brownells and Nixons, the Eastlands and McCarthys."

The references were to Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss) and Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Since 1950 Communists the world over have been shaken by the

Two Seek State Convention Post For East Carroll

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Sept. 22 (Special) — East Carroll Parish Representative Vail M. Delony and Lake Providence Attorney Mason P. Gilfoil have announced as candidates for delegates to the proposed state Constitutional Convention.

Delony is a life-long resident of East Carroll Parish and is well-known to people throughout this area. He is married to the former Miss Bessie Louise Miller, and they are the parents of two daughters, Betty and Vail.

He has served as representative from East Carroll Parish since 1940 and recently began his fifth term in office.

In announcing his candidacy, Representative Delony stated, "It has been my pleasure to serve the people of East Carroll for the past sixteen years in the State Legislature and during that time it has always been my policy to endorse and support legislation that would best benefit the economic welfare of the state and parish which I represent.

"I definitely realize that re-writing the constitution is a matter of great importance to the people of Louisiana. I am also aware that extensive research has been made by the Law Institute on this subject and that much more will be needed before a rough draft can even be offered for consideration and revision by the delegates.

"During my tenure in office I feel that I have become familiar with the legislative procedures and with the laws of the state, being particularly cognizant of the ones that are in immediate need of revision. As your delegate to the Convention, I would most certainly work for the best interests of East Carroll and the State of Louisiana."

Gilfoil has lived in Lake Providence for many years, having graduated from the Lake Providence High School. He is a grad-

GEORGE FINK

Fink In Race For Constitutional Convention Post

George Fink, Monroe attorney, yesterday announced that he has filed as a candidate for the proposed state constitutional convention. He is the fourth candidate to announce in Ouachita parish where two delegates are authorized to represent the parish at the convention.

Others who announced earlier as candidates to the convention are: Fred Hudson, James Trousdale and C. C. Bell, Jr.

The text of Fink's statement, in which he announced his candidacy, is as follows:

"The Voters of Louisiana will ballot on November 6 on the question of holding a constitutional convention in this state. If voted, Ouachita Parish will be entitled to two elected delegates.

"In my judgment, Louisiana is in great need of a new, conservative, streamlined constitution to replace the present cumbersome, crazy quilt, legal hodge podge one that was last revised in 1921. I am very much in favor of the convention.

"It has been said that the convention, if called, would be dominated and controlled by our present Governor. Nothing could be further from the truth for no one man or group of men could dominate and control the members of that convention whose sole responsibility would be to you, the people of Louisiana. Another safeguard, wisely provided for by our Legislature is that after the work of the convention on the new constitution it must be submited to the people for approval. In this way, the people, as is their right, have the final voice in the adoption of a new constitution.

"I believe that the new constituton, among others, should provide for a fool-proof civil service system that cannot be weakened

French Decide To Join West's Canal Group

Report Arabs Using Pressure On Egypt For Compromise

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—The French government agreed today to join the Suez Canal Users' Assn. SCUA, but with reservations and protests that it lacks teeth.

The French Cabinet, in a communique, said it was joining what it called "the club" in order to preserve British-French unity and that it was reserving "liberty of action" to attain international control of the Suez Canal.

French Premier Guy Mollet told newsmen in Paris that Britain had reservations about SCUA "The same as ours," and that "the British will and the French will have not varied since the month of July."

Mollet referred to his promise to the National Assembly to use "every means" to defeat what he called Egyptian President Nasser's act of force in nationalizing the canal on July 26, and Prime Minister Eden's declaration that Britain never could acquiesce in Nasser's unfettered control of the waterway.

"There is no compromise possible on the principle of international control of the canal," Mollet declared.

In London, however, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd officially went along with the tempered version of the users' association,, and in invitations to 17 other nations set Oct. 1 as the date for a third London Suez conference to put the agency to work.

Amid signs that Nasser's Arab neighbors were putting pressure on him to compromise with the West, the Egyptian President flew to Saudi Arabia for a three-power Arab summit meeting with Syrian President Shukri Kuwalty and

STURGIS, Ky., Sept. 22—UP—Kentucky National Guardsmen were withdrawn from Sturgis and Clay, Ky., Saturday after court action was asked to enforce school integration, which brought the troops into the area earlier this month.

Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler ordered the 500 guardsmen pulled out of the area on his return from Chicago. Maj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams, state adjutant general and commander of the troops, recommended Thursday that they be withdrawn.

The governor was believed to have taken the action largely because the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed petitions in U. S. district court for permanent injunctions to force integration at the Sturgis high school and Clay consolidated school.

Legal procedure leading to the possible issuance of permanent injunctions is expected to take several months, whereas temporary injunctions could have been issued much sooner.

Williams said that federal injunctions, if granted, "would be carried out by the U. S. marshal supported by the majesty and full power of the federal government. I suggest that all concerned, especially certain individuals, ponder well the import of that fact."

Troops and state police later were moved into Clay in a surprise early morning maneuver after crowds there halted Negro elementary students who tried to enroll at the Clay consolidated school.

The enrollment of the Negro pupils at both towns touched off successful white pupil boycotts, which were given added support by White Citizens Council leaders.

State Attorney General Jo M. Ferguson issued an opinion Sept. 13, that the Webster county board could legally bar Negro pupils from attending the all-White Clay school, since the board had taken no action toward integration.

The opinion further stated that the initiative for integration of schools lay with county boards,

Scientists See Travel To Moon, Mars In 30 Years

ROME, Sept. 22 —UP—Your children may fly to the moon or mars — and you may be around to see them off, a group of scientists and engineers agreed today.

The consensus of delegates at the final session of the International Astronautical Conference here Saturday was that travel to the moon and mars, the nearest planet, may be only 30 or 40 years away.

Laymen may find the idea startling. But the scientists gathered here from all over the world gave the impression that despite their seemingly fantastic claims, they were bending over backwards to be cautious.

The delegates, including experts from the United States and Russia, said that the planned "satellite" which will be hurled into space during the 1957-58 geophysical year is only the beginning.

Within 10 years, they said, they hope to have man himself in such a satellite spinning around the world.

From there, the next step is the moon.

Flossy's Power Mounts; Aims At Orleans Region

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22—UP—Tropical storm "Flossy" rumbled into the Gulf of Mexico from the Yucatan peninsula Saturday and built up toward hurricane strength in the Gulf south of New Orleans.

Some 400 miles of the upper Texas and Louisiana coasts were put on hurricane watch. Small craft along an 800 mile stretch from Texas to Florida were warned to stay in port.

"Indications are that Flossy will intensify and probably reach hurricane strength by early Sunday," the New Orleans weather bureau reported at 4 p.m. cst.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Louisiana and upper Texas coasts were again warned to maintain a hurricane watch late last night as tropical storm Flossy moved toward the mainland. The New Orleans Weather Bureau said the storm might become a full-scale hurricane early Sunday.

At 10 p.m. tonight, the storm was centered about 300 miles south of New Orleans, and was expected to move in a north-northwestward direction at 12 miles an hour for 12 to 18 hours, then turn to a more northerly course.

Winds up to 55 miles per hour are estimated near the center, with gales and squalls extending out 250 miles to the north and east of the center.

At that time, the weather bulletin said, the storm was centered at latitude 23.7, longitude 91 or about 450 miles south of New Orleans. The storm was moving northwest about 12 miles an hour and "is a threat to the upper Texas and Louisiana coast," the advisory said.

Highest winds still were 45 to 50 miles an hour in the heaviest squalls extending out 350 miles to the east and north of the center.

"Continued northwest movement at about 12 miles per hour is expected for the next 18 hours," the weather bureau said. "Increasing winds and squalls and rising tides are expected from Galveston to Apalachicola (on the northwest Florida coast) Saturday night and Sunday."

Flossy, sixth tropical storm of the year, was likely to be the first to strike the United States. Its predecessors, only two of which reached hurricane force, either spent their fury on Latin America or rambled out into the Atlantic.

Showers, Squalls Forecast For Area

Showers and scattered squalls are in the works for north Louisiana, Sunday and locally heavy rains are forecast for southern portions of the state as tropical storm Flossy approaches the gulf coast.

Cooler weather approaching from the northwest is expected to touch off heavy rainfall in south Arkansas Sunday and Monday and this front is also credited with being the major reason for any rainfall that may descend upon the Twin Cities.

Third Trial Planned

Judge Declares Mistrial In Case Of Cowboy Morris

The judge gave his ruling shortly after the jury reported it was unable to reach a decision in the case.

Morris, 32, of Billings, Mont., is charged with murder in the Nov. 22 shooting of Charles Flink, Bay St. Louis novelty shop operator. Flink was shot to death while investigating noises outside his home.

Dolph Kellar, acting jury foreman, reported at 2:30 p.m. that the jury was deadlocked at 9-3 for conviction. The case had gone to the jury at 10:28 p.m. last night.

Shortly before midnight last night the jury reported it was deadlocked 7-5 for conviction and Judge Grant ordered the jurors locked up for the night.

The jury resumed deliberations this morning. At 11:30 a.m., Kellar reported:

"We haven't reached a decision, and don't think we will if we stay here until doomsday."

Dist. Atty. Boyce Holleman, who was seeking the death penalty, said today Morris "will be tried again at the March term of court."

It would be the third trial for Morris. Last March another jury deadlocked in their decision and Judge Grant declared a mistrial.

Judge Grant said he would re-

Pres. Samoza Of Nicaragua Badly Wounded

Assassin's Plot Fails; Executive Shot Three Times

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 22—President Anastasio Somoza was shot three times last night by an unknown assailant in the city of Leon. The President's arm, leg and several ribs were fractured by bullets.

The government declared a state of siege—a modified form of martial law.

Somoza had gone to Leon, 45 miles northwest of the capital, to be proclaimed candidate for reelection by the Liberal party. The presidential election is to be held in November.

After the nomination ceremony, he attended a reception at a workers' center. There, while he sat watching dancers, the gunman approached and fired six shots at him with a .45 revolver. Three bullets struck the President.

Mrs. Somoza was with the president at the time of the shooting and is remaining at his side at the hospital.

(Reports from Guatemala identified Somoza's assailant as Rigoberto Lopez Perez, a Nicaraguan, and said he was killed on the spot by the crowd at the reception.

(Nicaraguan embassies in other Latin-Amerisan capitals said the country was calm and there was no indication of attempt at revolution in Nicaragua.)

(Somoza has been in power in Nicaragua for 20 years. In April 1954, he announced revolutionaries had tried to kill him as he left a reception at the U. S. Embassy in Managua. Three of these revolutionaries were killed, he said, and their attempt to overthrow his government was thwarted.

President Eisenhower was informed of the attempt on Somoza's life by U. S. Ambassador Thomas Whelan. Eisenhower ordered a medical team to fly to Managua from the Panama Canal zone to treat the Nicaraguan President. Additionally, three Army specialists were ordered flown from Washington, including Maj. Gen. Heaton, commanding officer of Walter Reed Hospital, who performed an abdominal operation on Eisenhower last June.

(Only official communications were permitted to and from Managua throughout Saturday. Passengers on planes making refueling stops in Managua were not permitted to leave the aircraft and no new passengers were taken aboard.)

Somoza is American-educated. He became director of the Nicaraguan army in 1932 through the influence of Matthew Hanna, then U. S. minister. Somoza, a crack shot with pistol or rifle, assumed the post as part of the arrange-

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Pentagon is bucking around a letter that asks Secretary of Defense Wilson to quote rates for advertising space on the earth satellites his country is planning to launch next year.

The letter came in last week from an automobile dealer in Fairfield, Calif., and was addressed to Wilson. The dealer said his agency is near Travis Air Force Base and he has specialized in advertising aimed at servicemen.

NEWTON, Iowa, Sept. 22 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, following closely on the campaign heels of President Eisenhower, said today the Republicans are guilty of "brazen political expediency" on farm issues.

The Democratic presidential nominee followed Eisenhower by 24 hours in speaking at the National Field Days and Plowing matches. He got a cordial welcome from a crowd smaller than the one which gave Eisenhower a hearty reception yesterday.

STURGIS, Ky., Sept. 22—UP—Kentucky National Guardsmen were withdrawn from Sturgis and Clay, Ky., Saturday after court action was asked to enforce school integration, which brought the troops into the area earlier this month.

Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler ordered the 500 guardsmen pulled out of the area on his return from Chicago. Maj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams, state adjutant general and commander of the troops, recommended Thursday that they be withdrawn.

The governor was believed to have taken the action largely because the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed petitions in U. S. district court for permanent injunctions to force integration at the Sturgis high school and Clay consolidated school.

Legal procedure leading to the possible issuance of permanent injunctions is expected to take several months, whereas temporary injunctions could have been issued much sooner.

Williams said that federal injunctions, if granted, "would be carried out by the U. S. marshal supported by the majesty and full power of the federal government. I suggest that all concerned, especially certain individuals, ponder well the import of that fact."

Troops and state police later were moved into Clay in a surprise early morning maneuver after crowds there halted Negro elementary students who tried to enroll at the Clay consolidated school.

The enrollment of the Negro pupils at both towns touched off successful white pupil boycotts, which were given added support by White Citizens Council leaders.

State Attorney General Jo M. Ferguson issued an opinion Sept. 13, that the Webster county board could legally bar Negro pupils from attending the all-White Clay school, since the board had taken no action toward integration.

The opinion further stated that the initiative for integration of schools lay with county boards,

Scientists See Travel To Moon, Mars In 30 Years

ROME, Sept. 22 —UP—Your children may fly to the moon or mars — and you may be around to see them off, a group of scientists and engineers agreed today.

The consensus of delegates at the final session of the International Astronautical Conference here Saturday was that travel to the moon and mars, the nearest planet, may be only 30 or 40 years away.

Laymen may find the idea startling. But the scientists gathered here from all over the world gave the impression that despite their seemingly fantastic claims, they were bending over backwards to be cautious.

The delegates, including experts from the United States and Russia, said that the planned "satellite" which will be hurled into space during the 1957-58 geophysical year is only the beginning.

Within 10 years, they said, they hope to have man himself in such a satellite spinning around the world.

From there, the next step is the moon.

Flossy's Power Mounts; Aims At Orleans Region

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22—UP—Tropical storm "Flossy" rumbled into the Gulf of Mexico from the Yucatan peninsula Saturday and built up toward hurricane strength in the Gulf south of New Orleans.

Some 400 miles of the upper Texas and Louisiana coasts were put on hurricane watch. Small craft along an 800 mile stretch from Texas to Florida were warned to stay in port.

"Indications are that Flossy will intensify and probably reach hurricane strength by early Sunday," the New Orleans weather bureau reported at 4 p.m. cst.

At that time, the weather bulletin said, the storm was centered at latitude 23.7, longitude 91 or about 450 miles south of New Orleans. The storm was moving northwest about 12 miles an hour and "is a threat to the upper Texas and Louisiana coast," the advisory said.

Highest winds still were 45 to 50 miles an hour in the heaviest squalls extending out 350 miles to the east and north of the center.

"Continued northwest movement at about 12 miles per hour is expected for the next 18 hours," the weather bureau said. "Increasing winds and squalls and rising tides are expected from Galveston to Apalachicola (on the northwest Florida coast) Saturday night and Sunday."

Flossy, sixth tropical storm of the year, was likely to be the first to strike the United States. Its predecessors, only two of which reached hurricane force, either spent their fury on Latin America or rambled out into the Atlantic.

Directly in front of the storm lay experienced storm country and

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Louisiana and upper Texas coasts were again warned to maintain a hurricane watch late last night as tropical storm Flossy moved toward the mainland. The New Orleans Weather Bureau said the storm might become a full-scale hurricane early Sunday.

At 10 p.m. tonight, the storm was centered about 300 miles south of New Orleans, and was expected to move in a north-northwestward direction at 12 miles an hour for 12 to 18 hours, then turn to a more northerly course.

Winds up to 55 miles per hour are estimated near the center, with gales and squalls extending out 250 miles to the north and east of the center.

Showers, Squalls Forecast For Area

Showers and scattered squalls are in the works for north Louisiana, Sunday and locally heavy rains are forecast for southern portions of the state as tropical storm Flossy approaches the gulf coast.

Cooler weather approaching from the northwest is expected to touch off heavy rainfall in south Arkansas Sunday and Monday and this front is also credited with being the major reason for any rainfall that may descend upon the Twin Cities.

Third Trial Planned

Judge Declares Mistrial In Case Of Cowboy Morris

The judge gave his ruling shortly after the jury reported it was unable to reach a decision in the case.

Morris, 32, of Billings, Mont., is charged with murder in the Nov. 22 shooting of Charles Flink, Bay St. Louis novelty shop operator. Flink was shot to death while investigating noises outside his home.

Dolph Kellar, acting jury foreman, reported at 2:30 p.m. that the jury was deadlocked at 9-3 for conviction. The case had gone to the jury at 10:28 p.m. last night.

Shortly before midnight last night the jury reported it was deadlocked 7-5 for conviction and Judge Grant ordered the jurors locked up for the night.

The jury resumed deliberations this morning. At 11:30 a.m., Kellar reported:

"We haven't reached a decision, and don't think we will if we stay here until doomsday."

Dist. Atty. Boyce Holleman, who was seeking the death penalty, said today Morris "will be tried again at the March term of court."

It would be the third trial for Morris. Last March another jury deadlocked in their decision and Judge Grant declared a mistrial.

Judge Grant said he would re-

Assassin's Plot Fails; Executive Shot Three Times

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 22—President Anastasio Somoza was shot three times last night by an unknown assailant in the city of Leon. The President's arm, leg and several ribs were fractured by bullets.

The government declared a state of siege—a modified form of martial law.

Somoza had gone to Leon, 45 miles northwest of the capital, to be proclaimed candidate for reelection by the Liberal party. The presidential election is to be held in November.

After the nomination ceremony, he attended a reception at a workers' center. There, while he sat watching dancers, the gunman approached and fired six shots at him with a .45 revolver. Three bullets struck the President.

Mrs. Somoza was with the president at the time of the shooting and is remaining at his side at the hospital.

(Reports from Guatemala identified Somoza's assailant as Rigoberto Lopez Perez, a Nicaraguan, and said he was killed on the spot by the crowd at the reception.

(Nicaraguan embassies in other Latin-Amerisan capitals said the country was calm and there was no indication of attempt at revolution in Nicaragua.)

(Somoza has been in power in Nicaragua for 20 years. In April 1954, he announced revolutionaries had tried to kill him as he left a reception at the U. S. Embassy in Managua. Three of these revolutionaries were killed, he said, and their attempt to overthrow his government was thwarted.

President Eisenhower was informed of the attempt on Somoza's life by U. S. Ambassador Thomas Whelan. Eisenhower ordered a medical team to fly to Managua from the Panama Canal zone to treat the Nicaraguan President. Additionally, three Army specialists were ordered flown from Washington, including Maj. Gen. Heaton, commanding officer of Walter Reed Hospital, who performed an abdominal operation on Eisenhower last June.

(Only official communications were permitted to and from Managua throughout Saturday. Passengers on planes making refueling stops in Managua were not permitted to leave the aircraft and no new passengers were taken aboard.)

Somoza is American-educated. He became director of the Nicaraguan army in 1932 through the influence of Matthew Hanna, then U. S. minister. Somoza, a crack shot with pistol or rifle, assumed the post as part of the arrange-

Suez Crisis Points Up Weaknesses

Hussey Raps U.S. Laxity In Control Of Oil Imports

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 22 (AP) — Conservation Commissioner John B. Hussey, Louisiana oil production chief, said today the Suez Canal crisis has uncovered dangers to this country caused by federal failure to curb foreign oil imports.

"The failure to restrict these imports," he said, "has greatly endangered ability of this nation to meet the all-out demands of the petroleum industry and a national emergency."

He said the imports have been the direct cause of oil transportation facilities in the United States lagging behind production and refining expansion.

Hussey, a Shreveport attorney, was appointed to his post by former Gov. Robert Kennon, an Eisenhower supporter, and has been retained by Gov. Earl Long, a Stevenson backer.

The commissioner emphasized politics was not a factor in his views on federal import decisions. he warned "river barges, tank cars and pipe lines, have not kept pace while oil production and refining have increased.

"We can produce the oil needed," Hussey said, "and we can refine it—if we can get it to the refineries. But the ability to produce and the ability to refine is not enough if we can't get it moving to the refineries in sufficient volume."

The Louisiana lawyer said the reason is that the oil industry in this country has been "pinched back" because of "excessive" oil imports virtually tax free, stunting growth of American oil transportation.

"The trouble with federal authorities charged with responsibility in limiting foreign oil imports," Hussey said, "is that they follow the unhappy policy of 'you won't do anything wrong if you do nothing,'

"The crisis brought about by the possible shutdown of the Suez, at least to oil shipping, should serve as a warning.

"Petroleum transportation facilities in this country are not adequate for full scale national defense efforts," the commissioner said.

Domestic oil producers have been "crying wolf," Hussey said, "but those in charge of national defense should read the rigns and heed the warning."

Hussey and other state oil executives were in Washington Tuesday and Wednesday when federal officials summoned them for a conference on how to cope with a threatened cut off of middle eastern oil. Eurpoe gets his oil from the Middle East.

If there is a sudden shift in the world oil flow, Hussey said, Louisiana can produce as much as 1,100,000 barrels a day, up about 332,000 barrels over current levels.

This could be done immediately and without a time limit.

Over the past five years, Louisiana has been responsible for about one-fourth the total increase in U. S. liquid petroleum reserves.

During the past year, Louisiana passed California to become the second state in the nation in total liquid petroleum reserves. Only Texas stands first.

Most of Louisiana's increased production, if called for, would move to the Atlantic coast or European ports by tidewater.

"Because our largest production is in the swamp regions of south Louisiana," Hussey explained, "most of our state oil movement would be by barge to tanker terminals on the coast.

SCENE OF WIDE-OPEN GAMBLING

Big-Time Gambling Runs Again Near New Orleans

(Editor's note: Big-time gambling is once more riding in Jefferson parish, near New Orleans in Louisiana. In a special series of articles written by a New Orleans Times-Picayune reporter, the wide-open conditions which now exist are described. The first article in the series appears below and the second will appear in Monday's Monroe Morning World.)

New Orleans, Sept. 22 (Special) —To a stranger in nearby Gretna the name "New Garden Club" would probably be associated with a social or civic club for women.

The modern, well-ordered headquarters for gaming operations, situated on Monroe St. near the Algiers city limits, is tailored to accommodate almost any form of gambling desired.

Hundreds of family-type customers, amostly elderly couples, circulate nightly among the maze of dice, blackjack and roulette wheel tables. And the price of gambling is gauged to whatc the traffic will bear. Stakes range from very low to very high.

"Craps! you lose!"

"Ten wins! One the hard way!"

"Eight's the point! Seven loses."

These and similar chants from the teams of fast-working table croupiers echoed throughout the plush, crowded confines of the large casino room as more than 300 filled the club to an overflowing number during this reporter's visit.

With anxious bettors standing almost three deep at the large dice table in the rear of the casino room — during a brief house losing streak — other "patrons" were busy with their multi-colored chips at the blackjack or roulette tables.

Betting was heavy at the dice table, where constant clicking of silver dollars provided a rythmic beat for the $10, $20 and — in some instances — $50 wagers.

A bet-taker, feverishly shuffling $10 bills in making change for the high stacks of silver dollar chips, had to give way to a relief croupier.

It was like this all evening, the house agents shifting from one position to the next at the dice table, more or less in a platoon system to keep a fresh offensive team.

An attractive blonde, looking somewhat bored after watching the dealer sweep the board for the second straight time, finally turned up a blackjack and placed another silver dollar on the line.

For a while the "wheel of fortune" spun in the reporter's favor, and the impressive stacks of yellow chips brought envious glances from others at the table—and an especially freiendly gesture from a middle-aged housewife who suddenly struck up conversation.

"How do you win like that...., you must have some kind of system?" she wondered.

I tried to appear casual covering the board with chips, "It's easy when you have plenty of chips, then you just play every number on the board."

During the presence of the writer, in which his gambling was restricted to roulette and slot machine playing, there was almost "full-house" capacity at each of the many facilities harbored at the sprawling casino.

Even the bar-lounge, in the front outer room of the club, was a beehive of activity. Cheerful patrons fed an array of slot machines lined just outside the main casino room. Others sat at the bar and sipped drinks, either because of ill luck at the dice and blackjack tables or because they were unable to find places at the crowded, green felt equipment.

The 10 cents per card game, which had been in progress for hours, attracted at least 150 persons, mostly women, at this particular sitting.

Craving a more evciting method of investing $30, however, this well - received visitor sauntered back to the dice table for another try at getting into the game.

It was futile, though, as the ring of players and spectators surrounding the table had grown larger and the game hotter.

But the fallacy of the "system" was soon learned, to the writer's sorrow.

It wasn't long before my $10 worth of chips was exhausted.

However, the row of slot machines, including a large console-type "one-arm bandit," flashed lureingly and the writer responded by dropping a few nickels before departing.

SCENE OF WIDE-OPEN GAMBLING

Big-Time Gambling Runs Again Near New Orleans

(Editor's note: Big-time gambling is once more riding in Jefferson parish, near New Orleans in Louisiana. In a special series of articles written by a New Orleans Times-Picayune reporter, the wide-open conditions which now exist are described. The first article in the series appears below and the second wil appear in Monday's Monroe Morning World.)

New Orleans, Sept. 22 (Special) —To a stranger in nearby Gretna the name "New Garden Club" would probably be associated with a social or civic club for women.

The modern, well-ordered headquarters for gaming operations, situated on Monroe St. near the Algiers city limits, is tailored to accommodate almost any form of gambling desired.

Hundreds of family-type customers, amostly elderly couples, circulate nightly among the maze of dice, blackjack and roulette wheel tables. And the price of gambling is gauged to whatc the traffic will bear. Stakes range from very low to very high.

"Craps! you lose!"

"Ten wins! One the hard way!"

"Eight's the point! Seven loses."

These and similar chants from the teams of fast-working table croupiers echoed throughout the plush, crowded confines of the large casino room as more than 300 filled the club to an overflowing number during this reporter's visit.

With anxious bettors standing almost three deep at the large dice table in the rear of the casino room — during a brief house losing streak — other "patrons" were busy with their multi-colored chips at the blackjack or roulette tables.

Betting was heavy at the dice table, where constant clicking of silver dollars provided a rythmic beat for the $10, $20 and — in some instances — $50 wagers.

A bet-taker, feverishly shuffling $10 bills in making change for the high stacks of silver dollar chips, had to give way to a relief croupier.

It was like this all evening, the house agents shifting from one position to the next at the dice table, more or less in a platoon system to keep a fresh offensive team.

An attractive blonde, looking somewhat bored after watching the dealer sweep the board for the second straight time, finally turned up a blackjack and placed another silver dollar on the line.

"How do you win like that..., you must have some kind of system?" she wondered.

I tried to appear casual covering the board with chips, "It's easy when you have plenty of chips, then you just play every number on the board."

During the presence of the writer, in which his gambling was restricted to roulette and slot machine playing, there was almost "full-house" capacity at each of the many facilities harbored at the sprawling casino.

Even the bar-lounge, in the front outer room of the club, was a beehive of activity. Cheerful patrons fed an array of slot machines lined just outside the main casino room. Others sat at the bar and sipped drinks, either because of ill luck at the dice and blackjack tables or because they were unable to find places at the crowded, green felt equipment.

The 10 cents per card game, which had been in progress for hours, attracted at least 150 persons, mostly women, at this particular sitting.

Craving a more evciting method of investing $30, however, this well - received visitor sauntered back to the dice table for another try at getting into the game.

It was futile, though, as the ring of players and spectators surrounding the table had grown larger and the game hotter.

But the fallacy of the "system" was soon learned, to the writer's sorrow.

It wasn't long before my $10 worth of chips was exhausted.

However, the row of slot machines, including a large console-type "one-arm bandit," flashed lureingly and the writer responded by dropping a few nickels before departing.

Emergency U. S. Food Supplies In Egypt Run Low

CAIRO, Sept. 22 (UP)— Emergency American food supplies used to feed three million Egyptians will run out in three days, American officials said Saturday.

Sources said that reports of food supplies ending led to the stoning of two Americans in Cairo by angry Egyptians.

A cutoff in American food supplies in this tense nation now could have severe repercussions. However, the Egyptian ambassador to Washington has assured his government that no political motives are involved.

Frederick Devine, Mideast director of CARE (the Cooperative for American Remittances Everywhere) said there is only sufficient food available until Sept. 25.

Food distributed through CARE provided half the food needs — 700 calories daily—for three million Egyptians.

Officials here said the cut off of supplies was caused primarily by administration red tape in Washington which delayed apportioning the 1956 - 57 foreign aid funds. They were to have helped finance a new CARE program.

The officials said the Suez crisis also caused delays in getting food because of shipping difficulties.

Devine said that even if steps are taken immediately to funnel in more food, it still would take three months before the food would reach Egypt.

Classroom Teachers Back Amendment 49

ALEXANDRIA, Sept 22 (Special) —The Executive Council of the Department of Classroom Teachers Louisiana Teachers Association, voted today to support and actively work for the passage of Amendment 49 which will be submitted to the people in the general election, November 6

The proposed amendment would dedicate 35 per cent of the surplus, if any exists, in the general fund, not to exceed $16 million toward paying a portion of the salary raise which was voted for teachers by the Louisiana Legislature.

At present no funds are allotted for increased salaries and no raises will be possible.

In further action the council indorsed a resolution passed by a group of teachers assembled in Alexandria on September 15.

The resolution requests "the united school committee to study immediately the various possibilities for sources of permanent revenue to implement the new teachers salary schedule and arrival at a proposal to be presented to member groups for their approval with the idea of requesting a special session of the state legislature for the purpose of putting into effect such proposals."

Forest Industry Adds Millions To State's Economy

HODGE, Sept. 22 (Special)—The forest industries of Louisiana are adding more than $382 million annually to the state's wealth, according to N. W. Sentell of Hodge, chairman of the Louisiana Forest Industries Committee.

Sentell, whose committee represents American Forest Products Industries, the national Tree Farm sponsor, said the Department of Commerce's newest Census of Manufactures shows forest industries of the state in 1954 added over $238 million in value through manufacture, distributed more than $117 million in payrolls and spent nearly $27 million in capital improvements.

The $238 million value added through manufacture represented an increase of nearly 27 per cent since 1947, Sentall said.

Louisiana's forest industries are those which manufacture lumber, furniture and fixtures, pulp, paper and other paper and wood products.

Sentell said expansion of the Tree Farm program, which aims to assure continuous production of tree crops through protection and careful management of privately owned taxpaying woodlands, will broaden the base of Louisiana's vast forest economy. With over 2 million acres certified, the state presently ranks eighth nationally in total acreage enrolled in the program.

The Tree Farm program is sponsored in Louisiana by the Louisiana Forestry Assn. Nationally, it is operated by the forest industries through American Fosest Products Industries, Inc., Washington, D.C.

Fulbright To Ask Federal Changes In FDIC Statutes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (UP)—Chairman J. W. Fulbright said Saturday he will ask the Senate Banking committee to consider legislative reorganization of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. in the wake of the million - dollar check scandal in Illinois.

The Arkansas Democrat presided Friday as FDIC officials told the committee about some aspects of the Illinois case. The senator was sharply critical of the activities of the agency which insures deposits in more than 13,000 of the nation's banks.

Fulbright said deposed Illinois State Auditor Orville E. Hodge set up a "lucrative deal" for himself and his associates "by using the FDIC for his own purposes."

Hodge was a central figure in the scandal and is serving a 12 to 15 year sentence for cashing more than $1 million worth of spurious state checks or warrants.

Fulbright said in an interview that "all too often we have to wait until a scandal arises" to make legislative reforms. He said he hopes Congress can "take advantage" of the Illinois case to make needed improvements in the FDIC organization.

Friday's testimony dealt with the FDIC's role in the liquidation of the now defunct First State Bank of Elmwood Park in suburban Chicago and establishment of the bank of Elmwood Park as its successor. Investigation of the check scandal brought out that Hodge acquired a secret interest in the new bank which, as state auditor, he was supposed to supervise.

More Temporarizing On Louisville Avenue Parking Ban?

More than a year ago, on August 21, 1955, The Morning World carried a lead editorial captioned "Parking On Louisville Avenue." At that time, the DeSiard highway bridge across the Ouachita River was closed for repairs. The City Council, then headed by Mayor John E. Coon, had enacted a temporary ordinance imposing a part-time parking ban along Louisville Avenue, Highway 80, to help relieve the traffic congestion caused in part by the closing of the DeSiard street bridge.

The temporary ordinance was allowed to lapse soon after the repairs on the DeSiard street bridge were completed.

Recently, the new City Council headed by Mayor Howard enacted what was to have been a permanent ordinance imposing a 24-hour ban on parking along Louisville avenue from the Sterlington Road intersection to the river bridge.

A technicality hinging on date of publication of this new municipal law has temporarily delayed enforcement. In the meanwhile, reports current at City Hall indicate that the City Council, in the face of pressure from certain business interests along the avenue, may amend the ordinance to provide a part-time rather than a full-time prohibition upon Louisville Avenue parking.

In the editorial of last August 21, The Morning World stated its position clearly, and this newspaper leaves it to the people of Monroe and Northeast Louisiana to decide whether we spoke their sentiments. We hold the same views today, and the only factor in the situation that has changed is the greatly increased congestion on Highway 80 through the city limits of Monroe, calling, more than ever, for firm rather than timid and vacillating action by the City Council.

A permanent round-the-clock ban on parking all along Louisville Avenue, the route of Highway 80 through Monroe, appears to be an absolute necessity in the interest of public safety and the growth and progress of the Twin Cities.

A rush-hour parking ban has been in effect about a month now — a half-way measure ordered by the City Council while the DeSiard Street bridge is closed for repairs.

West Monroe, faced with a similar problem, acted courageously several weeks ago, banning all parking on Cypress Street, the route of Highway 80.

Police Chief Jeff W. Caldwell of West Monroe estimates that the closing of Cypress street to parking has speeded the flow of traffic along Highway 80 through his city from five to ten miles per hour.

Even with the north bridge doing double-duty, he says, carrying not only its normal load but also the traffic that moved over DeSiard street bridge, Cypress street now accomodates all traffic without delay or congestion.

Clearance of Louisville avenue daily during rush periods has given the people a foretaste of greatly improved traffic, but this partial ban can never be a satisfactory solution of the problem. Half-way measures seldom solve problems such as this, where decisive action is needed. The enforcement of an off-and-on parking prohibition is difficult and expensive to the city, and is impractical, and tends to create new traffic hazards rather than reduce existing ones.

Other Louisiana cities have been forced to restrict or abolish parking along Highway 80 within their city limits. Bossier City, near Shreveport, has outlawed all parking, along its sector of the highway. Ruston has banned parking, except with a two - block stretch of the highway, downtown. Minden permits parking only on a stretch of a few blocks, in the business district. Public demand for similar action in several other centers is making itself felt.

The traffic problem in Monroe and West Monroe centers around Louisville avenue and Cypress street, and around DeSiard street, which command the approaches to the only two highway bridges across the Ouachita River in this vicinity. Some day, no doubt, additional bridges will be built; but in the meantime we must make the best possible use of the facilities we have.

A very considerable portion of all traffic moving along Highway 80 through the Twin Cities is through traffic, which includes many heavy trucks.

Until recently, it was not uncommon for motorists to be caught in traffic jams along Louisville avenue and Cypress street where progress was at a snail's pace; and the blame for this situation was due entirely to parked vehicles, which reduced a four-lane thoroughfare to a narrow two lanes.

If this matter of a fulltime parking ban on Louisville avenue were put to a popular vote, the people would ballot by at least an 80 per cent majority, in the opinion of The Morning World, to keep this main artery completely clear at all hours of the day and night.

The City Council has authority to act on its own initiative; and there is no reason why it should not act with the same courage and regard for the public welfare which West Monroe displayed.

Coal Digging—Today's Style

Can you conceive of a shovel capable of lifting a platform loaded with 166 automobiles 100 feet into the air?

A power shovel with that extraordinary capacity actually exists and is at work. It isn't, of course, used to lift automobiles. It digs coal.

This shovel is symbolic of the vast technological progress that has taken place within the coal industry in a comparatively brief span of time. All along the line, in producing, handling, cleaning and transporting coal, machines have been developed to do work that once was done by human and animal power. Many of these machines are complex and expensive. It is worth recording that the coal industry developed and bought them even in years when its profits were close to nil.

The industry did that because its managers knew that it could not stand still and survive. It pays very high wages and other payroll benefits to the miners. It is faced with tough competition from other fuels. So ways and means had to be found to make the industry mechanically more efficient. That has been done with outstanding success.

Southern System

Mer Rouge, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Man's inherent disposition to cut the pattern of life for others is well demonstrated by the ugly mess under which our Southern School system now finds itself.

There is a primordial instinct which governs men whenever he sees an opportunity. The same penchant for meddling reached a climax in those individuals that history calls Dictators. Perhaps those dictators began to feel their muscles after they learned that they influenced their neighbors. Such intruders caused more wars, killed more people and destroyed more property than any other single factor.

Neither the Supreme Court, nor the President, nor the Democrats' nominee for that office, have ever had more than a superficial contact with the Negro race. Theirs have been more of an official meeting than of social honor. An individual or a small group of individual's reaction is quite different from that of the masses.

These men of good intentions, of which Evangelist Sam Jones once said, "Hell was paved"—have heeded the voice of the "Do Gooders." The "Do Gooders" are laboring under the policy of that particular phrase in the Declaration of Independence which says; "that all men are created equal." The phrase is no part of the Constitution. It isn't a law by edict of either man or nature.

If the Supreme Court will come to my town any day of the week I'll show them many concrete examples of the falsity of that phrase.

There are those above the Mason and Dixon line who are so thoughtless that they claim the South will enjoy integration after giving it a trial, as if the South has not been in daily contact with the Negro for 337 years.

You stalked into Africa with the insousiance of a Bengal Tiger seeking it's dinner and kidnapped the poor African savage, then sold him as a slave for life to the South. Two hundred forty-five years later you reneged like a common welsher and took those same slaves away from us. Not satisfied with your pillage, you then dumped them into the lap of the poverty ridden South as the "equal" of the white man. When you took him away from us, the Negro was, or should have been, more a ward of the Federal Government than were the Indians.

He was the Government's headache after Mr. Lincoln's well known Proclamation. Now you try to pass the headache to the South and want us to educate him but you insist that we do so according to your own standard.

We will not do so.

Race antipathy is a psychological phenomena that cannot be neutralized by legislation.

We are doing the best, considering all things, and will continue to do so.

Vengeance Is Mine, Thus Saith The Lord

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Dear God our president has told us you are wrong. If it is so it grieves us, your people. For we love you so. The only thing that we have to look forward to, an eternal home in heaven, promised by you, but our president says you do wrong.

You made the black race black and the white race white and our president says you do wrong. He is going to change it, you know. Mr. Eisenhower is our president and a politician you know, therefore he can do no wrong.

You gave your only begotten son that who-so-ever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life. But, if our president says you do wrong, you did wrong. Mr. Eisenhower is our president and a politician you know, therefore he can do no wrong.

You say you are a God of Peace but you must be wrong. Our president takes our money and builds our enemies stronger so they can make war on us and kill our loved ones. Our presidents are politicians you know, therefore they can do no wrong.

Mr. Hitler said you were wrong. He was supposed to rule the world, he said, and not you. Mr. Hitler was a dictator and politician you know, therefore he could do no wrong.

Mr. Stalin said you were wrong. He attempted to destroy the Holy Bible, God's guide to man, and persecuted Christians. Mr. Stalin was a dictator and a politician you know, therefore he could do no wrong.

The supreme council helped Mr. Stalin try to destroy the Holy Bible, God's guide to man, and persecute Christians. They were the supreme political council for Stalin you know, therefore could do no wrong.

Mr. Roosevelt said you did wrong. He took our money to help mongrelize the black and white races you created. He also took our money for research departments to keep cows, hogs, goats and other animals pure as you made them. They had no souls, you know. But, he attempted to change the black and white races. Mr. Roosevelt was our president and a politician you know, therefore he could do no wrong.

Mrs. Roosevelt says you do wrong, too. Mrs. Roosevelt is a politician and the wife of an ex-president, you know, therefore she can do no wrong.

Mr. Truman says you do wrong too, God. He has done all these things too. Mr. Truman is a politician, an ex - president and a five per center too, you know. Therefore he can do no wrong.

Mr. Stevenson aspires to our presidency. He preaches race mixing and mongrelization of we human beings. He is a politician. Can he do no wrong?

Dear God, when Revelations was written it was not known to what extent politicians would go to, to fool we people. In order to fool the people the politicians put nine old heads on the beast instead of seven and called it the Supreme Court. These nine old men say you did wrong. These nine old men back up the opinions of these politicians who say you did wrong and make vicious decisions of their own. These nine old men are supreme politicians you know, therefore they can do no wrong.

These ungodly politicians, not satisfied with taking our property and money, want to control our every thought and homes and lives. Thou hath said thou lovest little children. Protect our little children, oh God, from these evil politicians who would capture our little children's thoughts while they are defenseless and who would force our little children into beliefs that are contrary to the teachings of God in our Holy Bible. Little children left with no chance for a free decision for God. Completely defenseless in the vile grasp of ungodly politicians. Give us God and freedom. No politicians and the evil which constitutes slavery.

Dear God, Godless, unprincipled politicians are trying to make machines out of us but we people, unlike machines, are capable of happiness and misery, desire and aversion. We know Dear God that it is morally and spiritually wrong, unfortunate and dangerous to allow minds of politicians that think only in terms of the mechanism of political machines to dominate the people's attempts at educational, social and religious constructiveness. Through thy Grace, oh God, be it not.

Vent thy wrath, oh God, upon some men clothed as clergymen but who, in reality, are only wolves in sheeps clothing teaching the ungodly ways of politicians for self gain.

Dear God, our loads are heavy but our hearts are with thee and not without just cause, for thou hath never forsaken us.

Dear God, the devil told me not to tell you this but as I pass by and perceive these men of Satan's evil, these politicians, and hear their vile teachings and terrifying ungodly decisions, I know I would be a traitor to My God and to Jesus Christ, who died on the cross and shed his blood for me, were I not to tell Thee.

Thank Thee, oh God, that our final judgment is not left to brutish beasts, politicians who have lost their reason.

We reverence Thee, we have faith in Thee, we will fight for Thee and with Thy help we will win and remain free.

Bless us in all our efforts, we pray, and God grant us serenity, humility, wisdom and courage.

The Midianite Tribe

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In the "Public Forum" in the Morning World, Sept. 16, I read a letter signed by Travis Melton Jr., disputing the correctness of a letter that I wrote to the Forum Sept. 9th. Inasmuch as this argument does not involve "Christian religion," but rather history, I would like to correct Mr. Melton in some errors that he made.

As touching the nationality of Moses wife, she was not a nationalist, she was a member of a nomadic tribe of "Semites" that originated from Abraham. Abraham broke all records for being the most vivacious old man who ever lived. He was a hundred years old when Isaac was born, and thirty-seven years later, Sarah died. The next year, Abraham took another wife. Her name was Keturah and she bare Abraham six sons, which were not included in God's covenant with Abraham; and from whom sprang six nomadic tribes. The fourth son was named Midian who was the father of the Midianite tribe that wandered off into Ethiopia. In that time, the Midianites were called Ethiopians, and the Hebrews who were captives in Egypt, were called Egyptians. See Exodus 2-19. It was the daughter of a Midianite priest that Moses married, see Exodus 2-21, who were called Ethiopians. See numbers 12-1. This same tribe of people was the tribe with whom Moses went to war. See Numbers 31.

Among historians it is common knowledge that the Midianites originated in Arabia, originally, they were Arabs; when they roved off into Ethiopia they were called Ethiopians. After the Hebrews left Egypt, the Midianites returned to northern Arabia and it was there where Moses, and Gideon, sent troops to war with them. See your Atlas, and Encyclopedia Brittanica. So you see, Mr. Melton, I was not wrong when I said that Zipporah was an Arab; you just need to know what you're talking about. And as to me spitting out my anger, it is not very likely that anything that happened 3500 B. C., would make a man very mad at this late date.

Where Do Slime Mags Get Their Stuff?

From private detectives, mostly.

The recent rash of slime magazines, purporting to report the 'whole truth' about prominent persons, reflects a public interest in "dirt."

Around the beauty parlor or barbershop, a certain percentage of customers will always 'tsk" or "cluck" over the lurid doings in the star's boudoir.

Hollywood gets the emphasis for two reasons:

Law enforcement authorities in the film colony have recognized for many years the symptoms that precede most public misbehavior.

Performers are necessarily persons of exaggerated ego. This ego must be fed ever larger doses of recognition, or it becomes insecure.

In this time of insecurity . . . which may be between contracts, between pictures, or between youth and middle age . . . . the play-actor, frantic and "alone," may turn to any of several abnormal behavior patterns.

Drink captures many. Narcotics tempt some. Communism has tempted others. Sex tempts most all of them because it provides both escape for the mind and reassurance for the ego.

Certainly, many manage to mature gracefully. But those who do not often find themselves in either the police court or the divorce court.

Newspapers quote from the police blotter.

But the details behind the sin and sex complaints are available first, as a rule, to private detectives. Some of them are more mercenary than ethical.

In one specific instance, an estranged husband employed a detective agency to "gather evidence" on his wife. Subsequently there was a reconciliation, but two months later the lavender details of her spectacular misbehavior were printed in one of the slime magazines and public disapproval caused the marriage to smash up again.

So lucrative has this extracurricular source of income become to irresponsible 'private eyes" . . that many devote their spare time even when not assigned to a case, to digging for dirt.

Spicy stories without pictures bring the informer as much as five hundred dollars. With pictures, a thousand or more.

Police officials, seeking to protect the sanctity of certain residential neighborhoods, are alert to this illegal surveillance and seek to prevent it.

When the heat is on, however, the trash magazines usually can secure enough stories from disgruntled wives, employees, spurned lovers or professional call-girls to fill their pages.

So no one source is entirely responsible for the public smears of prominent persons, but in the instance of the unethical private investigator, very often the principal who initiates the investigation subsequently finds himself publicly disrobed.

Lobbyists Outnumber Congressmen 6-1

WASHINGTON, — Lobbyists who have registered in the last 10 years outnumber current Congressmen better than 6-1.

Official figures compiled by Congressional Quarterly show there are 3,273 registered lobbyists compared to 528 Congressmen — 432 Representatives and 96 Senators. There may be less lobbyists than that actually operating, and then again there may be more. The lobby law itself makes it hard to keep track.

In 1946 Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act says that anyone "who shall engage himself for pay or for any consideration" to influence legislation, either "directly or indirectly," must register with the Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Secretary of the Senate. In the 10-year life of the act, there have been 4,382 registrations, of which 3,273 were separate lobbyists.

Nothing in the law says that the government must be notified when a lobbyist, working for the passage of the natural gas bill, for instance, stops lobbying. If he registered for that purpose his name is carried on the lobby registration rolls year after year. Other persons lobbying for specific legislation do not register at all on the claim they are just out to educate lawmakers on an issue, not to lobby. In addition, one person may be counted several times if he registers separately for different employers.

In 1956, for example, Joan David, Washington attorney, registered for Rowe-Doherty Associates, the Mail Order Assn. of America, and Trans American Airlines — three registrations but only one person.

Congressional Quarterly analyzed the 315 registration filed between Jan. 1, and July 27, 1956 — the day Congress adjourned. It found the 315 registrations represented 191 lobbyists: 131 individuals, 19 law or public relations firms and 41 organizations, such as the American Legion or Farmers Union. The new registrants pushed the 10-year total of lobbyists from 3,082 to 2,273.

The lobbyist registration forms ask for the amount of money spent and the funds received by the lobbyists. The 1956 registration forms listed salaries and expenses ranging from $30,000 for Robert M. Burr representing the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn. to nothing for Michael P. Egan of Warrensville, Ill.

Egan called himself a "philosopher and philosophical consultant." He said his legislative interest was to "serve as lobbyist in the public interest, promoting the general welfare of the U. S. and its citizens."

Since organizations often have high stakes in legislation before Congress, they try to get such legislative experts as ex-Congressmen to represent them. This year six former Congressmen registered as lobbyists: ex-Rep. Alfred J. Elliott (D Calif., 1937-49); ex-Rep. J. Hardin Peterson (D Fla., 1933-51); ex-Sen. James P. Kem (R Mo., 1947-53); former Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas (D Ill., 1939-51); ex-Sen. Francis J. Myers (D Pa., House 1939-45, Senate 1945-51), who died July 5,; and ex-Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D Mont., 1923-47).

Many lobby groups rely on more than one lobbyist to do the job for them. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (Ind.), for example, hired sever agents to lobby successfully for increased railroad pensions.

The busiest lobby group in 195 was the Washington law firm o Covington & Burling. The larges law firm in Washington, Covingto & Burling registered for 1 separate organizations. The firm includes such prominent attorneys a former Secretary of State Dea Acheson and U. S. Chamber o Commerce Treasurer Joel Barlow

The legislative interests of employers of the firm ranged fror settlement of claims arising fror the requisitioning of Danish vessels by the U. S. to lowering excise taxes on social and countr club dues.

Lights Over Broadway

By Walter Winchell

The Great White Way (New York City, U. S. A.) is the world's largest attraction. Two forms of amusement make Broadway what it is, namely the outdoor spectacular electricks and the theater . . . Rodgers and Hammerstein shows, which run about 3 years, are short runs compared to Doug Leigh's long run" free shows in lights . . . The ciggie man has been blowing smoke rings over Broadway for 16 years . . . The former Bond (now Pepsi - Cola) waterfall has been cooling the passersby with its 50,000 gallons of recirculated water every minute for 8 years . . . Chevrolet at the head of Times Square has been flashing brightly for 9 . . . Grand Union's animated cartoon sign (a la Disney technique) has been entertaining passersby for 15 years, excepting the 3 year blackout during World War II . . . For 18 years Coca-Cola's tomorrow's weather sign has told you whether to carry a "bumbershoot" or wear a straw hat . . . The Broadway signery must meet the public taste because more people see the white lights in one day than visit the Metropolitan Museum in a year . . . Or the Modern Museum in 3 years . . . The animals in the cartoon electrick show to more people in 4 nights than see the real live animals in the Bronx Zoo.

Visitors to New York rate the sights - to - see like this: Broadway lights and theaters . . . Tour of Rockefeller Center . . . Statue of Liberty . . . Empire State Roof . . . And then the Battery, 5th Avenue bus rides, Grant's Tomb, the Museums, and the Zoo.

Broadway Association's count of the people on Broadway (less during the week and more on Fri., Sat. and Sun.) averages 1,500,000 daily between 42nd and 50th Streets . . . Broadway was originally a cow path . . . It's shaped like an X . . . Actually Broadway is 2 streets, 7th Ave. and Broadway . . . Both are called "Broadway."

There have been 4 block long signs (two for Wrigley, one for Cliquot Club, and one for DeMille's Ten Commandments) before the world's biggest Pepsi's waterfall sign which is a block and a quarter long. How can they do that? They make it a block long and then bend around the two corners, gaining another quarter of a block . . . Each bottle is as high as a 5 story building . . . The waterfall flows all Winter by using enough anti - freeze for 3,000 automobiles.

Broadway has 364,933 Mazdas and 52 miles of Neon Tubing . . . The rosy glow in the sky from all these lights can be seen (in the sky) from as far away as Stamford, Conn.

The word "spectacular" was originally used for Broadway lights and when NBC's former head (Pat Weaver) adopted it for the 90 minute TV spectaculars, he publicly gave his friend Doug Leigh credit for making the name famous.

Some of the theater signs (outside) have more square feet area than inside the theater . . . Big signs for hit movies last 1 to 6 months and cost from $40,000 to $100,000 each . . . One company, Artkraft Strauss, builds most all big theater signs.

More Temporarizing On Louisville Avenue Parking Ban?

More than a year ago, on August 21, 1955, The Morning World carried a lead editorial captioned "Parking On Louisville Avenue." At that time, the DeSiard highway bridge across the Ouachita River was closed for repairs. The City Council, then headed by Mayor John E. Coon, had enacted a temporary ordinance imposing a part-time parking ban along Louisville Avenue, Highway 80, to help relieve the traffic congestion caused in part by the closing of the DeSiard street bridge.

The temporary ordinance was allowed to lapse soon after the repairs on the DeSiard street bridge were completed.

Recently, the new City Council headed by Mayor Howard enacted what was to have been a permanent ordinance imposing a 24-hour ban on parking along Louisville avenue from the Sterlington Road intersection to the river bridge.

A technicality hinging on date of publication of this new municipal law has temporarily delayed enforcement. In the meanwhile, reports current at City Hall indicate that the City Council, in the face of pressure from certain business interests along the avenue, may amend the ordinance to provide a part-time rather than a full-time prohibition upon Louisville Avenue parking.

In the editorial of last August 21, The Morning World stated its position clearly, and this newspaper leaves it to the people of Monroe and Northeast Louisiana to decide whether we spoke their sentiments. We hold the same views today, and the only factor in the situation that has changed is the greatly increased congestion on Highway 80 through the city limits of Monroe, calling, more than ever, for firm rather than timid and vacillating action by the City Council.

A permanent round-the-clock ban on parking all along Louisville Avenue, the route of Highway 80 through Monroe, appears to be an absolute necessity in the interest of public safety and the growth and progress of the Twin Cities.

A rush-hour parking ban has been in effect about a month now — a half-way measure ordered by the City Council while the DeSiard Street bridge is closed for repairs.

West Monroe, faced with a similar problem, acted courageously several weeks ago, banning all parking on Cypress Street, the route of Highway 80.

Police Chief Jeff W. Caldwell of West Monroe estimates that the closing of Cypress street to parking has speeded the flow of traffic along Highway 80 through his city from five to ten miles per hour.

Even with the north bridge doing double-duty, he says, carrying not only its normal load but also the traffic that moved over DeSiard street bridge, Cypress street now accomodates all traffic without delay or congestion.

Clearance of Louisville avenue daily during rush periods has given the people a foretaste of greatly improved traffic, but this partial ban can never be a satisfactory solution of the problem. Half-way measures seldom solve problems such as this, where decisive action is needed. The enforcement of an off-and-on parking prohibition is difficult and expensive to the city, and is impractical, and tends to create new traffic hazards rather than reduce existing ones.

Other Louisiana cities have been forced to restrict or abolish parking along Highway 80 within their city limits. Bossier City, near Shreveport, has outlawed all parking, along its sector of the highway. Ruston has banned parking, except with a two - block stretch of the highway, downtown. Minden permits parking only on a stretch of a few blocks, in the business district. Public demand for similar action in several other centers is making itself felt.

The traffic problem in Monroe and West Monroe centers around Louisville avenue and Cypress street, and around DeSiard street, which command the approaches to the only two highway bridges across the Ouachita River in this vicinity. Some day, no doubt, additional bridges will be built; but in the meantime we must make the best possible use of the facilities we have.

A very considerable portion of all traffic moving along Highway 80 through the Twin Cities is through traffic, which includes many heavy trucks.

Until recently, it was not uncommon for motorists to be caught in traffic jams along Louisville avenue and Cypress street where progress was at a snail's pace; and the blame for this situation was due entirely to parked vehicles, which reduced a four-lane thoroughfare to a narrow two lanes.

If this matter of a fulltime parking ban on Louisville avenue were put to a popular vote, the people would ballot by at least an 80 per cent majority, in the opinion of The Morning World, to keep this main artery completely clear at all hours of the day and night.

The City Council has authority to act on its own initiative; and there is no reason why it should not act with the same courage and regard for the public welfare which West Monroe displayed.

Vengeance Is Mine, Thus Saith The Lord

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Dear God our president has told us you are wrong. If it is so it grieves us, your people. For we love you so. The only thing that we have to look forward to, an eternal home in heaven, promised by you, but our president says you do wrong.

You made the black race black and the white race white and our president says you do wrong. He is going to change it, you know. Mr. Eisenhower is our president and a politician you know, therefore he can do no wrong.

You gave your only begotten son that who-so-ever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life. But, if our president says you do wrong, you did wrong. Mr. Eisenhower is our president and a politician you know, therefore he can do no wrong.

You say you are a God of Peace but you must be wrong. Our president takes our money and builds our enemies stronger so they can make war on us and kill our loved ones. Our presidents are politicians you know, therefore they can do no wrong.

Mr. Hitler said you were wrong. He was supposed to rule the world, he said, and not you. Mr. Hitler was a dictator and politician you know, therefore he could do no wrong.

Mr. Stalin said you were wrong. He attempted to destroy the Holy Bible, God's guide to man, and persecuted Christians. Mr. Stalin was a dictator and a politician you know, therefore he could do no wrong.

The supreme council helped Mr. Stalin try to destroy the Holy Bible, God's guide to man, and persecute Christians. They were the supreme political council for Stalin you know, therefore could do no wrong.

Mr. Roosevelt said you did wrong. He took our money to help mongrelize the black and white races you created. He also took our money for research departments to keep cows, hogs, goats and other animals pure as you made them. They had no souls, you know. But, he attempted to change the black and white races. Mr. Roosevelt was our president and a politician you know, therefore he could do no wrong.

Mrs. Roosevelt says you do wrong, too. Mrs. Roosevelt is a politician and the wife of an ex-president, you know, therefore she can do no wrong.

Mr. Truman says you do wrong too, God. He has done all these things too. Mr. Truman is a politician, an ex - president and a five per center too, you know. Therefore he can do no wrong.

Mr. Stevenson aspires to our presidency. He preaches race mixing and mongrelization of we human beings. He is a politician. Can he do no wrong?

Dear God, when Revelations was written it was not known to what extent politicians would go to, to fool we people. In order to fool the people the politicians put nine old heads on the beast instead of seven and called it the Supreme Court. These nine old men say you did wrong. These nine old men back up the opinions of these politicians who say you did wrong and make vicious decisions of their own. These nine old men are supreme politicians you know, therefore they can do no wrong.

These ungodly politicians, not satisfied with taking our property and money, want to control our every thought and homes and lives. Thou hath said thou lovest little children. Protect our little children, oh God, from these evil politicians who would capture our little children's thoughts while they are defenseless and who would force our little children into beliefs that are contrary to the teachings of God in our Holy Bible. Little children left with no chance for a free decision for God. Completely defenseless in the vile grasp of ungodly politicians. Give us God and freedom. No politicians and the evil which constitutes slavery.

Dear God, Godless, unprincipled politicians are trying to make machines out of us but we people, unlike machines, are capable of happiness and misery, desire and aversion. We know Dear God that it is morally and spiritually wrong, unfortunate and dangerous to allow minds of politicians that think only in terms of the mechanism of political machines to dominate the people's attempts at educational, social and religious constructiveness. Through thy Grace, oh God, be it not.

Vent thy wrath, oh God, upon some men clothed as clergymen but who, in reality, are only wolves in sheeps clothing teaching the ungodly ways of politicians for self gain.

Dear God, our loads are heavy but our hearts are with thee and not without just cause, for thou hath never forsaken us.

Dear God, the devil told me not to tell you this but as I pass by and perceive these men of Satan's evil, these politicians, and hear their vile teachings and terrifying ungodly decisions, I know I would be a traitor to My God and to Jesus Christ, who died on the cross and shed his blood for me, were I not to tell Thee.

Thank Thee, oh God, that our final judgment is not left to brutish beasts, politicians who have lost their reason.

We reverence Thee, we have faith in Thee, we will fight for Thee and with Thy help we will win and remain free.

Bless us in all our efforts, we pray, and God grant us serenity, humility, wisdom and courage.

The Midianite Tribe

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In the "Public Forum" in the Morning World, Sept. 16, I read a letter signed by Travis Melton Jr., disputing the correctness of a letter that I wrote to the Forum Sept. 9th. Inasmuch as this argument does not involve "Christian religion," but rather history, I would like to correct Mr. Melton in some errors that he made.

As touching the nationality of Moses wife, she was not a nationalist, she was a member of a nomadic tribe of "Semites" that originated from Abraham. Abraham broke all records for being the most vivacious old man who ever lived. He was a hundred years old when Isaac was born, and thirty-seven years later, Sarah died. The next year, Abraham took another wife. Her name was Keturah and she bare Abraham six sons, which were not included in God's covenant with Abraham; and from whom sprang six nomadic tribes. The fourth son was named Midian who was the father of the Midianite tribe that wandered off into Ethiopia. In that time, the Midianites were called Ethiopians, and the Hebrews who were captives in Egypt, were called Egyptians. See Exodus 2-19. It was the daughter of a Midianite priest that Moses married, see Exodus 2-21, who were called Ethiopians. See numbers 12-1. This same tribe of people was the tribe with whom Moses went to war. See Numbers 31.

Among historians it is common knowledge that the Midianites originated in Arabia, originally, they were Arabs; when they roved off into Ethiopia they were called Ethiopians. After the Hebrews left Egypt, the Midianites returned to northern Arabia and it was there where Moses, and Gideon, sent troops to war with them. See your Atlas, and Encyclopedia Brittanica. So you see, Mr. Melton, I was not wrong when I said that Zipporah was an Arab; you just need to know what you're talking about. And as to me spitting out my anger, it is not very likely that anything that happened 3500 B. C., would make a man very mad at this late date.

Where Do Slime Mags Get Their Stuff?

From private detectives, mostly.

The recent rash of slime magazines, purporting to report the 'whole truth' about prominent persons, reflects a public interest in "dirt."

Around the beauty parlor or barbershop, a certain percentage of customers will always 'tsk" or "cluck" over the lurid doings in the star's boudoir.

Hollywood gets the emphasis for two reasons:

Law enforcement authorities in the film colony have recognized for many years the symptoms that precede most public misbehavior.

Performers are necessarily persons of exaggerated ego. This ego must be fed ever larger doses of recognition, or it becomes insecure.

In this time of insecurity . . . which may be between contracts, between pictures, or between youth and middle age . . . . the play-actor, frantic and "alone," may turn to any of several abnormal behavior patterns.

Drink captures many. Narcotics tempt some. Communism has tempted others. Sex tempts most all of them because it provides both escape for the mind and reassurance for the ego.

Certainly, many manage to mature gracefully. But those who do not often find themselves in either the police court or the divorce court.

Newspapers quote from the police blotter.

But the details behind the sin and sex complaints are available first, as a rule, to private detectives. Some of them are more mercenary than ethical.

In one specific instance, an estranged husband employed a detective agency to "gather evidence" on his wife. Subsequently there was a reconciliation, but two months later the lavender details of her spectacular misbehavior were printed in one of the slime magazines and public disapproval caused the marriage to smash up again.

So lucrative has this extracurricular source of income become to irresponsible 'private eyes" . . that many devote their spare time even when not assigned to a case, to digging for dirt.

Spicy stories without pictures bring the informer as much as five hundred dollars. With pictures, a thousand or more.

Police officials, seeking to protect the sanctity of certain residential neighborhoods, are alert to this illegal surveillance and seek to prevent it.

When the heat is on, however, the trash magazines usually can secure enough stories from disgruntled wives, employees, spurned lovers or professional call-girls to fill their pages.

So no one source is entirely responsible for the public smears of prominent persons, but in the instance of the unethical private investigator, very often the principal who initiates the investigation subsequently finds himself publicly disrobed.

Lights Over Broadway

By Walter Winchell

The Great White Way (New York City, U. S. A.) is the world's largest attraction. Two forms of amusement make Broadway what it is, namely the outdoor spectacular electricks and the theater . . . Rodgers and Hammerstein shows, which run about 3 years, are short runs compared to Doug Leigh's long run" free shows in lights . . . The ciggie man has been blowing smoke rings over Broadway for 16 years . . . The former Bond (now Pepsi - Cola) waterfall has been cooling the passersby with its 50,000 gallons of recirculated water every minute for 8 years . . . Chevrolet at the head of Times Square has been flashing brightly for 9 . . . Grand Union's animated cartoon sign (a la Disney technique) has been entertaining passersby for 15 years, excepting the 3 year blackout during World War II . . . For 18 years Coca-Cola's tomorrow's weather sign has told you whether to carry a "bumbershoot" or wear a straw hat . . . The Broadway signery must meet the public taste because more people see the white lights in one day than visit the Metropolitan Museum in a year . . . Or the Modern Museum in 3 years . . . The animals in the cartoon electrick show to more people in 4 nights than see the real live animals in the Bronx Zoo.

Visitors to New York rate the sights - to - see like this: Broadway lights and theaters . . . Tour of Rockefeller Center . . . Statue of Liberty . . . Empire State Roof . . . And then the Battery, 5th Avenue bus rides, Grant's Tomb, the Museums, and the Zoo.

Broadway Association's count of the people on Broadway (less during the week and more on Fri., Sat. and Sun.) averages 1,500,000 daily between 42nd and 50th Streets . . . Broadway was originally a cow path . . . It's shaped like an X . . . Actually Broadway is 2 streets, 7th Ave. and Broadway . . . Both are called "Broadway."

There have been 4 block long signs (two for Wrigley, one for Cliquot Club, and one for DeMille's Ten Commandments) before the world's biggest Pepsi's waterfall sign which is a block and a quarter long. How can they do that? They make it a block long and then bend around the two corners, gaining another quarter of a block . . . Each bottle is as high as a 5 story building . . . The waterfall flows all Winter by using enough anti - freeze for 3,000 automobiles.

Broadway has 364,933 Mazdas and 52 miles of Neon Tubing . . . The rosy glow in the sky from all these lights can be seen (in the sky) from as far away as Stamford, Conn.

The word "spectacular" was originally used for Broadway lights and when NBC's former head (Pat Weaver) adopted it for the 90 minute TV spectaculars, he publicly gave his friend Doug Leigh credit for making the name famous.

Some of the theater signs (outside) have more square feet area than inside the theater . . . Big signs for hit movies last 1 to 6 months and cost from $40,000 to $100,000 each . . . One company, Artkraft Strauss, builds most all big theater signs.

Congressional Quarterly

Lobbyists Outnumber Congressmen 6-1

WASHINGTON, — Lobbyists who have registered in the last 10 years outnumber current Congressmen better than 6-1.

Official figures complied by Congressional Quarterly show there are 3,273 registered lobbyists compared to 528 Congressmen — 432 Representatives and 96 Senators. There may be less lobbyists than that actually operating, and then again there may be more. The lobby law itself makes it hard to keep track.

In 1946 Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act says that anyone "who shall engage himself for pay or for any consideration" to influence legislation, either "directly or indirectly," must register with the Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Secretary of the Senate. In the 10-year life of the act, there have been 4,382 registrations, of which 3,273 were separate lobbyists.

Nothing in the law says that the government must be notified when a lobbyist, working for the passage of the natural gas bill, for instance, stops lobbying. If he registered for that purpose his name is carried on the lobby registration rolls year after year. Other persons lobbying for specific legislation do not register at all on the claim they are just out to educate lawmakers on an issue, not to lobby. In addition, one person may be counted several times if he registers separately for different employers.

In 1956, for example, Joan David, Washington attorney, registered for Rowe-Doherty Associates, the Mail Order Assn. of America and Trans American Airlines — three registrations but only one person.

Congressional Quarterly analyzed the 315 registration filed between Jan. 1, and July 27, 1956 — the day Congress adjourned. It found the 315 registrations represented 191 lobbyists: 131 individuals, 19 law or public relations firms and 41 organizations, such as the American Legion or Farmers Union. The new registrants pushed the 10-year total of lobbyists from 3,082 to 2,273.

The lobbyist registration forms ask for the amount of money spent and the funds received by the lobbyists. The 1956 registration forms listed salaries and expenses ranging from $30,000 for Robert M. Burr representing the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn. to nothing for Michael P. Egan of Warrensville, Ill.

Egan called himself a "philosopher and philosophical consultant." He said his legislative interest was to "serve as lobbyist in the public interest, promoting the general welfare of the U. S. and its citizens."

Since organizations often have high stakes in legislation before Congress, they try to get such legislative experts as ex-Congressmen to represent them. This year six former Congressmen registered as lobbyists: ex-Rep. Alfred J. Elliott (D Calif., 1937-49); ex-Rep. J. Hardin Peterson (D Fla., 1933-51); ex-Sen. James P. Kem (R Mo., 1947-53); former Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas (D Ill., 1939-51); ex-Sen. Francis J. Myers (D Pa., House 1939-45, Senate 1945-51), who died July 5,; and ex-Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D Mont., 1923-47).

Many lobby groups rely on more than one lobbyist to do the job for them. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (Ind.), for example, hired seven agents to lobby successfully for increased railroad pensions.

The busiest lobby group in 1956 was the Washington law firm of Covington & Burling. The largest law firm in Washington, Covington & Burling registered for 14 separate organizations. The firm includes such prominent attorneys as former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and U. S. Chamber of Commerce Treasurer Joel Barlow.

The legislative interests of employers of the firm ranged from settlement of claims arising from the requisitioning of Danish vessels by the U. S. to lowering excise taxes on social and country club dues.

Princess Begins Visit In Africa

MOBASA, Kenya, Sept. 22 (UP) —Princess Margaret began an East African state visit Saturday at this city which was old when the Queen of Sheba came down from Abyssinia on another royal visit.

The petite princess" chartered British Overseas Airways Corp. plane set her down on the sun-scorched runway of the airport to the cheers of thousands of white residents and natives.

She will stay five weeks in this coral wonderworld of headlands and bays, silver sands and bright skies.

The princess drove through the hot, noisy streets hung with bunting while 150,000 persons cheered and shouted "memshahib king."

With her in the car was Kenya's governor, Sir Evelyn Baring, who has seen Kenya through four years of Mau Mau terrorism which now is almost non-existent.

Manhunt Ends In Jackson Parish

JONESBORO, Sept. 21 (Special) —Jackson Parish Sheriff's officials have called off a manhunt for the alleged attacker of a woman here early Friday morning.

The manhunt, which included the Lincoln Parish Sheriff's Department and bloodhounds from Richland Parish, was stopped after investigation failed to turn up basic clues of the man's identification and whereabouts.

According to the woman, a man, whom she believed to have been her husband, crawled into her bed. At the time her husband was sleeping in another bedroom.

The man attempted criminal assault and fled from the scene when she screamed she said. Four shots fired at the fleeing man by the husband missed, they reported.

The Jackson Parish Sheriff's Department released one suspect apprehended shortly after the woman reported the crime. No other suspects have been brought in for questioning.

Area Recruiters Must Be Versatile In Performing Current Assignments

By DAN BIVINS

Of The Morning World Staff

Once upon a time the American professional serviceman had a simple task. Simple, that is, in the sense that it was singular. In no way was it easy.

He was a fighting man.

Whether he did his fighting on land, or sea, or later in the air, he was always almost solely a fighting man.

That was once upon a time.

Now in the fast-paced mir-twentieth century things are different. Complexity has overtaken practically everything, and this is true also of the function of the American serviceman.

The American serviceman of today, although still the fighting man of yesteryear, finds himself with other tasks which outwardly seem incongruous with the traditional picture of "totin' a rifle". But in the highly specialized and technical defense force of today, the fighting man must be able to perform many tasks of a nature far removed from the arena of battle.

Citizens in Northeast Louisiana need look no further than their own hometowns, such as Bastrop and Bonita, Mangham and Winnsboro, to name a few, for neighborhood examples of servicemen's versatility.

Here in Monroe each day eleven servicemen quietly go about their business. Their work does not require practice in the disassembly of the carbine rifle, planning of beach assaults, caressing the warhead of a torpedo, or adjusting the fuel line of a B-29 bomber in flight. All this, and more, they once did, and they are quite capable of doing it once again, if it becomes necessary.

But, at the present time, these men are recruiters. And Northeast Louisiana is well represented among these salesmen whose product is the American defense force.

In service paperwork and parlance, these men are called "recruiting salesman" or "recruiters-in-the-field." But actually such a title is not indicative of the talents necessary for the job.

Primarily they are salesman, it is true, selling their respective services to young men and women in search of a career. But, they also must be public speakers, public relations and advertising men, administrators, test-givers, consultants, advisers, and a bit of a psychologist.

These eleven recruiters have an aggregate of 166 years active military service. The campaign ribbons and medals they proudly wear over their hearts are the multi-colored evidence of their evidence of their fighting ability.

In 166 years they have seen a lot of the world. They have fought on the storied beaches of Okinawa and Normandy, have fired salvos in the blue Mediterranean and off the cold rocks of the Aleutian Islands, and have looked down from the clouds of merry England and tiny Guam.

Now they are in Monroe doing another job for Uncle Sam.

Take, for instance, Sergeant First Class Marion E. Frost, Jr., one of the Regular Army recruiters here.

A 12-year veteran, Sgt. Frost is a native Monroyan, living now at 2311 Racine Drive. During World War II he served in the Far East and was landed in the Okinawa invasion. A veteran of the Korean fighting, he has ten service ribbons and three battle stars.

Bastrop area readers will remember Sgt. Frost from his service there from 1948 to 1950 and from 1951 to 1952. He married the former Jean Harp of Bonita, La.

Another Regular Army recruiter here is Sergeant First Class Wayne M. Nordman, native of Little Rock, Ark. Sgt. Nordman, who resides at 214 Camelia Drive here with his wife Margaret and two children, has ten years service, six service ribbons and three campaign stars. He also saw action in Korea.

Recruiting for the Navy is another local man, Boatswain's Mate First Class Joseph M. Malmay, Jr. When he enlisted in 1945 he was a West Monroyan. He now makes his home at 1207 South Second Street in Monroe. Married to the former Shirley McIntyre of Mangham, La., and the father of two children, Malmay saw duty as an assault boat coxswain in the Asiatic Pacific.

Another Navy recruiter is Chief Commissaryman John L. Reagan, native of Tylertown, Miss. He is now on his third tour of duty in Monroe. In 18 years active service he has served in many waters on many ships, including the carrier Bonne Homme Richard. He lives at 308 S. College St. in Monroe with his wife Fay and one child.

Williamson has served 19 years, twice being assigned to Monroe. At he time of his enlistment in 1937 he was residing in Grayson, La. With his wife Mildred and daughter Joyce, he resides now on Route 4 in West Monroe. He has been awarded eight service decorations and 14 battle stars.

Chappell, who lives with wife and four children at 901 Cole Avenue in Monroe, is a 16-year veteran. He has 10 combat ribbons and seven battle stars gained while serving in the European and Pacific Theaters.

Representing the Marines in Monroe are Staff Sergeant Poy L. Flurry and Master Sergeant Howard D. Paschal.

Sergeant Flurry has 12 years service, the last three here in Monroe. He lives with wife Valarie and three children at 1410 Filhiol Ave. in Monroe. He has seen service on Paliue Island. Okinawa and China. He also served on the staff of the Commandant of the Marine Corps in Tokyo.

A veteran of 15 years is Sergeant Paschal, who has been in Monroe only six weeks. His wife and three childeren are still in Mena, Ark. He served on Guadalcanal, Bouganville, Grun Island and Espirita Soutar Emirau and was also in the tri-service honor guard company for Gen. Mark Clark in Tokyo.

Master Sergeant Henry G. Robertson and Master Sergeant Charles H. Boyd are the local Air Force recruiters.

A native of Shreveport and a 17-year veteran, Sgt. Robertson lives at 2310 De Bastrop Drive in Monroe with his wife Polly and two sons.

He served in the European Theater during WW II and has the Purple Heart, Commendation ribbon, four battle stars and the arrowhead.

Sgt. Boyd is a native of West Monroe and attended Ouachita Parish High School. He has 16 years service and resides at 509 Splane Drive in West Monroe with his wife and son.

He served in the Aleutian Islands Guam and Japan. His decorations include the Korean Ribbon with one bronze star and the Asiatic Pacific ribbon with one bronze star.

Recruiting for the Army Reserve in Monroe is Master Sergeant Arthur R. Cagle. A 14-year veteran who has served in the Pacific, Europe and Korea, Sgt. Cagle has been awarded a dozen ribbons.

Sgt. Cagle is a native of Winnsboro and still lives there with his wife, the former Marie Johnson, also of Winnsboro, and three children. He commutes to Monroe. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Antley of West Monroe.

A twelfth recruiter in Monroe is attractive Woman's Army Corps Sergeant Peggy L. Glover of Benton, Ill. She has been in the WAC five years and has been stationed at Fort Lee, Va., Fort Knox, Ky., and the Shreveport recruiting area.

America has become renowned for its versatility, and these service personnel are keeping pace with that tradition.

Legion Post In Member Drive

The L. B. Faulk Post 13 of the American Legion is presently in the midst of a membership campaign with a goal of raising the enrollment to 700. Post Commander Sam Rubin, Jr., recently appointed A. O. Ware, chairman of the committee to work up strategy for incresing the members.

At the first of this year, Rubin said, the total membership for the local post was 585. Plans call for an increase to 700 by the first of next year.

Pointing out that the American Legion is the world's largest veterans organization, Ware said the enrollment job was largely a "do-it-yourself" project of the individual legionnaires.

All veterans who serve honorably in World War I, World War II, and the Korean Conflict are eligible to join the Legion. Persons interested may contact Rubin at 3-3401, or Adjutant C. B. Braun at 2-1296.

San Francisco's Union Square, a manicured garden with green shrubs, flower beds and tropical palms, covers an underground four - story parking garage that handles more than 3,000 cars during an average day. Attendants, like firemen, use metal poles for a quick slide between parking levels.

Princess Begins Visit In Africa

MOBASA, Kenya, Sept. 22 (UP) —Princess Margaret began an East African state visit Saturday at this city which was old when the Queen of Sheba came down from Abyssinia on another royal visit.

The petite princess" chartered British Overseas Airways Corp. plane set her down on the sun-scorched runway of the airport to the cheers of thousands of white residents and natives.

She will stay five weeks in this coral wonderworld of headlands and bays, silver sands and bright skies.

The princess drove through the hot, noisy streets hung with bunting while 150,000 persons cheered and shouted "memshahib king."

With her in the car was Kenya's governor, Sir Evelyn Baring, who has seen Kenya through four years of Mau Mau terrorism which now is almost non-existent.

Manhunt Ends In Jackson Parish

JONESBORO, Sept. 21 (Special) —Jackson Parish Sheriff's officials have called off a manhunt for the alleged attacker of a woman here early Friday morning.

The manhunt, which included the Lincoln Parish Sheriff's Department and bloodhounds from Richland Parish, was stopped after investigation failed to turn up basic clues of the man's identification and whereabouts.

According to the woman, a man, whom she believed to have been her husband, crawled into her bed. At the time her husband was sleeping in another bedroom.

The man attempted criminal assault and fled from the scene when she screamed she said. Four shots fired at the fleeing man by the husband missed, they reported.

The Jackson Parish Sheriff's Department released one suspect apprehended shortly after the woman reported the crime. No other suspects have been brought in for questioning.

Area Recruiters Must Be Versatile In Performing Current Assignments

By DAN BIVINS
Of The Morning World Staff

Once upon a time the American professional serviceman had a simple task. Simple, that is, in the sense that it was singular. In no way was it easy.

He was a fighting man.

Whether he did his fighting on land, or sea, or later in the air, he was always almost solely a fighting man.

That was once upon a time.

Now in the fast-paced mir-twentieth century things are different. Complexity has overtaken practically everything, and this is true also of the function of the American serviceman.

The American serviceman of today, although still the fighting man of yesteryear, finds himself with other tasks which outwardly seem incongruous with the traditional picture of "totin' a rifle". But in the highly specialized and technical defense force of today, the fighting man must be able to perform many tasks of a nature far removed from the arena of battle.

Citizens in Northeast Louisiana need look no further than their own hometowns, such as Bastrop and Bonita, Mangham and Winnsboro, to name a few, for neighborhood examples of servicemen's versatility.

Here in Monroe each day eleven servicemen quietly go about their business. Their work does not require practice in the disassembly of the carbine rifle, planning of beach assaults, caressing the warhead of a torpedo, or adjusting the fuel line of a B-29 bomber in flight. All this, and more, they once did, and they are quite capable of doing it once again, if it becomes necessary.

But, at the present time, these men are recruiters. And Northeast Louisiana is well represented among these salesmen whose product is the American defense force.

In service paperwork and parlance, these men are called "recruiting salesman" or "recruiters-in-the-field." But actually such a title is not indicative of the talents necessary for the job.

Primarily they are salesman, it is true, selling their respective services to young men and women in search of a career. But, they also must be public speakers, public relations and advertising men, administrators, test-givers, consultants, advisers, and a bit of a psychologist.

These eleven recruiters have an aggregate of 166 years active military service. The campaign ribbons and medals they proudly wear over their hearts are the multi-colored evidence of their evidence of their fighting ability.

In 166 years they have seen a lot of the world. They have fought on the storied beaches of Okinawa and Normandy, have fired salvos in the blue Mediterranean and off the cold rocks of the Aleutian Islands, and have looked down from the clouds of merry England and tiny Guam.

Now they are in Monroe doing another job for Uncle Sam.

Take, for instance, Sergeant First Class Marion E. Frost, Jr., one of the Regular Army recruiters here.

A 12-year veteran, Sgt. Frost is a native Monroyan, living now at 2311 Racine Drive. During World War II he served in the Far East and was landed in the Okinawa invasion. A veteran of the Korean fighting, he has ten service ribbons and three battle stars.

Bastrop area readers will remember Sgt. Frost from his service there from 1948 to 1950 and from 1951 to 1952. He married the former Jean Harp of Bonita, La.

Another Regular Army recruiter here is Sergeant First Class Wayne M. Nordman, native of Little Rock, Ark. Sgt. Nordman, who resides at 214 Camelia Drive here with his wife Margaret and two children, has ten years service, six service ribbons and three campaign stars. He also saw action in Korea.

Recruiting for the Navy is another local man, Boatswain's Mate First Class Joseph M. Malmay, Jr. When he enlisted in 1945 he was a West Monroyan. He now makes his home at 1207 South Second Street in Monroe. Married to the former Shirley McIntyre of Mangham, La., and the father of two children, Malmay saw duty as an assault boat coxswain in the Asiatic Pacific.

Another Navy recruiter is Chief Commissaryman John L. Reagan, native of Tylertown, Miss. He is now on his third tour of duty in Monroe. In 18 years active service he has served in many waters on many ships, including the carrier Bonne Homme Richard. He lives at 308 S. College St. in Monroe with his wife Fay and one child.

Williamson has served 19 years, twice being assigned to Monroe. At he time of his enlistment in 1937 he was residing in Grayson, La. With his wife Mildred and daughter Joyce, he resides now on Route 4 in West Monroe. He has been awarded eight service decorations and 14 battle stars.

Chappell, who lives with wife and four children at 901 Cole Avenue in Monroe, is a 16-year veteran. He has 10 combat ribbons and seven battle stars gained while serving in the European and Pacific Theaters.

Representing the Marines in Monroe are Staff Sergeant Poy L. Flurry and Master Sergeant Howard D. Paschal.

Sergeant Flurry has 12 years service, the last three here in Monroe. He lives with wife Valarie and three children at 1410 Filhiol Ave. in Monroe. He has seen service on Paliue Island. Okinawa and China. He also served on the staff of the Commandant of the Marine Corps in Tokyo.

A veteran of 15 years is Sergeant Paschal, who has been in Monroe only six weeks. His wife and three childeren are still in Mena, Ark. He served on Guadalcanal, Bouganville, Grun Island and Espirita Soutar Emirau and was also in the tri-service honor guard company for Gen. Mark Clark in Tokyo.

Master Sergeant Henry G. Robertson and Master Sergeant Charles H. Boyd are the local Air Force recruiters.

A native of Shreveport and a 17-year veteran, Sgt. Robertson lives at 2310 De Bastrop Drive in Monroe with his wife Polly and two sons.

He served in the European Theater during WW II and has the Purple Heart, Commendation ribbon, four battle stars and the arrowhead.

Sgt. Boyd is a native of West Monroe and attended Ouachita Parish High School. He has 16 years service and resides at 509 Splane Drive in West Monroe with his wife and son.

He served in the Aleutian Islands Guam and Japan. His decorations include the Korean Ribbon with one bronze star and the Asiatic Pacific ribbon with one bronze star.

Recruiting for the Army Reserve in Monroe is Master Sergeant Arthur R. Cagle. A 14-year veteran who has served in the Pacific, Europe and Korea, Sgt. Cagle has been awarded a dozen ribbons.

Sgt. Cagle is a native of Winnsboro and still lives there with his wife, the former Marie Johnson, also of Winnsboro, and three children. He commutes to Monroe. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Antley of West Monroe.

A twelfth recruiter in Monroe is attractive Woman's Army Corps Sergeant Peggy L. Glover of Benton, Ill. She has been in the WAC five years and has been stationed at Fort Lee, Va., Fort Knox, Ky., and the Shreveport recruiting area.

America has become renowned for its versatility, and these service personnel are keeping pace with that tradition.

Legion Post In Member Drive

The L. B. Faulk Post 13 of the American Legion is presently in the midst of a membership campaign with a goal of raising the enrollment to 700. Post Commander Sam Rubin, Jr., recently appointed A. O. Ware, chairman of the committee to work up strategy for incresing the members.

At the first of this year, Rubin said, the total membership for the local post was 585. Plans call for an increase to 700 by the first of next year.

Pointing out that the American Legion is the world's largest veterans organization, Ware said the enrollment job was largely a "do-it-yourself" project of the individual legionnaires.

All veterans who serve honorably in World War I, World War II, and the Korean Conflict are eligible to join the Legion. Persons interested may contact Rubin at 3-3401, or Adjutant C. B. Braun at 2-1296.

San Francisco's Union Square, a manicured garden with green shrubs, flower beds and tropical palms, covers an underground four - story parking garage that handles more than 3,000 cars during an average day. Attendants, like firemen, use metal poles for a quick slide between parking levels.

La. Farm Bureau Offers 3 Proposals To National

L. L. Lovell, president of the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation, leaves today to attend a national conference of the American Farm Bureau Federation, according to Paul Ransom, chairman of the state bureau's cotton committee.

Ransom, of Monroe, said Lovell would go to the national conference with three proposals to submit to the national group which opens sessions Monday in Chicago.

The proposals to the American Farm Bureau will be:

1. The establishment of a cotton classing review board to serve the cotton industry. The plan, Ransom said, will ask that the U.S. Department of Agriculture establish a review board to serve in a "watchdog" operation to insure accurate grading of cotton. The plan calls for board membership representing producers, spinners and government classers.

2. Request the U.S.D.A. and Secretary of Agriculture Benson to revise the cotton export program. The proposal on exports would would make provisions for agencies dealing in foreign exports to deal directly with the producer and small buyers rather than be limited to Commodity Credit Corporation stocks. This plan, according to the Farm Bureau, would tend to stabilize the market for new cotton and save the cost of placing cotton in the loan program.

3. Call on the Department of Agriculture to conduct research to perfect new insecticides that will combat boll weevils. Currently used insecticides have become gradually less effective in controlling cotton insects.

Ransom said "We would also like to alert the insecticide industry to this problem."

The three proposals Lovell will carry to the national conference were drawn up and submitted by the Cotton Committee of the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation.

Jena Girls Live Their 4-H Work 'Day And Night'

JENA, Sept. 22 (Special)—Winning 4-H awards seems to "come naturally" to "those Morace girls" of Jena.

Older sister Eva Lois set the pace while at LaSalle parish 4-H Club member before graduating from high school and entering Northeast State College in Monroe last September.

But Marilyn and Sadie are giving every indication they will outdistance her before their high school careers are over and a younger sister, Charlene, just now getting started in 4-H work is "catching on fast" to the Morace winning ways.

Not to be outdone by the feminine contingent in his family, son Paul also is getting off to a good start in his 4-H club work and while his talents as yet do not appear to be varied as those of his sisters, he still has several years yet in which to "give'em a run for their money."

They are all the children of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Morace of Jena.

Most recent honors were the 4-H record books submitted at this summer's "short course" for the state 4-H club winners at Baton Rouge.

Marilyn Morace placed as alternate to the state winner in clothing achievement and if the No. 1 record book holder is unable to attend the national 4-H club congress in Chicago this fall, Marilyn will represent the state.

Since getting started in 4-H club work in the fifth grade at the age of 10 back in the 1951-52 school term, Sadie has accumulated 71 blue ribbons in various contests, and premiums won in fair competitions total more than $200. In addition to numerous second and third place ribbons, on top of all the blue ribbons and premiums, Sadie also has won numerous trips to the state fair, various 4-H camps and short course at Baton Rouge, and several gold medals in other categories.

Beginning in her first year as a 4-H'er, Sadie won a blue, and two red certificates at the parish 4-H achievement day and a free trip to the state 4-H camp. At the LaSalle parish fair she garnered 10 blue, 11 red and 6 white ribbons, with premiums totaling approximately $28. At the district fair she added 10 blue, 7 red and 5 white certificates and some $27 in premium money.

Her second year in 1952-53 resulted in two blue certificates at achievement day and a trip to the state fair; 10 blue, 12 red and 6 white ribbons at the parish fair, with premiums totaling some $36 and 6 blue, 5 red and 3 white ribbons at the district fair with premiums totaling $20.

In 1953-54 she received two silver medals in clothing and 4 red certificates at achievement day; 3 blue, 12 red and 4 white ribbons at the parish fair and $36 in premiums; 5 blue, 6 red and 3 white ribbons at the district fair, with $20 in premiums, and took a blue ribbon and $3 premium money at the state fair.

In many instances, she won over or placed second behind sister Marilyn in fair competition.

For the 1954-55 session, Sadie took 3 blue, 1 red and a white certificate and gold medals each in clothing and farm and home electricity projects, again winning a trip to the state fair at achievement day. In the parish fair she received 12 blue, 3 red and 4 white ribbons and $28 in premiums.

Last year, in her fifth season of 4-H club work, she received 4 blue, 5 red and 3 white certificates and won a trip to the state 4-H short course where she competed in the camp costume division, modeling a camp costume designed and and made by herself. The 1956 fair season still lies ahead and more ribbons are expected to decorate her room when all the awards have been passed out.

Not content with winning "practically everything in sight," according to one of her 4-H leaders, Sadie also served as reporter for her 4-H club in 1953-54. Among her 4-H projects have been clothing, home improvement, health, safety, farm and home electric, food preparation, canning, frozen food and baking.

Now 14 years of age and in the 10th grade at Jena high school Sadie already is looking toward the future. She plans to continue her studies after high school, with her goal set on becoming a laboratory technician after completing a science course in college.

Marilyn is 16 years of age and is in the 11th grade this school year. She, too, is looking toward the future and right now it is inclined in the direction of preparing herself to enter the agricultural extension service. She also plans to qualify herself as a home economics teacher. In her words, "My lifetime job may be a good 4-H-trained house-wife—or an old maid school teacher; who can tell?"

As far as being a good 4-H-trained housewife, she already has 113 blue ribbons, some $320 in premium money from fair competition and a grand total of almost 300 ribbons and other awards. She also holds the distinction of winning the parish biscuit making championship in 1952 at the age of 12 years.

In addition to her 4-H club work, Marilyn is a member of the Future Teachers of America, Future Homemakers of America and Jena high school Pep Squad. She has been her club's reporter two years, president one year and vice president of the parish 4-H executive council for one year.

In competition at six parish achievement days, from 1951 through 1956, she has won a total of 34 ribbons, including 23 blue (first place) ribbons, hitting her high point this year with 10 blues.

Competing in five parish fairs (1951-55), she has taken home a total of 145 ribbons and awards, including 61 blue ribbons and a total of $168 in premium money.

In the same five years of competing in the district fair, Marilyn won 100 ribbons and awards, including 29 blue ribbons and $149 in premium money.

In 1951 and '52, she won trips to the annual state 4-H camp, in 1953, and '54 went to the state fair as a parish winner and in '54 also returned to 4-H camp for the third year. In 1955 and '56 she won trips to the state 4-H short course in Baton Rouge and her fourth and fifth seasons at state 4-H camp.

In 1954 she won a silver medal in dress review and in 1955 took home a gold medal in canning. Last year she was queen of her 4-H club for the second successive year.

At present five of the six Morace children are living at home and "along with a little help from mother and daddy, we raise our own food in the family garden which calls for plenty of canning and preparation of food for the deep freezer."

Marilyn says the four girls "wash, iron, cook and sew, all of which is done the 4-H way which is the right way; some people say we eat, sleep, live and breathe 4-H day and night."

McAdams, Strauss Co-Chairmen Of United Campaign

Co-Chairmen of the United Givers fund campaign will be C. D. McAdams and Clifford Strauss, it was announced yesterday by campaign chairman Walter Kellogg.

Strauss will serve also as chairman of the Special Gifts Division of the campaign, Kellogg said. Strauss, a prominent figure in business and civic activities for many years, is president of F. Strauss and Son, Inc. He is a director of the Peoples Homestead and Savings Association and Ouachita National Bank, and is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce. He is also a former president of the Ouachita Parish Chapter of the American Red Cross, which is now a member of the United Givers Fund. He is a past president of Congregation B'Nai Israel.

Both Strauss and McAdams are experienced campaigners, each having served as chairman of Community Chest campaigns in previous years. Strauss was also chairman of the war bond drive in Monroe.

In addition to being co-chairman of the campaign, McAdams will head the Large Firms Division which is responsible for securing employee support of the United Givers through payroll deduction plans where they work. McAdams is a strong supporter of the payroll deduction plan and has initiated such a program at Sears, Roebuck and Co., of which he is manager.

Active in civic affairs, McAdams has worked with the Chamber of Commerce for a number of years, and was Charter President of the Jaycees in 1945. He is a member of St. John's Christian Church.

"It was only with the understanding that Strauss and McAdams would accept these important assignments that I agree to be Chairman of the United Campaign," Kellogg said.

"The success of this first effort with a United Givers Fund depends upon full support from both labor and management," Kellogg added, "and we needed two experienced and capable men to develop and maintain that support."

The United Givers Fund is the combined appeal for funds for operating a dozen health and welfare agencies in Ouachita Parish. The united campaign will get underway November 1.

24 Polio Cases Found In State In Week's Period

NEW ORLEANS—UP—Twenty-four new cases of polio have been reported in the state for the week ending Sept. 18, 12 of them are paralytic the Louisiana State Department of Health said.

The new cases bring the total for this year up to 483, the department reported. Last week 12 new cases of the non-paralytic variety were reported, and 16 were paralytic.

Of this week's total, four paralytic cases were reported in Orleans parish and two were non-paralytic.

Grass Fires Plague City Area Saturday

Dying grass and a hot, dry season were said to be chiefly responsible for a total of eight grass fires in and around the Twin Cities yesterday.

Firemen started their grass-fire parade yesterday at mid-morning and continued until late afternoon. Only in one case was there a material damage reported.

Flames from a grass patch engulfed two small wooden structures at 1312 Alvin St. at 2:18 p.m. The buildings were located behind a residence.

A fire on the old Monroe-Bastrop highway at 2 p.m. took firemen outside of the city. In-town fires occurred at 512 N. McGuire, 20th and Grammont, Smith St., 1503 S. 3rd, 1204 St. John Drive, 1312 Alvin and 819 DeSiard.

In 1953-54 she received two silver medals in clothing and 4 red certificates at achievement day; 3 blue, 12 red and 4 white ribbons at the parish fair and $36 in premiums; 5 blue, 6 red and 3 white ribbons at the district fair, with $20 in premiums, and took a blue ribbon and $3 premium money at the state fair.

In many instances, she won over or placed second behind sister Marilyn in fair competition.

For the 1954-55 session, Sadie took 3 blue, 1 red and a white certificate and gold medals each in clothing and farm and home electricity projects, again winning a trip to the state fair at achievement day. In the parish fair she received 12 blue, 3 red and 4 white ribbons and $28 in premiums.

Last year, in her fifth season of 4-H club work, she received 4 blue, 5 red and 3 white certificates and won a trip to the state 4-H short course where she competed in the camp costume division, modeling a camp costume designed and and made by herself. The 1956 fair season still lies ahead and more ribbons are expected to decorate her room when all the awards have been passed out.

Not content with winning "practically everything in sight," according to one of her 4-H leaders, Sadie also served as reporter for her 4-H club in 1953-54. Among her 4-H projects have been clothing, home improvement, health, safety, farm and home electric, food preparation, canning, frozen food and baking.

Now 14 years of age and in the 10th grade at Jena high school Sadie already is looking toward the future. She plans to continue her studies after high school, with her goal set on becoming a laboratory technician after completing a science course in college.

Marilyn is 16 years of age and is in the 11th grade this school year. She, too, is looking toward the future and right now it is inclined in the direction of preparing herself to enter the agricultural extension service. She also plans to qualify herself as a home economics teacher. In her words, "My lifetime job may be a good 4-H-trained house-wife—or an old maid school teacher; who can tell?"

As far as being a good 4-H-trained housewife, she already has 113 blue ribbons, some $320 in premium money from fair competition and a grand total of almost 300 ribbons and other awards. She also holds the distinction of winning the parish biscuit making championship in 1952 at the age of 12 years.

In addition to her 4-H club work, Marilyn is a member of the Future Teachers of America, Future Homemakers of America and Jena high school Pep Squad. She has been her club's reporter two years, president one year and vice president of the parish 4-H executive council for one year.

In competition at six parish achievement days, from 1951 through 1956, she has won a total of 34 ribbons, including 23 blue (first place) ribbons, hitting her high point this year with 10 blues.

Competing in five parish fairs (1951-55), she has taken home a total of 145 ribbons and awards, including 61 blue ribbons and a total of $168 in premium money.

In the same five years of competing in the district fair, Marilyn won 100 ribbons and awards, including 29 blue ribbons and $149 in premium money.

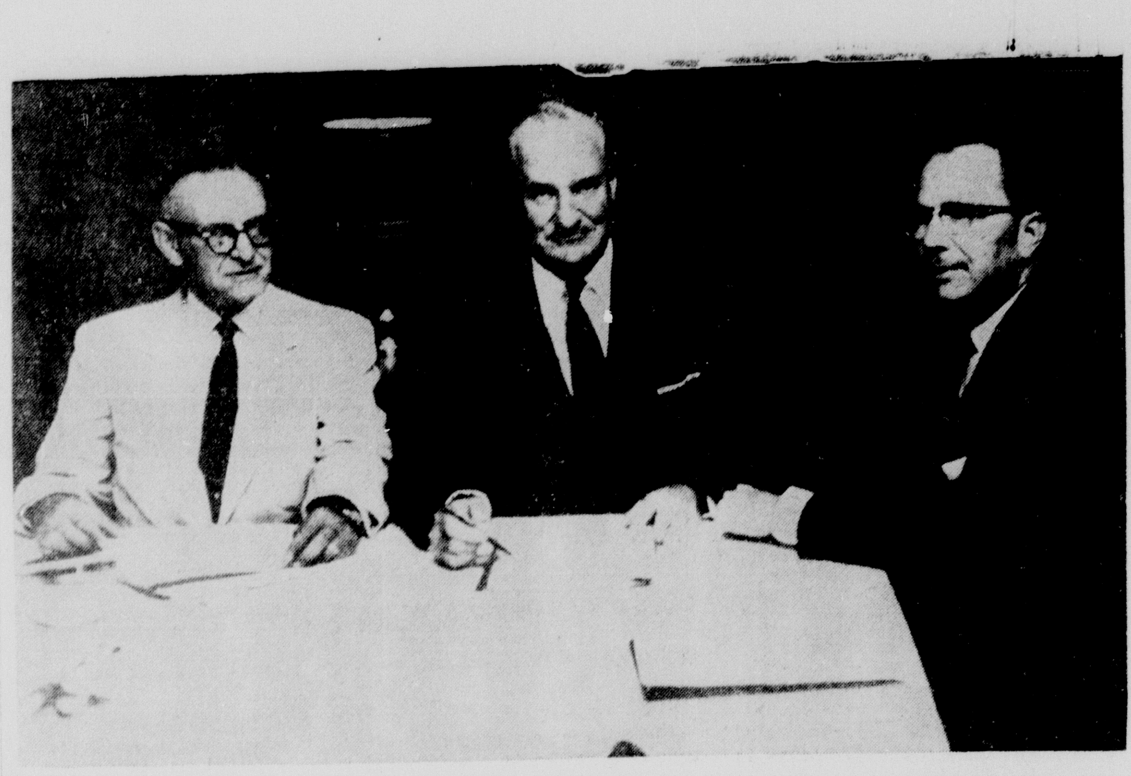
In 1951 and '52, she won trips to the annual state 4-H camp, in 1953, and '54 went to the state fair as a parish winner and in '54 also returned to 4-H camp for the third year. In 1955 and '56 she won trips to the state 4-H short course in Baton Rouge and her fourth and fifth seasons at state 4-H camp.

In 1954 she won a silver medal in dress review and in 1955 took home a gold medal in canning. Last year she was queen of her 4-H club for the second successive year.

At present five of the six Morace children are living at home and "along with a little help from mother and daddy, we raise our own food in the family garden which calls for plenty of canning and preparation of food for the deep freezer."

Marilyn says the four girls "wash, iron, cook and sew, all of which is done the 4-H way which is the right way; some people say we eat, sleep, live and breathe 4-H day and night."



UNITED FUND CO-CHAIRMEN NAMED—United Givers Fund campaign chairman Walter W. Kellogg (center) yesterday named Clifford Strauss (left) and C. D. McAdams (right) his co-chairmen for the drive which begins November 1. Strauss will also serve as chairman of the Special Gifts Division, while McAdams will head the Large Firms Division. McAdams, Strauss Co-Chairmen Of United Campaign

Co-Chairmen of the United Givers fund campaign will be C. D. McAdams and Clifford Strauss, it was announced yesterday by campaign chairman Walter Kellogg.

Strauss will serve also as chairman of the Special Gifts Division of the campaign, Kellogg said. Strauss, a prominent figure in business and civic activities for many years, is president of F. Strauss and Son, Inc. He is a director of the Peoples Homestead and Savings Association and Ouachita National Bank, and is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce. He is also a former president of the Ouachita Parish Chapter of the American Red Cross, which is now a member of the United Givers Fund. He is a past president of Congregation B'Nai Israel.

Both Strauss and McAdams are experienced campaigners, each having served as chairman of Community Chest campaigns in previous years. Strauss was also chairman of the war bond drive in Monroe.

In addition to being co-chairman of the campaign, McAdams will head the Large Firms Division which is responsible for securing employee support of the United Givers through payroll deduction plans where they work. McAdams is a strong supporter of the payroll deduction plan and has initiated such a program at Sears, Roebuck and Co., of which he is manager.

Active in civic affairs, McAdams has worked with the Chamber of Commerce for a number of years, and was Charter President of the Jaycees in 1945. He is a member of St. John's Christian Church.

"It was only with the understanding that Strauss and McAdams would accept these important assignments that I agree to be Chairman of the United Campaign," Kellogg said.

"The success of this first effort with a United Givers Fund depends upon full support from both labor and management," Kellogg added, "and we needed two experienced and capable men to develop and maintain that support."

The United Givers Fund is the combined appeal for funds for operating a dozen health and welfare agencies in Ouachita Parish. The united campaign will get underway November 1.

Grass Fires Plague City Area Saturday

Dying grass and a hot, dry season were said to be chiefly responsible for a total of eight grass fires in and around the Twin Cities yesterday.

Firemen started their grass-fire parade yesterday at mid-morning and continued until late afternoon. Only in one case was there a material damage reported.

Flames from a grass patch engulfed two small wooden structures at 1312 Alvin St. at 2:18 p.m. The buildings were located behind a residence.

A fire on the old Monroe-Bastrop highway at 2 p.m. took firemen outside of the city. In-town fires occurred at 512 N. McGuire, 20th and Grammont, Smith St., 1503 S. 3rd, 1204 St. John Drive, 1312 Alvin and 819 DeSiard.

Probe Of Leases On U. S. Lands Is Recessed Briefly

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 22 (UP)—A special subcommittee investigating oil leases by major companies on federal lands recessed until Tuesday after hearing a firm describe Friday a loopholes which permitted it to lease twice the permissible amount of land under federal law.

Neil Stull, Washington attorney representing Stanolind Oil Co., of Tulsa, Okla., told the subcommittee the amount of federal land which could be leased in any given state was twice the amount most officials believed.

He said the 1954 mineral leasing act limited land leased by one firm to 46,080 acres plus 200,000 acres under option.

But he said the Department of Interior had ruled that the limits applied to original public domain land and that an equal amount could be held on "acquired" lands which were not part of the public domain but which have been purchased by the government.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. M., chairman of the subcommittee, said "I don't think Congress understood it that way."

Stanolind officials Friday said that on "several occasions in Wyoming" and elsewhere they evaded lease limitations by having individuals obtain the federal leases with the understanding the company would then take option on the leases.

On several occasions, the company said, individuals had signed blank application and option forms.

Atomic Radiation May Prove Of Great Value To U.S. Petroleum Industries

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 22 (AP)—Oil men hope atomic radiation can be utilized in finding new and improved petroleum products and processes.

Continental Oil Co. today announced plans for construction of a $500,000 atomic radiation laboratory at Ponca City, Okla.

Uranium cylinders from the Arco, Idaho, atomic energy plant will be available under new plans of the Atomic Energy Commission to release materials for industrial experimentation.

L. F. McCollum, Continental president, said the laboratory will use atomic radiation as a source of energy in conducting chemical experiments to help develop both new products and new or improved refining processes and petrochemical manufacturing methods.

Construction of the laboratory is to begin within a few weeks. Completion is scheduled next March.

McCollum said Continental has been supporting an exploratory program in radiation at the University of Michigan the past two years but that the use of atomic radiation is one of the latest advancements in the petroleum field. He said the new facility will be among the first in the nation to use atomic radiation under the recently announced program for experimental purposes in industry.

The laboratory will utilize a closed-circuit television camera, robot-like mechanical hands, and two periscopes. Radiation research will be conducted by remote controls in a "hot cell" within the concrete laboratory. The cell's walls will be five and a half feet thick and will be built of specialy prepared concrete.

When not in use, the radiation elements, in two-foot uranium cylinders, will be scored in a 16-foot well beneath the cell. Remote control facilities will move the elements to and from their protective shield of water.

During the experiments, scientists will operate the cell equipment by use of the mechanical hands, observing the operations through two specially designed viewing windows. The television camera inside the cell will carry the experiments to a minotor screen in an operations room surrounding the cell.

Individual laboratories in the building also will house radioisotope work now being conducted at other Continental research facilities at Ponca City. Radioactive elements now are being used as tracers for studying corrision, reaction rates and other chemical measurements.

A low-level radiation room in the new building will permit the direction of a beam of gamma rays through oil well cores for studying oil, water and gas contents.

Continental also has been utilizing radioactive piston rings for several years in studying engine wear at its Ponca City product use laboratory. Radioactive isotopes also are being used at the refinery to indicate liquid levels

Lafayette Man Elected Head Of Firemen's Group

Andrew F. Broussard of Lafayette was elevated to the presidency of the Louisiana State Firemen's Association at the fifty-first annual convention, which was concluded in Monroe Saturday morning. Broussard succeeds H. L. Hales of Monroe.

Grains Mixed On Chicago Boards

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 (AP) — In a market which was generally slow, but subjected to sporadic bursts of activity, grains closed mixed on the Board of Trade this week.

The most strength again was shown by wheat, mainly because of an upturn Friday. July, which had lagged over the past few weeks, scored a new seasonal peaks, as did March.

Largest losses were recorded in oats, reflecting hedging and selling by those who felt this grain was too high in relation to corn.

Wheat closed the week ½ lower to 2⅞ higher, corn ¾-1½ lower.

Preamble

One hundred and sixty-five years ago a new nation was established. The creators of this nation left an inheritance that before the eyes of God and the people of the world gave mankind its first assurance that men could live and work under a system that guarantees liberty and independence.

Today this nation faces a situation wherein this heritage is being stolen away from it piece by piece through devious and indirect methods. The time is upon us when the people of our country must again gather together in a common united effort to regain and hold those guarantees of freedom and liberty that were set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States.

WE HOLD THESE TRUTHS TO BE ESSENTIAL:

That the citizens shall support the government and not that the government shall support the citizens.

That the citizens shall own and control the government, not that the government shall own and control the citizens.

That the continuance of our traditional American government depends on the freedom, independence, and the integrity of each individual citizen.

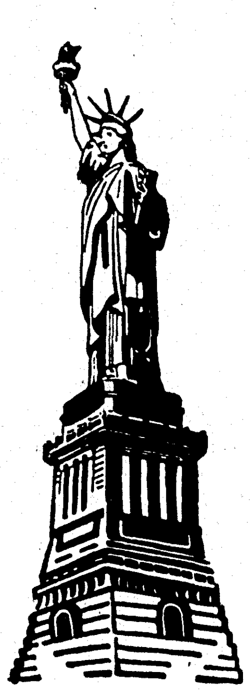
That each citizen be guaranteed the right to freely develop his own spiritual and material welfare.

That the nation should do nothing the states can do, that the states should do nothing the community can do, that the community should do nothing the individuals can do for themselves.

That the government of the local communities, the sovereign and independent states, and the federal government be kept free from domination by any special groups and that monopoly of economic and political power shall not be allowed to any such special groups whether business, financial, union, or political.

That the continued centralization of power in the federal government leads to dictatorship. This can be prevented only by the preservation of constitutional government in our country based upon the retention of states rights in full force and effect.

Therefore and in order to carry out the objectives for which we stand, the States Rights Party of Louisiana sets forth below a declaration of principles that shall guide our party.



1. We favor complete observance of the Tenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States which reserves to the states or to the people all powers not specifically delegated to the United States.
2. We most decidedly favor the "States Rights Amendment" which says: "There shall be no interference with or limitation upon the power of any state to regulate health, morals, education, marriage and good order in the state; and exclusive jurisdiction thereof is reserved to the states."
3. We favor the recognition of the right of each state and the exercise of said right in the prosecution and control of all persons and organizations engaged in communist, subversive, and other seditionist activity against the state.
4. We approve and give full support to the "SOUTHERN MANIFESTO" as formulated and published by the Southern Senators and Congressmen.
5. We favor the right of a state to interpose its sovereignty between the federal government and the people of the state whenever the federal government exceeds the powers delegated to it by the several states in the U. S. Constitution.
6. We oppose the adoption of any Civil Rights "force bills" giving the federal government the power to supercede local authority within the several states.
7. We oppose any action by the government at Washington, including the Supreme Court of the United States, interfering with matters subject to thes state police power, or the right of the state to control the privilege of suffrage or voting rights.
8. We oppose Federal Aid to Education on the ground that grants of federal funds eventually lead to federal domination and control which in turn destroys the autonomy of the several states.
9. We oppose the superceding of state constitutions and laws and the superceding of the federal constitution and the federal laws by treaties or presidential agreements such as the "Status of Forces Treaty" which denies Constitutional protection to the members of our armed forces in foreign countries. Accordingly we endorse the principles embodied in the Bricker Amendment which limits the treaty-making power of the President.
10. We favor state ownership of tidelands within their historic boundaries.
11. We favor the retention of the McCarran-Walter Act which fixes quotas for immigration.
12. We feel that the present amendment to the Constitution allowing unlimited income taxation is dangerous to our form of government and should be amended so as to provide a limit upon the amount of such tax not to exceed 25% of a taxpayer's income. We favor the abolition of the Federal Inheritance Tax Laws.
13. We favor the right of each of the several states to adopt such segregation laws as in the judgment of each state may seem necessary to preserve the peace and tranquility thereof.
14. We solidly support the right of labor to organize for its own protection. We favor the right of labor union members to control their own local unions through freely conducted elections uncoerced by union bosses. We oppose the unrestricted use of union funds belonging to workingmen for the purpose of political corruption and personal gain by union bosses.

    We oppose the control of labor organizations by those union dictators employing the tactics of crime, corruption and communism.
15. We favor the severance from all government employment of all communists and fellow travelers, and this without delay.
16. We oppose the creation of any Federal Forced Employment Act. (F.E.P.C.)
17. We oppose the use of the taxpayers money to pay for federal operation of businesses which can be more economically carried on by private enterprise.
18. We oppose the so-called "Declaration of Human Rights", the "Genocide Treaty" and any partial or total world government which would limit in any way the sovereignty of the United States or abridge the Constitutional rights of U. S. citizens.
19. We oppose statehood for Hawaii and Alaska and propose instead Commonwealth status for those territories similar to that granted Puerto Rico.
20. We favor a re-examination of our foreign aid policies, both military and economic, with a view toward restricting the use of the taxpayers money for this purpose only to those cases where it is clearly and unmistakably in the interest of this country to grant such aid.
21. We believe that where possible, public lands should be placed in private ownership and made subject to state taxation and accordingly, favor the sale of all these lands except in cases where national ownership will clearly advance the well being of the people of the United States.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Businessmen, charting their plans for 1957, staked their bluest chips this week on a continuing rise in consumer appetites and incomes.

The betting was that you'd have more money to spend next year and that you'd spend it freely to satisfy your wants without balking at higher prices.

Automakers hoped buyers of 1957 automobiles would swallow price boosts of $80 to $300. Style changes, Detroit sales chiefs said, would break down resistance to the higher tags.

Ford, unwrapping its 1957 line, announced price hikes averaging 3 per cent—and predicted a gain of better than 10 per cent in sales. Ford division's general manager, Robert S. McNamara, gave this reason for the expected 1957 auto boom: "The average family's income next year will be about $300 higher; the average American family will have an income of $100 a week or more."

A key factor in the thinking of further rise in farm income, now running about 9 per cent above the relatively depressed levels of a year ago.

Brightly tinted forecasts for the coming year came from several other quarters.

Howard F. Larson, top sales executive for the Evinrude motors division of Outboard Marine Corp. predicted a 35 per cent gain next year in sales of Evinrude outboards. Right now, he said, Americans are spending at the rate of a billion dollars a year on small boats, motors, water skis and other outboard equipment.

At a marketing conference sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board, A. T. Loeffler, vice president of Food Machinery & Chemical Corp., said 1957 sales of chemicals and allied products should be "well above" the 23 billions anticipated this year.

Machinery and equipment companies should rack up sales gains averaging 6 per cent, predicted Irwin T. White, manager for the Warner & Swasey Co.-Gradall division.

Irving H. Granicher, vice president of California Packing Corp., said the sales outlook for food has "never looked better." And A. B. McIntire, vice president of Pepperel Manufacturing Co., said there was "no doubt whatsoever that there will be a substantial over-all increase in U. S. textile consumption next year."

Amid the rose-colored predictions, a few warning signs appeared.

The stock market continued to show a good deal of hesitancy. As measured by the Associated Press 60-stock average, the market dipped to its lowest level since June 8 before making any real attempt at a rally.

There was a warning, too, about the constantly rising level of consumer instalment debt. The American Institute of Management said that if consumers go into hock much deeper than they are now, the pyramiding tower of debt could bring on a recession. Many people are taking on new debts to pay off old ones, said the institute, and others have borrowed to the hilt. And it posed this question: "What will happen when these debtors—an estimated two-thirds of our family units—can no longer increase their borrowing or are forced to stop borrowing entirely? The results could be disastrous."

The homebuilding industry, which has lagged consistently behind last year's pace, got a shot in the arm from Uncle Sam. The White House announced a series of new rules aimed at making it easier for people to get mortgages and buy homes. One was obviously aimed at the mass housing market.

Stocks Continue Downward Trend As Average Dips

News this week, as in every week since July 27 when Egypt nationalized the Suez Canal, has been dominated by that incident. Business and economic news was generally bullish. Auto inventories were lower, the prospects were for higher car prices, production rebounded in August and steel production once again was close to 100 per cent of the industry's rated capacity.

Money continued very tight.

Market analysts and research staffs of big investment houses were speculating on whether the seven-year-old bull market was about to run its course or run into a temporary recession.

This week was a dull one. Among the hevily-traded stocks were Royal Dutch off ⅝; American Telephone off 1⅛; Glenn Martin off 1⅞; Stnadard Oil of California off 1⅛; Texaco off 2⅜; Boeing off 1⅛; North American Aviation off 1⅞; General Electric off 1¼; National Container up ¾; Armour up 1, and Gulf off 3⅜.

The five most active stocks were: U.S. Steel off 1⅜ at 67¾, Standard Oil (N.J.) off ⅛ at 54⅞; General Motors unchanged at 47⅜; Chrysler up 4 at 74¼ and Royal Dutch off ⅝ at 107⅜.

Corporate bonds were lower on balance this week while government securities advanced slightly.

Cotton Futures Reflect Strength On Weekly Close

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—The cotton futures market finished strong this week after a somewhat hesitant start.

Active futures contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange posted net gains which ranged from 55 cents to $1.60 a bale. Best showing was made by the nearer-months. On the final day of trading, all deliveries from October 1956 through May 1957 scored new life-of-contract highs.

Contributing to the market's firm tone was a report that mills at the end of August had only enough cotton for 23 days' production at the August rate. Offerings were furnished through scattered liquidation and profit-taking.

Of considerable interest to the trade was the Commodity Credit Corporation's latest report on loan entries. Entries for the current season through Sept. 14 were the largest for that period on record, at 332,000 bales. The total at the same time last year was 124,000.

Nevertheless, traders held to the view that the total for the entire season would fall considerably short of the record 7,300,000 bales pledged to the loan in 1955-56. Expectations were that the total would be more likely to fall somewhere between three and four million.

The CCC reported it sold 329,000 bales of its surplus cotton for export against bids opened Tuesday, Sept. 18, at an average price of 26.22 cents a pound for middling one-inch upland staple. This brought total sales under the export program to date to 3,815,000 bales.

Export for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 93,000 bales, vs. 105,000 a week ago and 32,000 in the like 1955 week. The season's total through Tuesday was estimated at 429,000 bales vs. 128,000 at approximately the same time last year.

Passman To Speak On Foreign Policy

Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman will discuss foreign policy and problems in a talk Monday to the Shreveport Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Regarded in Washington circles as a well-informed authority on many of the nation's foreign problems, Passman is chairman of the Foreign Operations Appropriations subcommittee in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Rep. Passman has been an outspoken opponent of American foreign policy during much of the past four years, often referring to it as "diplomacy by slogan."

Druggist Jailed For Barbituate Sales To Officer

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 —UP— A 55-year-old New Orleans druggist was arrested yesterday on a charge of selling approximately 1,700 barbituate tablets to a customer who turned out to be an undercover agent.

Sam Price was arrested yesterday in his store and police said he had been under surveillance for three weeks.

Police said that undercover agent policewoman Claire Olsen bought the anti-depressant pills from Price since Aug. 31, without a prescription.

Price was arrested when Policewoman Olsen tried to buy 1,000 of the pills. Price said all he could sell was 100.

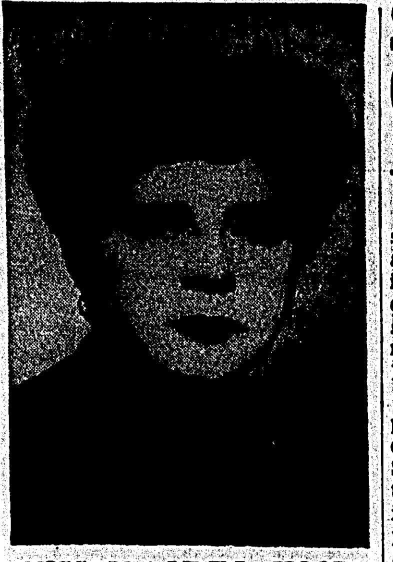
Negro Admits Slaying Another In 'Self-Defense'

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 —UP— Police said a 59-year-old Negro, who identified himself as Arthur Jupiter, admitted today killing Arthur Brown, Jr., last night as the theft suspect was fleeing the home of a victim.

Brown, who authorities reported, terrorized and slashed Mrs. Lora Jackson, 22, a Negro, in a night robbery was found dead outside her home. Money was found in Brown's pocket which Mrs. Jackson said belonged to her.

Jupiter told police today he kept silent because of fear. He said he shot Brown last night when the suspect came toward him with a knife.

Authorities will confer with the district attorney Monday on any action they make take against Jupiter.



MISS MAIBEL HOOD, above, has been named Manager and buyer of the Millinery department of Ada Faye Kramer ready-to-wear according to an announcement by Mrs. Ada Gruber. Miss Hood has had extensive millinery and allied lines experience in the Twin Cities.

Sadler Returns To Baton Rouge— Behind Jail Bars

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 22—UP— William E. Sadler, known as "Old Wooden Ear", promised to go straight but police said today he apparently had trouble keeping the promise.

Sadler is in a Baton Rouge jail today, charged with helping to cash at least 20 worthless checks, worth $73.10 each, in a dozen Louisiana cities. Sadler made his promise to police authorities four months ago when his sentence was commuted and he received a pardon.

"Old Wooden Ear" has been in and out of several prisons since 1922 serving terms on similar charges.

Former Gov. Robert Kennon pardoned Old Wooden Ear and praised his morale building efforts at Angola state penitentiary where he published the weekly "Angolite," always studded with wit and barbed humor concerning prison life.

"I'm going straight," Sadler wrote friends when he left prison last spring.

He went to work for the Opelousas Daily World and was winning praise for his clever civilian columns and unusual interviews.

But then police checked complaints from banks and companies and reported that an impressive trail of bad checks looked like Sadler's handiwork. They said he printed phoney checks—handsome payroll type — on special Daily World typewriters.

Sadler left Opelousas without explaining why, but he was caught in Savannah, Ga., where Gov. Marvin Griffin ordered extradition to Louisiana.

Booked on similar charges and also arrested in Savannah is Emil Bock, former editor of the Texas state prison paper. Bock is also wanted in Texas on parole violation. He served a term in prison for murdering his father.

Speaking Course Grows In Demand At College Here

Speech 51, a course in public speaking, is growing in demand as a Northeast State offering with the increase of night enrollment. The course now has been added to the six-year program which the Business Administration and Commerce Department is initiating this fall.

Persons interested in the six-year plan of study leading toward a degree in science also may select Speech 51. The work is available to others who are not registered in either the business or science program but who wish to take the class at night because of full-time or part-time day work which makes it impossible to schedule a regular day class.

Students may enroll in this speech class as late as Tuesday, September 25. The course carries three semester hours of credit and will be offered Tuesday and Friday nights from 6:15 to 7:30 p.m. in room 107 of the Fine Arts Buildings.

The course is built around the preparation and delivery of basic informative and persuasive types of speeches, and progresses from the short talk to the more lengthy kind, suitable for more formal occasions. Also included in the study will be practice in delivery of miscellaneous types of speeches, such as the introduction, welcome, nomination, and others.

Later in the semester, use will be made of the tape recorder to study individual progress in vocal delivery. Parkerson explained. Students will be given private assistance on individual problems.

School Flogging Probed At Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 — (UP) Board of education officials were studying a report that a high school substitute teacher urged three teenagers to flog a classmate because he failed to wear a belt.

Richard McVey, principal of Harrison technical high school issued a statement, saying that "an atmosphere of horseplay" surrounded the belt-whipping in a classroom supervised by Joseph Harris, 21.

The flogged youth, 15-year-old Lloyd Peterson, said he was punished for disobeying an order from Harris to wear a belt to class.

The boys involved in the beating, Kenneth Lassuskas, Felix Murillo, and Richard Jones, all 15, reportedly corroborated Peterson's story that the flogging was instigated by the teacher.

The custom of tipping stems from 16th and 17th century coffee houses in England. Customers were expected to drop coins in a brass - bound box inscribed "To Insure Promptness", later reduced to the initials TIP. Called penny universities, the coffee houses were seats of wit and learning. When Charles II closed them as places of sedition in 1675, the protest was so severe that he quickly revoked his proclamation.

Perryville Negro Hurt In Collision

Another Perryville Negro was charged with drunk driving while a Bastrop Negro escaped uninjured.

Oliver Watson, a passenger in one of the vehicles, was rushed to the Charity by Mulhearn ambulance and was still under treatment there yesterday afternoon.

State Police charged 32-year-old Andrew Elliot with drunk driving after he rammed into the rear of an auto driven by Jesse L. Pitts, 18, 215 Daisy St., Bastrop, State Police reported.

Both autos were headed toward Monroe on 165 when Pitts was hit from behind and knocked into a ditch. Watson was riding with Elliot.

No Gasoline Rationing Foreseen In Suez Crisis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—A government official setting up plans to ship more oil from the United States to West Europe, if Middle East oil supplies are interrupted, foresees no rationing of gasoline or other oil supplies in this country.

The government plans to ship from 500,000 to 1,100,000 more barrels of petroleum or its products daily to Western Europe if Mideast shipments are halted because of the Suez Canal controversy.

Should the plan be put into effect, one official said, it might become necessary for West Europe to ration due to transport problems.

But he added that oil production in this country could be stepped up sharply and domestic transportation facilities including pipelines, tank cars and tankers would be adequate to prevent any shortage or rationing to U. S consumers.

Various groups, including Interior Department oil and gas officials, the Middle East Emergency Committee, the Military Petroleum Advisory Board and the Office of Defense Mobilization are studying the situation.

Dan Jones, assistant general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, told a House Ways and Means subcommittee:

"The nationalization and shutdown of oil production in Iran several years ago, and the present threat of interrupted oil supplies resulting from the Suez crisis, demonstrate the danger of dependency on foreign sources and the vital importance of ample oil supplies within the United States.

"If we continue the policy of increasing imports and thereby become dependent upon foreign sources, then in time of war our enemy could render us helpless by instgating another Iranian shutdown or Suez crisis."

Jones said "adverse effects of excessive imports" of oil on the domestic industry already are in evidence and "the outlook is for increasing imports unless action is taken as provided by law."

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Businessmen, charting their plans for 1957, staked their bluest chips this week on a continuing rise in consumer appetites and incomes.

The betting was that you'd have more money to spend next year and that you'd spend it freely to satisfy your wants without balking at higher prices.

Automakers hoped buyers of 1957 automobiles would swallow price boosts of $80 to $300. Style changes, Detroit sales chiefs said, would break down resistance to the higher tags.

Ford, unwrapping its 1957 line, announced price hikes averaging 3 per cent—and predicted a gain of better than 10 per cent in sales. Ford division's general manager, Robert S. McNamara, gave this reason for the expected 1957 auto boom: "The average family's income next year will be about $300 higher; the average American family will have an income of $100 a week or more."

A key factor in the thinking of further rise in farm income, now running about 9 per cent above the relatively depressed levels of a year ago.

Brightly tinted forecasts for the coming year came from several other quarters.

Howard F. Larson, top sales executive for the Evinrude motors division of Outboard Marine Corp. predicted a 35 per cent gain next year in sales of Evinrude outboards. Right now, he said, Americans are spending at the rate of a billion dollars a year on small boats, motors, water skis and other outboard equipment.

At a marketing conference sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board, A. T. Loeffler, vice president of Food Machinery & Chemical Corp., said 1957 sales of chemicals and allied products should be "well above" the 23 billions anticipated this year.

Irving H. Granicher, vice president of California Packing Corp., said the sales outlook for food has "never looked better." And A. B. McIntire, vice president of Pepperel Manufacturing Co., said there was "no doubt whatsoever that there will be a substantial over-all increase in U. S. textile consumption next year."

Amid the rose-colored predictions, a few warning signs appeared.

The stock market continued to show a good deal of hesitancy. As measured by the Associated Press 60-stock average, the market dipped to its lowest level since June 8 before making any real attempt at a rally.

There was a warning, too, about the constantly rising level of consumer instalment debt. The American Institute of Management said that if consumers go into hock much deeper than they are now, the pyramiding tower of debt could bring on a recession. Many people are taking on new debts to pay off old ones, said the institute, and others have borrowed to the hilt. And it posed this question: "What will happen when these debtors—an estimated two-thirds of our family units—can no longer increase their borrowing or are forced to stop borrowing entirely? The results could be disastrous."

The homebuilding industry, which has lagged consistently behind last year's pace, got a shot in the arm from Uncle Sam. The White House announced a series of new rules aimed at making it easier for people to get mortgages and buy homes. One was obviously aimed at the mass housing market.

Stocks Continue Downward Trend As Average Dips

Redskins Grab 2 Quick Markers And Protect Lead

A sudden surge of power early in the first quarter carried the Northeast Louisiana State Indians to two quick touchdowns and a 21 to 7 home opening triumph over the Stephen F. Austin College Lumberjacks at Brown Field here last night.

Coach H. D. Payne's Tribesmen looked well enough to warrant preseason predictions, especially since they dropped the team that a week earlier had toppled Northwestern Louisiana State, 14-12, while Northeast was losing its opener at Hammond to the Southeastern powerhouse, 35-0.

Two sparkling runs by left halfback Aubrey Wade, captain of the Tribe in the absence of his injured co-captain Jimmy Berry, were the key to the Redskins' success. A 41-yard Wade sprint paved the way for Nathan "Zeke" Zametto who scored the first from the three, and Wade personally accounted for the second on a 66-yard weaving sprint.

End Joe Driskell took an eight-yard pass from Everett Reynolds for the capping Northeast TD in the third period.

Except for that sudden early show in which the Tribe rolled up 147 yards eight plays for the two TD, the Lumberjacks held their own with the Redskins.

Two quick marches covering 62 and 80 yards carried Northeast to an early 14-0 lead.

Downing the opening kickoff on their 38, the Tribe rolled to paydirt in five plays, a 41-yard run by Wade carrying to the Austin 19, Tony Hartsell ripping for 16 to the three, and Zametto cracking the middle for the touchdown. Wade converted.

Northeast stopped an Austin march at the Indian 20, and came roaring back to go all the way. Bob McGough cracked right tackle for 12. Northeast drew a five-yard penalty, but Tony Hartzell came back around left end for seven, and then Wade scampered through right tackle and rambled 66 yards to score. He converted for the second time.

The Lumberjacks took the following kickoff and hammered back for 68 yards to climax the drive with an early second quarter touchdown. Votto Gaddis, Charles Simmons, and Don Davis led the march to the Northeast nine. Gaddis fired the touchdown pass to Pearman in the endzone, and Gaddis kicked the point.

Northeast staged another march late in the first half, going for first down on the S.F.A. three, but the Axmen stiffened and the Tribe could move only two yards in their four downs, and Austin punted out.

Guard Lloyd Williams pounced on an Austin fumble in the third quarter, covering the ball on the S.F.A. 24, and the Tribe was marching again. McGough, Wade, and Hartzell advanced the ball to the eighth, and E. Reynolds fired a pass to Driskell in the end zone for the touchdown. An earlier pass of the same combination into the end zone was cancelled by an offsides. Wade added his third point.

Inexperienced Mustangs Upset Notre Dame, 19-13

DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Green as grass Southern Methodist, led by Charlie Arnold, who collected numerous splinters on the bench last season, knocked down the nation's No. 3 team—Notre Dame—19-13 tonight in one of the major upsets of college football.

It was the first time for Notre Dame to lose an opening game since 1934 and a Southwest Conference team beat the Irish then —Texas.

Arnold faked, passed and ran Notre Dame dizzy while his mates thoroughly outplayed all of the Irish except Paul Hornung, the All-America quarterback.

Hornung engineered a 55-yard pass play and ran 57 yards for a touchdown in the last half to give the Irish a 13-13 tie with less than four minutes to go.

The crowd of 61,000 thought that was the way it was going to end. But with only 1:58 left Arnold flung a mighty pass from the Notre Dame 45 that Lon Slaughter, the smashing SMU back, gathered in on the 14. Then Slaughter, with Arnold faking a run around right end, took a pitchout from the quarterback and circled left end for the eight tries.

Notre Dame, apparently jittery as a schoolboy in his first day of class, collected harmful penalties in gobs. An assessment for roughing set up the first SMU touchdown. An offside made it easier for the Mustangs to score their second.

Notre Dame	0	0	7	6	—13
So. Methodist	6	7	0	6	—19

Rice Air Power Downs Alabama To 20-13 Count

HOUSTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Frank Ryan and King Hill threw three touchdown passes tonight as the two junior quarterbacks led the young and light Rice Owls to a 20-13 intersectional football victory over Alabama before a crowd of 43,000.

Rice capitalized on a passing attack that gained 124 yards while opening its 1956 campaign with a victory that snapped a seven-game losing stream. Alabama, losing its fourteenth consecutive game, tried only two passes but powered its way for first and third period scores.

Ryan, 183-pounder from Fort Worth, passed 12 yards to Buddy Dial in the first period and then hit the sophomore end with a 17-yard scoring toss in the final quarter. Hill, the 205-pound all-around athlete from Freeport, passed 30 yards to halfback Bobby Williams in the second quarter.

Hill and Fullback Jerry Hall each converted once for Rice but Hill failed on a second attempt. Guard Don Holcomb kicked Alabama's first extra point but missed on the second.

Ryan completed five of eight passes for 76 yards, while Hill completed three out of three for 48.

G. F. Alsbrook, sophomore halfback from Galveston, was Rice's leading ground gainer with 48 yards in four carries. Fullback Max Kelley led Alabama with 51 yards in eight tries.

Alabama scoring— Touchdowns: Walls (1-plunge); Comstock (17-run). Conversion: Holcomb.

Rice scoring—Touchdowns: Dial 2 (12 and 17 yard passes from Ryan); Williams (30-yard pass from Hill). Conversions: Hall, Hill.

Planes In Futile Search For Lost Tommy Gastall

BALTIMORE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Coast Guard boats and Civil Air Patrol planes criss-crossed the Baltimore Harbor area today in a futile daylong search for the plane in which baseball catcher Tommy Gastall disappeared Thursday.

Clue after clue failed to turn up any sign of the 23-year-old Oriole bonus catcher or the light, single engine craft in which he was flying back to Baltimore from the eastern shore late Thursday.

Searchers were virtually stymied when he radioed Baltimore's harbor field he was in distress and diving into the water.

Southerners Blank Louisiana Tech, 14-0, In First Half

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Sept. 22 (AP) —Mississippi Southern tonight blanked Louisiana Tech 14-0 as both teams rolled up a total of 45 passes.

Harvey Seligman went off tackle for one yard and Southern's first touchdown to cap a drive that began on the Tech 48. Two passes from Bobby Hughes to Jack May for nine and 12 yards had put the ball on the two. Dallas Whitfield converted.

A 15-yard pass from Doug Fairfield to Joe Doggett in the second period was good for 36 yards and a Mississippi Southern touchdown. May converted.

Southern Cal Smothers Texas Opposition, 44-20

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 22 (AP)—Fullback C. R. Roberts, a bruising 206 pound speedster, ripped Texas for touchdown gallops of 74, 73 and 50 yards as the University of Southern California swamped Texas 44-20

Roberts was a virtual one man wrecking crew as he chalked up a fantastic 251 yards rushing on 12 plays before 47,000 football fans at Memorial Stadium here. He erased an all time Trojan rushing total of 229 yards for a single game set in 1929.

The irrepressible Roberts overshadowed Jon Arnett, USC's fine left half who was a near All-America choice last year. Arnett went 14 yards for a score on the next to last play of the first half and was a constant threat with his speed.

Texas moved ahead in the first period when quarterback Joe Clements shook loose around right end and went 36 yards for a touchdown. But that was it for the Longhorns.

Score by quarters:

USC scoring—Touchdowns: Roberts 3 (73, run, 50, run, 74, run); Arnett (14, run); Hall, (38, pass-run); Hill, (18, pass-run); Gorrell (42, intercepted pass). Conversion: Isacson, Hall.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Baltimore clinched a tie for sixth place in the American League tonight and Washington's Jim Lemon tied the major league strikeout record as the Orioles downed the Nats, 8-6, before a small crowd of 5,151.

Baltimore led 3-1 going into the fifth but the Nats rallied in the sixth with three runs on four hits to go in front. Baltimore came back with two and added three in the seventh after Washington had once more taken command in the top of the seventh.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Sept. 22 (UP) — South Carolina drove 84 yards for a first half touchdown and stopped Duke's only deep penetration three inches short of the goal line Saturday night to upset the Blue Devils 7-0 before a crowd of 25,000.

The Gamecocks, in conquering Duke for the first time since 1931, dominated the game virtually throughout with the control-type game of new Coach Warren Giese, running off 80 offensive plays to 55 for Duke.

Quarterback Mackie Prickett directed South Carolina's scoring march in the second period, combining the running and passing of sophomore halfbacks King Dixon and Alex Hawkins with the smashes of fullback Bobby Barrett as the Gamecocks covered 84 yards in 18 plays. Dixon scored on a one-yard plunge and Hawkins converted.

The Gamecocks' big first string line earned a major share of the credit when rushed in also in the second period as Duke drove from its 45 to the South Carolina nine against the second team. A fourth down pileup at the goal line left the Blue Devils no more than three inches shy.

Marlene Stewart Claims Women's Amateur Throne

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Little Marlene Stewart calmly rapped in an 11½ foot putt on the 35th hole and defeated 17-year-old Joanne Gunderson, 2 and 1, today for the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf championship.

The 22-year-old Miss Stewart, four down after 24 holes, hammered away at the young U.S. Junior champion until she caught her on the 30th hole and wrapped her third championship this year by winning the 32nd and 35th with pars.

The 5-foot one-inch Miss Stewart, of Fonthill, Ont., is the first Canadian to win the U.S. Women's Amateur since Dorothy Campbell did it in 1910.

Miss Gunderson, of Kirkland, Wash., came closer than any other U.S. Junior champion ever did to winning the senior title, but her opponent's superior experience made the difference in the double round over the 6,340-yard Meridian Hills course.

Dressen Will Remain As Pilot Of Senators

Announcing this today, the baseball team's president, Calvin Griffith, said Dressen has "done an outstanding job with a young club" in his two years here.

The club ran last in Dressen's first year, and moved up one step to seventh this season. The team said Dressen has agreed to terms for his new contract but has not yet signed it. No salary figure was announced.

WALKING RECORD

MELBOURNE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Ted Allsop, veteran Melbourne walker, bettered the world two-hour walking record today. He covered 16 miles, 401 yards and 2½ inches. The previous mark of 15 miles 159 yards was held by a Czechoslovakia, Josef Doleal.

A sudden surge of power early in the first quarter carried the Northeast Louisiana State Indians to two quick touchdowns and a 21 to 7 home opening triumph over the Stephen F. Austin College Lumberjacks at Brown Field here last night.

Coach H. D. Payne's Tribesmen looked well enough to warrant preseason predictions, especially since they dropped the team that a week earlier had toppled Northwestern Louisiana State, 14-12, while Northeast was losing its opener at Hammond to the Southeastern powerhouse, 35-0.

Two sparkling runs by left halfback Aubrey Wade, captain of the Tribe in the absence of his injured co-captain Jimmy Berry, were the key to the Redskins' success. A 41-yard Wade sprint paved the way for Nathan "Zeke" Zametto who scored the first from the three, and Wade personally accounted for the second on a 66-yard weaving sprint.

End Joe Driskell took an eight-yard pass from Everett Reynolds for the capping Northeast TD in the third period.

Except for that sudden early show in which the Tribe rolled up 147 yards eight plays for the two TD, the Lumberjacks held their own with the Redskins.

Two quick marches covering 62 and 80 yards carried Northeast to an early 14-0 lead.

Downing the opening kickoff on their 38, the Tribe rolled to paydirt in five plays, a 41-yard run by Wade carrying to the Austin 19, Tony Hartsell ripping for 16 to the three, and Zametto cracking the middle for the touchdown. Wade converted.

Northeast stopped an Austin march at the Indian 20, and came roaring back to go all the way. Bob McGough cracked right tackle for 12. Northeast drew a five-yard penalty, but Tony Hartzell came back around left end for seven, and then Wade scampered through right tackle and rambled 66 yards to score. He converted for the second time.

The Lumberjacks took the following kickoff and hammered back for 68 yards to climax the drive with an early second quarter touchdown. Votto Gaddis, Charles Simmons, and Don Davis led the march to the Northeast nine. Gaddis fired the touchdown pass to Pearman in the endzone, and Gaddis kicked the point.

Northeast staged another march late in the first half, going for first down on the S.F.A. three, but the Axmen stiffened and the Tribe could move only two yards in their four downs, and Austin punted out.

Guard Lloyd Williams pounced on an Austin fumble in the third quarter, covering the ball on the S.F.A. 24, and the Tribe was marching again. McGough, Wade, and Hartzell advanced the ball to the eighth, and E. Reynolds fired a pass to Driskell in the end zone for the touchdown. An earlier pass of the same combination into the end zone was cancelled by an offsides. Wade added his third point.

Inexperienced Mustangs Upset Notre Dame, 19-13

DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Green as grass Southern Methodist, led by Charlie Arnold, who collected numerous splinters on the bench last season, knocked down the nation's No. 3 team—Notre Dame—19-13 tonight in one of the major upsets of college football.

It was the first time for Notre Dame to lose an opening game since 1934 and a Southwest Conference team beat the Irish then—Texas.

Arnold faked, passed and ran Notre Dame dizzy while his mates thoroughly outplayed all of the Irish except Paul Hornung, the All-America quarterback.

Hornung engineered a 55-yard pass play and ran 57 yards for a touchdown in the last half to give the Irish a 13-13 tie with less than four minutes to go.

The crowd of 61,000 thought that was the way it was going to end. But with only 1:58 left Arnold flung a mighty pass from the Notre Dame 45 that Lon Slaughter, the smashing SMU back, gathered in on the 14. Then Slaughter, with Arnold faking a run around right end, took a pitchout from the quarterback and circled left end for the eight tries.

Notre Dame, apparently jittery as a schoolboy in his first day of class, collected harmful penalties in gobs. An assessment for roughing set up the first SMU touchdown. An offside made it easier for the Mustangs to score their second.

So. Methodist	6	7	0	6	19

Rice Air Power Downs Alabama To 20-13 Count

HOUSTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Frank Ryan and King Hill threw three touchdown passes tonight as the two junior quarterbacks led the young and light Rice Owls to a 20-13 intersectional football victory over Alabama before a crowd of 43,000.

Rice capitalized on a passing attack that gained 124 yards while opening its 1956 campaign with a victory that snapped a seven-game losing stream. Alabama, losing its fourteenth consecutive game, tried only two passes but powered its way for first and third period scores.

Ryan, 183-pounder from Fort Worth, passed 12 yards to Buddy Dial in the first period and then hit the sophomore end with a 17-yard scoring toss in the final quarter. Hill, the 205-pound all-around athlete from Freeport, passed 30 yards to halfback Bobby Williams in the second quarter.

Hill and Fullback Jerry Hall each converted once for Rice but Hill failed on a second attempt. Guard Don Holcomb kicked Alabama's first extra point but missed on the second.

Ryan completed five of eight passes for 76 yards, while Hill completed three out of three for 48.

G. F. Alsbrook, sophomore halfback from Galveston, was Rice's leading ground gainer with 48 yards in four carries. Fullback Max Kelley led Alabama with 51 yards in eight tries.

Planes In Futile Search For Lost Tommy Gastall

BALTIMORE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Coast Guard boats and Civil Air Patrol planes criss-crossed the Baltimore Harbor area today in a futile daylong search for the plane in which baseball catcher Tommy Gastall disappeared Thursday.

Clue after clue failed to turn up any sign of the 23-year-old Oriole bonus catcher or the light, single engine craft in which he was flying back to Baltimore from the eastern shore late Thursday.

Searchers were virtually stymied when he radioed Baltimore's harbor field he was in distress and diving into the water.

Southerners Blank Louisiana Tech, 14-0, In First Half

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Sept. 22 (AP) —Mississippi Southern tonight blanked Louisiana Tech 14-0 as both teams rolled up a total of 45 passes.

Harvey Seligman went off tackle for one yard and Southern's first touchdown to cap a drive that began on the Tech 48. Two passes from Bobby Hughes to Jack May for nine and 12 yards had put the ball on the two. Dallas Whitfield converted.

A 15-yard pass from Doug Fairfield to Joe Doggett in the second period was good for 36 yards and a Mississippi Southern touchdown. May converted.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 22 (AP)—Fullback C. R. Roberts, a bruising 206 pound speedster, ripped Texas for touchdown gallops of 74, 73 and 50 yards as the University of Southern California swamped Texas 44-20

Roberts was a virtual one man wrecking crew as he chalked up a fantastic 251 yards rushing on 12 plays before 47,000 football fans at Memorial Stadium here. He erased an all time Trojan rushing total of 229 yards for a single game set in 1929.

The irrepressible Roberts overshadowed Jon Arnett, USC's fine left half who was a near All-America choice last year. Arnett went 14 yards for a score on the next to last play of the first half and was a constant threat with his speed.

Texas moved ahead in the first period when quarterback Joe Clements shook loose around right end and went 36 yards for a touchdown. But that was it for the Longhorns.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Sept. 22 (UP) — South Carolina drove 84 yards for a first half touchdown and stopped Duke's only deep penetration three inches short of the goal line Saturday night to upset the Blue Devils 7-0 before a crowd of 25,000.

The Gamecocks, in conquering Duke for the first time since 1931, dominated the game virtually throughout with the control-type game of new Coach Warren Giese, running off 80 offensive plays to 55 for Duke.

Quarterback Mackie Prickett directed South Carolina's scoring march in the second period, combining the running and passing of sophomore halfbacks King Dixon and Alex Hawkins with the smashes of fullback Bobby Barrett as the Gamecocks covered 84 yards in 18 plays. Dixon scored on a one-yard plunge and Hawkins converted.

The Gamecocks' big first string line earned a major share of the credit when rushed in also in the second period as Duke drove from its 45 to the South Carolina nine against the second team. A fourth down pileup at the goal line left the Blue Devils no more than three inches shy.

Score by periods:

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Little Marlene Stewart calmly rapped in an 11½ foot putt on the 35th hole and defeated 17-year-old Joanne Gunderson, 2 and 1, today for the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf championship.

The 22-year-old Miss Stewart, four down after 24 holes, hammered away at the young U.S. Junior champion until she caught her on the 30th hole and wrapped her third championship this year by winning the 32nd and 35th with pars.

The 5-foot one-inch Miss Stewart, of Fonthill, Ont., is the first Canadian to win the U.S. Women's Amateur since Dorothy Campbell did it in 1910.

Miss Gunderson, of Kirkland, Wash., came closer than any other U.S. Junior champion ever did to winning the senior title, but her opponent's superior experience made the difference in the double round over the 6,340-yard Meridian Hills course.

Dressen Will Remain As Pilot Of Senators

The club ran last in Dressen's first year, and moved up one step to seventh this season. The team said Dressen has agreed to terms for his new contract but has not yet signed it. No salary figure was announced.

WALKING RECORD

MELBOURNE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Ted Allsop, veteran Melbourne walker, bettered the world two-hour walking record today. He covered 16 miles, 401 yards and 2½ inches. The previous mark of 15 miles 159 yards was held by a Czechoslovakia, Josef Doleal.

Syracuse Aerial, Ground Attack Stops Maryland

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 22 (AP)—Syracuse used Jim Brown to rip along the ground and scored twice on passes and a 71-yard return of a fumble by end Dick Lasse to beat Maryland's mixed-up football team 26-12 in their season's opener today.

Brown, a bruising 212-pounder, caught one touchdown pass from Jim Ridlon, blasted 4 yards around end for another, and zoomed 7 yards to set up a third.

Syracuse, beaten 34-13 last season when Maryland was coached by Jim Tatum, practically gave Maryland its second touchdown just before the game ended with third-stringers playing on both sides.

Greenies Register 21 To 14 Triumph In Season Opener

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 (AP) — Little Gene Newton lopped three touchdown passes today in leading erratic Tulane to a stumbling 21-14 football victory over Virginia Tech.

Newton tossed twice to end Will Billon and once to halfback Willie Hof before bowing out in the third quarter with an ankle injury and setting the stage for a Virginia Tech rally that brought a hectic finish.

Trailing 21-7, Tech got the ball on the Tulane 1 on a pass interference penalty early in the fourth period and controlled play the rest of the game.

Halfback Harry Keast lost eight yards to kill the drive that threatened to tie the game.

Newton, a 150-pound junior, pulled the VPI pass defense in with his clever faking to fullback Ronnie Quillian to set up all three scoring tosses. He passed for 17 yards to Billon in the first period, nine to Hof in the second and 38 to Billon in the third.

Tackle Emmet Zelenka booted the first two conversions and guard Jim Zimmerle ran the third after a bobble on the snapback.

Volkert's dazzling third-period run behind the protection of tackle Ormond Anderson provided one of the few offensive thrills for a shirt-sleeve crowd of 30,000 and a national television audience this bright, humid afternoon.

Tech, obviously attempting to take advantage of its superior reserve strength, kept reasonable control of the ball the opening half, marking 80 yards in 19 plays for one touchdown and striking suddenly with one of its two last half opportunities.

Kentucky's touchdown was the result of Toppy Vann's fumble in the closing minutes, Kentucky recovering at the Tech 13. After offsetting 15 yard penalties, Kentucky got a first down at the Tech two with quarterback Delmar Hughes sneaking across from the two with 26 seconds left.

An important time of year is approaching for a notable segment of the sports - minded population, and a segment that never heard of the World Series — the nation's bird dogs.

For the upland hunting season is here again. Matter of fact, the next wind from the north may bring the sounds that Patrick Henry mentioned — in the north, the shooting has already begun.

Ontario, for instance, started the bird season off Sept. 15, a day earlier than Montana. Minnesota hunters got a crack at sharptailed grouse in northwestern counties starting yesterday although the general bird season is nearly a month away.

And in one state or another, hunters will be banging away at one kind of elusive feathered target or another on into January, when the end of the waterfowl season in the deep south ushers back in a measure of domestic tranquillity afield.

By and large, Old John Pheasant will be the prime attraction for bird hunters from the southern provinces to about the middle south where the fancy fellow with the long tail feathers gives way to bob white quail as top game bird.

Hunters who remember the great days in the Dakotas some 15 years ago will be glad to hear that things are looking up for Old John there. A 35-day season opens in South Dakota Oct. 27, and state officials have loosened up a little more on the restrictions that held down non-residents hunters in recent years.

This season, non-residents may buy a 10-day license for $20 and start shooting with residents at the season opening if they wish. The state allows 15 birds to be taken out of the state on such a license.

As a matter of fact, although a busy agricultural economy practically precludes any pheasant irruption like that on that abandoned farms of the 1930s, the ringnecks are doing better in more places than ever before. Even New Mexico will have a season, in November, and allow the shooting of hens as well as cock birds.

Quail are showing up, under management, in shootable numbers along the northern perimeter of their range just as pheasants are moving south. Texas offers seasons on both birds, so does British Columbia.

Nebraska will have a quail season for the first time in 45 years. Quail share the top billing with pheasants in border states like Maryland, and have strong supporting roles all across the country in the Pennsylvania - Ohio-Iowa-Oregon belt.

The favorite - by - numbers species don't have the whole autumn show to themselves by any means, however. The sharptailed grouse already mentioned in Minnesota are dearly loved also by wing shots in the prairie provinces, Michigan, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Kansas, Montana and other states that can maintain shootable populations. The outlook in general for the prairie grouse is, however, still pretty dark except for isolated local concentrations.

In addition a number of Johnny-come-latelies, exotic game bird species coaxed along by game managers, take up an increasingly important part of the upland picture. These include the Hungarian partridge, now fairly familiar in the north, and Chukar partridges in the west.

Gators Intercept 3 Passes To Trip Maroons, 26 To 0

STATE COLLEGE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Joe Brodsky, a speedy 211-pound fullback, intercepted three Mississippi State passes and Florida turned them into quick touchdowns as the Gators defeated luckless Mississippi State 26-0 in a Southeastern Conference football opener today.

Brodsky, who runs like a track star, raced 99 yards for one touchdown, 35 yards for another and 27 yards to set up another Florida score.

Except for passing miscues, Mississippi State dominated the game with a vicious ground assault that accounted for 10 first downs and 147 yards rushing in the first half. Florida had only one first down and 47 yards.

Florida's last score came in the final 10 seconds when fullback Charlie Roberts went over from the three. after the Gators had picked up a Mississippi State fumble on the State 24.

Ole Miss Swamps North Texas Foe In 45-0 Runaway

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Sept. 22 (AP)—Mississippi swamped North Texas State 45-0 today in a non-conference football game that was little more than a warmup for the Rebels' try for a third Southeastern Conference crown.

Game, but outgunned and with fullback John Renfro fighting off an attack of the flu, North Texas never seriously threatened to score.

Only about 6,000 fans, perspiring in 89-degree heat, saw the opener for both teams.

As a matter of fact, although a busy agricultural economy practically precludes any pheasant irruption like that on that abandoned farms of the 1930s, the ringnecks are doing better in more places than ever before. Even New Mexico will have a season, in November, and allow the shooting of hens as well as cock birds.

Quail are showing up, under management, in shootable numbers along the northern perimeter of their range just as pheasants are moving south. Texas offers seasons on both birds, so does British Columbia.

Nebraska will have a quail season for the first time in 45 years. Quail share the top billing with pheasants in border states like Maryland, and have strong supporting roles all across the country in the Pennsylvania - Ohio-Iowa-Oregon belt.

The favorite - by - numbers species don't have the whole autumn show to themselves by any means, however. The sharptailed grouse already mentioned in Minnesota are dearly loved also by wing shots in the prairie provinces, Michigan, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Kansas, Montana and other states that can maintain shootable populations. The outlook in general for the prairie grouse is, however, still pretty dark except for isolated local concentrations.

In addition a number of Johnny-come-latelies, exotic game bird species coaxed along by game managers, take up an increasingly important part of the upland picture. These include the Hungarian partridge, now fairly familiar in the north, and Chukar partridges in the west.

Gators Intercept 3 Passes To Trip Maroons, 26 To 0

STATE COLLEGE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Joe Brodsky, a speedy 211-pound fullback, intercepted three Mississippi State passes and Florida turned them into quick touchdowns as the Gators defeated luckless Mississippi State 26-0 in a Southeastern Conference football opener today.

Brodsky, who runs like a track star, raced 99 yards for one touchdown, 35 yards for another and 27 yards to set up another Florida score.

Except for passing miscues, Mississippi State dominated the game with a vicious ground assault that accounted for 10 first downs and 147 yards rushing in the first half. Florida had only one first down and 47 yards.

Florida's last score came in the final 10 seconds when fullback Charlie Roberts went over from the three after the Gators had picked up a Mississippi State fumble on the State 24.

Ole Miss Swamps North Texas Foe In 45-0 Runaway

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Sept. 22 (AP)—Mississippi swamped North Texas State 45-0 today in a non-conference football game that was little more than a warmup for the Rebels' try for a third Southeastern Conference crown.

Game, but outgunned and with fullback John Renfro fighting off an attack of the flu, North Texas never seriously threatened to score.

Only about 6,000 fans, perspiring in 89-degree heat, saw the opener for both teams.

Pirates Scuttle Dodgers; Cubs Chill Braves

Pittsburgh Hangs 2nd Straight Loss On Brooks, 5 To 1

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22 (AP) — Luis Arroyo, a chunky Puerto Rican just back from Hollywood, helped the Pittsburgh "spoilers" land another crippling body blow to Brooklyn's pennant hopes today with an assist from Bob Friend in a 5-1 relief victory.

Dick Groat's three singles and Bob Skinner's 420-foot triple over Duke Snider's head in the first inning aided the Pirate cause but the big news was the 28-year-old lefthander from Ponce who took over when starter Vern Law faltered in the third.

One run was in and there were men on first and third with nobody out when Manager Bobby Bragan called for Arroyo to protect his 3-1 lead. The stocky Senor whiffed a third called strike past spellbound Duke Snider, made Jackie Robinson fly out and struck out pinch-hitter Charlie Neal.

Arroyo breezed past the desparate Dodgers inning after inning, escaping a jam in the eighth when Robinson and Neal singled only to give way to Friend, the Pirate ace, in the ninth.

The two straight defeats left the Dodgers in a serious situation although they have Don Newcombe, their giant-sized, 25-game winner going tomorrow. He will be opposed by Dick Hall, a former first baseman-outfielder, who has a sorry 0-7 record.

N. Carolina State Conquers Tar Heels

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., Sept. 22 (AP)—Quarterbacks Tom Katich and Billy Franklin each threw two touchdown passes as North Carolina State upset North Carolina 26-6, to spoil the start of the new regime of coach Jim Tatum. A crowd of 37,000 saw the football season opener for the two Atlantic Coast Conference teams.

It was sweet victory for the surprisingly strong state team which had not beaten the Tar Heels since 1942 when, ironically, Tatum was serving his first hitch as coach at North Carolina, his Alma Mater.

BOSTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Mickey Mantle cracked out a double and a game - deciding single to inch ahead of Ted Williams in their American League batting title duel today as the New York Yankees edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1.

Williams, with a chance to maintain his lead, came up with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth inning. Manager Casey Stengel of the Yanks called on southpaw veteran Tommy Byrne to face Ted.

Williams slammed a vicious drive off Byrne's foot which caromed to Bill Skowron near third and the ex-Purdue athlete just nipped the slow-footed Williams at first to end the game.

Mantle now has a .3543 average to Willisms' .3526.

Mantle collected two hits in three trips plus a walk while the Red Sox slugger went hitless in four trips and drew a free pass. Williams 20 more atbat in Bos' six games to achieve the minimum 400 for championship consideration.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 22 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh converted to costly fumbles by the West Virginia Mountaineers to edge out a 14-13 victory here today in a rip-roaring football game which saw the favored Panthers outplayed.

Pitt, trailing by six points going into the third quarter, struck twice in lightning like succession to win the 49th meeting in the series starting in 1895.

Milwaukee Loses Chance For Lead; Bruins Ahead, 5-4

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves lost a chance to take over the National League leadership by a full game today when the Chicago Cubs defeated them 5-4 in 10 innings.

Behind 4-0 at the start of the eighth inning, the Braves rallied for four runs and sent the game into overtime on the strength of Johnny Logan's last-of-the-ninth home run.

The winning run was scored by Cubs center fielder Solly Dranke, who doubled to start the 10th inning, advanced on an infield out and scored in a close play when Gene Baker lifted a sacrifice fly to short right field.

With the Dodgers losing, 5-1, to Pittsburgh, the National League pennant race maintained the same sizzling situation it had before the start of today's play.

A crowd of 32,716 paid watched the game, putting attendance for the year at County Stadium at 1,999,317. With tomorrow's finale against the Cubs a sellout, the Braves were assured of passing the two-million mark for the third in a row.

The Cubs landed on Lew Burdette in the first inning for two run and routed him in the fourth. Counted on for the stretch drive by Manager Fred Haney as one of the big three left of the once-vaunted Milwaukee pitching staff, Burdette failed for the fourth consecutive time to last out a game. He hasn t pitched a complete game since he beat Cincinnati on Labor Day.

Villians' Grudge Match Tops Wrestling Program

Villian turns against villian this Tuesday night on Kallio's wrestling card. Local fans will have the opportunity to watch the unjust battle the unjust. Rugged "Wild Bill" Steddum takes on the Bostonian, Paddy Mack.

During last week's four-man tag match the two "bad boys" lost the duel because of a freak accident in which Steddum kayoed Mack. They had argued at several points during the brawl and reports indicate they clashed in a private bout later in the dressing room.

Mack argued bitterly with referee Loy Scarbough following the final fall of the unusual scramble and then asked promoter Gus Kallio to draw Steddum into a match this week. Steddum jumped at the chance.

The arguing didn't end with the tag match. Johan Von Brauner, the German muscleman, also took issue with Scarbough after he had lost his bid for Jack Curtis' Louisiana heavyweight championship. Brauner claimed that he received a quick count. Kallio again went to work and came up with a rematch for the title on this Tuesday's final match.

Also on the program is a one-fall meet between George Curtis and the Black Knight. They will be limited to 30 minutes.

The Steddum - Mack grudge affair will have a 45-minute bound while the championship match will have no time limitation. Both brawls will require two falls to win.

The show will begin at 8:30.

Pirates Scuttle Dodgers; Cubs Chill Braves

Pittsburgh Hangs 2nd Straight Loss On Brooks, 5 To 1

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22 (AP) — Luis Arroyo, a chunky Puerto Rican just back from Hollywood, helped the Pittsburgh "spoilers" land another crippling body blow to Brooklyn's pennant hopes today with an assist from Bob Friend in a 5-1 relief victory.

Dick Groat's three singles and Bob Skinner's 420-foot triple over Duke Snider's head in the first inning aided the Pirate cause but the big news was the 28-year-old lefthander from Ponce who took over when starter Vern Law faltered in the third.

One run was in and there were men on first and third with nobody out when Manager Bobby Bragan called for Arroyo to protect his 3-1 lead. The stocky Senor whiffed a third called strike past spellbound Duke Snider, made Jackie Robinson fly out and struck out pinch-hitter Charlie Neal.

Arroyo breezed past the desparate Dodgers inning after inning, escaping a jam in the eighth when Robinson and Neal singled only to give way to Friend, the Pirate ace, in the ninth.

The two straight defeats left the Dodgers in a serious situation although they have Don Newcombe, their giant-sized, 25-game winner going tomorrow. He will be opposed by Dick Hall, a former first baseman-outfielder, who has a sorry 0-7 record.

N. Carolina State Conquers Tar Heels

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., Sept. 22 (AP)—Quarterbacks Tom Katich and Billy Franklin each threw two touchdown passes as North Carolina State upset North Carolina 26-6, to spoil the start of the new regime of coach Jim Tatum. A crowd of 37,000 saw the football season opener for the two Atlantic Coast Conference teams.

It was sweet victory for the surprisingly strong state team which had not beaten the Tar Heels since 1942 when, ironically, Tatum was serving his first hitch as coach at North Carolina, his Alma Mater.

BOSTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Mickey Mantle cracked out a double and a game - deciding single to inch ahead of Ted Williams in their American League batting title duel today as the New York Yankees edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1.

Williams, with a chance to maintain his lead, came up with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth inning. Manager Casey Stengel of the Yanks called on southpaw veteran Tommy Byrne to face Ted.

Williams slammed a vicious drive off Byrne's foot which caromed to Bill Skowron near third and the ex-Purdue athlete just nipped the slow-footed Williams at first to end the game.

Mantle now has a .3543 average to Willisms' .3526.

Mantle collected two hits in three trips plus a walk while the Red Sox slugger went hitless in four trips and drew a free pass. Williams 20 more atbat in Bos' six games to achieve the minimum 400 for championship consideration.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 22 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh converted to costly fumbles by the West Virginia Mountaineers to edge out a 14-13 victory here today in a rip-roaring football game which saw the favored Panthers outplayed.

Pitt, trailing by six points going into the third quarter, struck twice in lightning like succession to win the 49th meeting in the series starting in 1895.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves lost a chance to take over the National League leadership by a full game today when the Chicago Cubs defeated them 5-4 in 10 innings.

Behind 4-0 at the start of the eighth inning, the Braves rallied for four runs and sent the game into overtime on the strength of Johnny Logan's last-of-the-ninth home run.

The winning run was scored by Cubs center fielder Solly Dranke, who doubled to start the 10th inning, advanced on an infield out and scored in a close play when Gene Baker lifted a sacrifice fly to short right field.

With the Dodgers losing, 5-1, to Pittsburgh, the National League pennant race maintained the same sizzling situation it had before the start of today's play.

A crowd of 32,716 paid watched the game, putting attendance for the year at County Stadium at 1,999,317. With tomorrow's finale against the Cubs a sellout, the Braves were assured of passing the two-million mark for the third in a row.

The Cubs landed on Lew Burdette in the first inning for two run and routed him in the fourth. Counted on for the stretch drive by Manager Fred Haney as one of the big three left of the once-vaunted Milwaukee pitching staff, Burdette failed for the fourth consecutive time to last out a game. He hasn't pitched a complete game since he beat Cincinnati on Labor Day.

Villians' Grudge Match Tops Wrestling Program

Villian turns against villian this Tuesday night on Kallio's wrestling card. Local fans will have the opportunity to watch the unjust battle the unjust. Rugged "Wild Bill" Steddum takes on the Bostonian, Paddy Mack.

During last week's four-man tag match the two "bad boys" lost the duel because of a freak accident in which Steddum kayoed Mack. They had argued at several points during the brawl and reports indicate they clashed in a private bout later in the dressing room.

Mack argued bitterly with referee Loy Scarbough following the final fall of the unusual scramble and then asked promoter Gus Kallio to draw Steddum into a match this week. Steddum jumped at the chance.

The arguing didn't end with the tag match. Johan Von Brauner, the German muscleman, also took issue with Scarbough after he had lost his bid for Jack Curtis' Louisiana heavyweight championship. Brauner claimed that he received a quick count. Kallio again went to work and came up with a rematch for the title on this Tuesday's final match.

Also on the program is a one-fall meet between George Curtis and the Black Knight. They will be limited to 30 minutes.

The Steddum - Mack grudge affair will have a 45-minute bound while the championship match will have no time limitation. Both brawls will require two falls to win.

The show will begin at 8:30.

Genealogical Group Here Studies American Indian

The history of the American Indian in Northeast Louisiana was discussed yesterday by Edward Whatley, professor of botony at Northeast Louisiana State College, at a meeting of the Ouachita Parish Genealogical and Historical Society.

Whatley also showed such Indian relics as pottery, arrowheads, spears, garden implements and portions of human skeletons which had been unearthed at such places as Point Pleasant, Marksville, Columbia and West Monroe.

He said that it had been estimated by all authorities on the subject that the average height of the Indian during one historical period was six feet. The skull he showed, which was found near Columbia, was massive. A femur bone unearthed in West Monroe was about a foot longer than that of an average sized man of today.

Minor constitutional changes were proposed at the meeting and will be voted on at the next regular meeting on the society, November 3.

Mrs. Abbie Leckie, president; Mrs. Aline Banister, vice-president Mrs. Wallace, secretary; Fred Culver, treasurer; and Mrs. C. W. Caraway and Mrs. Travis Tynes, trustees.

It was also announced at the meeting that NLSC has offered the society space and personnel for soring and properly filing genealogical records. The originals will be kept here and a copy will be sent to the mother society, the Louisiana State Genealogical and Historical Society.

The society is interested in obtaining all types of genealogical records such as Bible records, cemetery records, court records, family trees, biographies, etc. It was announced that matters would be expidited if donors would make two copies of their material, but when that is impossible, personnel of the society and the college will assist.

Plans are underway by the state society to publish a volumn of Louisiana Bible records in the near future. Material which has been published and copyrighted will be accepted but cannot be sent off to the state society.

Records can be contributed Mrs. Leckie, chairman of the genealogical committee, by writing RECORDS, Box 573, Monroe, or through any member of the society.

Brutal Knife Attack

Several Hundred Stitches Needed To Sew Up Cuts

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 (AP) —A street brawl today between two motorists sent one to the hospital with 11 gaping flesh wounds which required several hundred stitches to close, police said.

John Vidalia, 24, a shipyard worker from Harvey, was taken to Charity Hospital for treatment after being cut by a razor of the second motorist during the fight which broke out between the two drivers, authorities reported.

Doctors spent several hours sewing up the back and neck wounds of the injured man, officers said.

Police are searching for the driver of the second car. They said he fled from the scene after the fight.

Vidalia told police there was one passenger in each of the two cars, which almost collided at an intersection.

After the near-collision, Vidalia stated, the drivers started shouting at each other. When Vidalia drove off, the second automobile chased him into a one-way street and jammed his car against the curb, he said, and the two began to fight.

Passengers in the two vehicles watched the fight and in a clinch, Vidalia said, the second driver pulled a razor and started to work him over.

When Vidalia fell, he said the assailant and his companion drove away.

The injured man turned over the license number of the second car, police said. They are tracing the owner.

Some of the Arab states were reported alarmed that a shutdown of the canal or a long-drawn economic struggle with the West might hurt their oil revenues.

Some informants in Cairo hinted that SCUA came close to Nasser's own ideas, and there was intense interest in the forthcoming visit here of India's roving ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon.

Menon, ending a week in Cairo, declared today he was "optimistic" after his talks with Nasser on the Suez crisis, and headed for London where he said he would "contact my friends."

Menon, too, is known to have floated feelers that India would like to see the issue compromised.

SCUA, its cutting edge blunted by promises that the canal-using nations would not shoot their way through and that shipowners can do as they please about paying tolls to Egypt or the international agency, was approved by a majority of the 18 nations at the second Suez conference concluded here yesterday. The same 18 nations met flat rejection from Egypt when, at their mid-August conference, they proposed international operation of the canal.

After the judge ruled a mistrial, Morris said "I thank God this jury did not convict me because I am innocent. He said "they've tried every means to convict me" and "failed at two trials."

The husky cowboy said if he could win a permanent release from the charge "I would go back to Montana to take care of my son and train horses."

Morris' lawyers contended during the trial that the cowboy was sleeping in a station wagon and that two other people were with him the night Flink was killed.

Former New Orleans police Supt. Joseph Scheuering testified Robert M. Larkey, a Biloxi, Miss., welder, was driving Morris' station wagon the night of the shooting.

Scheuering said Larkey had told him, "If Morris is guilty, then I am guilty."

Larkey testified he was with Morris earlier in the evening the night Flink was killed. But they parted company after an argument, he said.

A declaration signed by all Spanish archbishops said it was an "enormous sin" for employers to deprive workers of a just wage in order to make greater profits.

"It is of such urgency to end such grave abuses that it would be difficult to find in public life a more urgent and imperious question," the declaration said.

Individual prelates have spoken out in favor of greater social justice in Spain, but this declaration was the strongest statement yet made by he church hierarchy.

The declaration was drafted by Spain's 12 archbishops Aug. 15 at a meeting of the Metropolitan, the church's highest body in Spain. It has just now been made public.

The archbishops said also it was the Christian duty of the wealthy to renounce pleasure and luxury in order to provide charity for the less fortunate.

such important ports as Galveston, Houston and Port Arthur, Tex., and New Orleans. Both New Orleans and Houston, however, are protected ports lying many miles from the open sea.

Civil defense officials at New Orleans were alerted by the weather bureau and the eighth district Coast Guard said it was taking precautions from Sabine Pass, Tex., to the Alabama-Mississippi state line near Mobile.

The Gulf Coast was last hit by a hurricane on Oct. 6, 1949, when winds howled up to 135 miles an hour in the Freeport, Texas area. A year earlier, the Mississippi Gulf Coast was heavily damaged by a hurricane.

A rarity among tropical storms, Flossy built up its circular movement over land in the wilderness of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula, once the seat of Mayan Indian culture.

Then it passed into the Gulf and as its winds sprang up to 40 to 50 miles an hour the New Orleans weather bureau said the storm "probably will develop into a hurricane" of 75 miles an hour velocity.

At 11 a.m. CST, the storm center was near latitude 23, longitude 91 or about 500 miles south of New Orleans. It was moving northward toward the upper Texas coast at about 15 miles an hour and was "a threat to the upper Texas and Louisiana coasts," the weather bulletin said.

At Miami, the weather bureau's hurricane center, forecaster Paul Moore said that Flossy was "growing all the time" and that squalliness should reach the coast Saturday night, with the center arriving much later.

Flossy, Moore said, has "more of the ingredients that go to make up a good storm" than any predecessor since "Betsy," the year's second storm which slammed Mexico with hurricane force, killing 30 and doing $10 million damage.

Whatever its course, Flossy appeared certain to tangle with a land mass. The United States Gulf Coast lay before it in a vast semi-circle from the northwest to almost due east of the center. A sharp westerly turn would send the storm against the northern Gulf Coast of Mexico. If the storm made an unlikely run to the east it conceivably could pass through the Florida Straits between Key West and Cuba into the Atlantic.

Small craft from Corpus Christi Tex., to Apalachicola on the north west Florida coast—a stretch of almost 800 miles—were warned to stay in port Saturday night. Winds and seas will increase Saturday night, the weather bureau warned.

For a second serving of fruit that you and your family need, serve the Bartlett pear, white grapes or juicy red plums. Your body needs each day one serving of citrus fruit and one other serving of a fruit. The citrus provides the vitamin C that is needed for the structure of gums, teeth, and bone; for the contraction of muscles and supporting cartilage; and for the formation of blood - forming cells. This second serving of a fruit provides for a variety of color, flavor and texture as well as minerals and vitamins.

In D. C. Schools

Rep. Davis Sees Trend Toward Resegregation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP) — Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga) said today the trend in Washington is toward a school system in effect resegregated, as white residents leave neighborhoods with large Negro school enrollments.

Meanwhile a group of capital residents, organized as the Washington Committee for the Public Schools, declared that members of the school investigating subcommittee Davis heads "have little or no interest in determining the full facts respecting the District of Columbia schools."

A spokesman for the Washington committee said it will begin early next week issuing "factual information" about Washington's integrated educational system "to bring some balance" to the picture of integration and its effects being built up in testimony before the House investigators.

The House District of Columbia subcommittee investigating public schools here, with special attention to integraion, is made up predominanly of Southerners, and only Southern members so far have attended its hearings, which began last Wednesday.

Preliminary investigations were conducted by a largely Southern staff headed by William Gerber of Memphis, Tenn., subcommittee counsel, who does most of the questioning of witnesses.

Davis referred, in an interview, to testimony by several principals and teachers of formerly all-white schools that Negro enrollment has increased from year to year under integration, now beginning its third year.

Davis said the testimony convinced him that integration has hastened the change of some Washington neighborhoods from white to Negro and has stepped up the movement of white families to the suburbs. He noted, however, that not all Washington neighborhoods are so affected.

"What it seems to show," he said, "is segregation coming again in effect as people keep moving out."

Formation of the Washington Committee for the Public Schools was announced by its chairman, Gerhard Van Arkel, Washington attorney.

Listed as members were a number of business, professional, labor, religious and political figures of various faiths and parties. Among them were former District Commissioner F. Joseph Donohue, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Mrs. Eugene Meyer, wife of the chairman of the board of the Washington Post and Times-Herald and an active participant in a number of educational undertakings; Joseph L. Rauh, national director of Americans for Democratic Action, and Victor G. Reuther, Washington representative of the United Auto Workers.

Summer Fades As Equinox Ushers In New Season

By UNITED PRESS

Summer made its last official stand Saturday and a new mass of cool air pushed out of Canada to usher in the autumn equinox.

The change of seasons occurred at 9:36 p.m. EDT, but was marked by little weather disturbance on the mainland. In the Gulf of Mexico, however, a tropical storm was brewing and weathermen issued a hurricane advisory.

Weathermen said the summer had been generally mild throughout most of the northern sections of the country, but only slightly cooler than normal. They explained the season had seemed the contrast with last summer's cooler than it actually was due to blistering heat.

The cool air moving in from Canadian areas covered most of the states from the Great Plains to the Pacific and skies over the western half of the country were generally clear.

A strong low-pressure area circulating in the upper Mississippi Valley, meanwhile, pulled the cold air into the Central States, but it was countered by a vigorous flow of southerly winds in the lower Mississippi and Southern Plains areas.

Sharply contrasting temperatures resulted. They were most marked in Kansas, where there were readings in the 40s in the west, and the high 70s in the eastern part.

The warm trend made itslef felt in most parts of the east, where it began Friday, with early morning readings of around 30 in the Ohio Valley moving upward to the 50s and 60s.

E. Carroll Woman Hurt In Collision

State Police charged Jimmy G. Morris, 37, Rt. 3, Monroe, with reckless driving. His pickup smashed into the Tidwell auto, being driven by Mrs. Tidwell's husband, as the couple drove toward Bastrop.

A Mulhearn ambulance took the injured woman to the St. Francis where she was hospitalized and reported in good condition last night. Tidwell, 29, received minor bruises in the mishap.

The impact of the collision knocked Mrs. Tidwell from the auto sending it into a ditch. Tidwell managed to get the auto back onto the highway without further serious damages.

death and downgrading of Premier Stalin. In the United States, many high-ranking Communists have been jailed as advocates of the forcible overthrow of the U. S. government.

"We are American Communists, patriots. Our allegiance is to our own country, the United States. In representing and advancing the fundamental welfare of the working class, we aim always to serve our country's true national interest."

They described their organization as "an American working clars political party" seeking ultimate 'Socialist reorganization of society in a peaceful, constitutional manner by the majority choice of the American people."

At a press conference in connection with the release of the "draft resolution," Eugene Dennis, general secretary, said the party has about 20,000 to 25,000 members, down from a reported peak of 75,000 to 100,000.

"Lists haven't been kept for a great many years because of this period of McCarthyism that this country has been subjected to," he said.

The resolution contained tacit admission that, at one time anyway, the party favored other than peaceful means of change.

U. S. Communists, it said, have abandoned the Leninist idea that war is inevitable and the Stalinist doctrine of inevitable proletaran revolution.

Judge Dawkins Orders Transfer Of Firm Assets

SHREVEPORT, La. Sept. 22—UP—Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. ordered the Mansfield Lumber Co. to transfer assets and property to the Commercial National Bank here.

The injunction grew out of a suit by former stockholders.

Stockholders charged that company officials induced them to sell their stock at less than value.

Judge Dawkins set the time limit for transfer at Sept. 24.

The complainants filed a $30,000 surety bond to cover losses by the company if found to be wrongly enjoined.

Attorneys for the company said they will appeal the injunction.

that a Constitutional Convention is the means by which the fundamental and basic law of our state come into existence, and emphasized the importance of having delegates represent the cross-section of all people, so that all phases of society may be represented.

He pointed out that it appears that an overwhelming majority of those who have qualified as delegates throughout the state are lawyers. He said he feels that other fields should not be overlooked in the selection of delegates.

Specifically, the candidate pledged himself to retain the two-thirds vote of the Legislature as a constitutional requirement before any new taxes can be levied, or present taxes increased. He pledges himself to vigorously oppose any effort to change these provisions.

He also emphasizes the fact that the present constitution declares that gambling is a vice, and directs the legislature to pass laws which shall supress it. He subscribes to this basic principle without reservation or qualification, and pledges himself that he shall not favor any constitutional provision whereby gambling might be legalized, or placed upon a localized optional basis.

While the candidate is in favor of continued adequate support for education at all levels, he is opposed to tax raises, except by means whereby local taxes may be equalized with the state level.

In connection with the educational field, in which this candidate is engaged, he states that he is unalterably opposed to the use of public funds for the use of any private schools whassoever. lest eventually the public school system would lose its identity in the churches. Brown declares this would be contrary to the basic American concept of the separation of church and state.

The candidate promises to discuss the issues of the campaign, and to express himself on controversial questions as they arise from time to time.

Estimate For Rice Yield Is Unchanged

The September 1 estimate of state rice production of 11,691,000 equivalent 100 - pound bags (7,216,667 barrels) is unchanged from a month ago, the Louisiana Crop Reporting Service announced. This production is 11 per cent less than the 1955 crop of 13,150,000 bags but is slightly above the 1945-54 average of 11,639,000 bags. The smaller crop than last year is attributed largely to reduced acreage allotments.

South's NAACP Bosses Pledge 'Fight To Finish' To Secure Integration

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP) —Southern leaders of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today pledged a fight to the finish against school segregation in the South.

In a prepared statement, Wilkins said:

"Three states — Louisiana, Alabama and Texas — have issued injunctions banning NAACP activities. Virginia, South Carolina and other states have passed laws designed to restrict activities of the association. Mississippi has announced formation of a secret police force.

" . . . Mob defiance of the Supreme Court ruling against segregation in public schools was reported by representatives from the states concerned.

"There was unanimous agreement among the conferees that this wave of persecution would not deter them from continuing to carry forward legal and constitutional efforts to secure compliance with the Supreme Court ruling.

"They reported unabated support for the program in their respective states."

Wilkins said the actions in Texas, Louisiana and Alabama rest on the assumption that the campaign for public school desegregation will disappear if the NAACP is put out of business.

"This is erroneous," the NAACP official declared. "Negro parents and their children who were threatened by mobs during the past three weeks proved such action will not frighten them in seeking to enjoy that which the law says they are entitled to . . ."

A near - record use of commercial fertilizer for all purposes in the United States has been reported by the National Plant Food Council. An all - time record tonnage of fertilizer used was reached in 1954, but last year the actual amount of plant food used showed an increase. This is explained by the fact that farmers, gardeners and other users are getting more actual plant food — nitrogen, phosphorus and potash — per ton. Just for the record, the total fertilizer used last year amounted to 20,416,410 tons.

Genealogical Group Here Studies American Indian

The history of the American Indian in Northeast Louisiana was discussed yesterday by Edward Whatley, professor of botony at Northeast Louisiana State College, at a meeting of the Ouachita Parish Genealogical and Historical Society.

Whatley also showed such Indian relics as pottery, arrowheads, spears, garden implements and portions of human skeletons which had been unearthed at such places as Point Pleasant, Marksville, Columbia and West Monroe.

He said that it had been estimated by all authorities on the subject that the average height of the Indian during one historical period was six feet. The skull he showed, which was found near Columbia, was massive. A femur bone unearthed in West Monroe was about a foot longer than that of an average sized man of today.

Minor constitutional changes were proposed at the meeting and will be voted on at the next regular meeting on the society, November 3.

Mrs. Abbie Leckie, president; Mrs. Aline Banister, vice-president Mrs. Wallace, secretary; Fred Culver, treasurer; and Mrs. C. W. Caraway and Mrs. Travis Tynes, trustees.

It was also announced at the meeting that NLSC has offered the society space and personnel for soring and properly filing genealogical records. The originals will be kept here and a copy will be sent to the mother society, the Louisiana State Genealogical and Historical Society.

The society is interested in obtaining all types of genealogical records such as Bible records, cemetery records, court records, family trees, biographies, etc. It was announced that matters would be expidited if donors would make two copies of their material, but when that is impossible, personnel of the society and the college will assist.

Plans are underway by the state society to publish a volumn of Louisiana Bible records in the near future. Material which has been published and copyrighted will be accepted but cannot be sent off to the state society.

Records can be contributed Mrs. Leckie, chairman of the genealogical committee, by writing RECORDS, Box 573, Monroe, or through any member of the society.

Brutal Knife Attack

Several Hundred Stitches Needed To Sew Up Cuts

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 (AP) —A street brawl today between two motorists sent one to the hospital with 11 gaping flesh wounds which required several hundred stitches to close, police said.

John Vidalia, 24, a shipyard worker from Harvey, was taken to Charity Hospital for treatment after being cut by a razor of the second motorist during the fight which broke out between the two drivers, authorities reported.

Doctors spent several hours sewing up the back and neck wounds of the injured man, officers said.

Police are searching for the driver of the second car. They said he fled from the scene after the fight.

Vidalia told police there was one passenger in each of the two cars, which almost collided at an intersection.

After the near-collision, Vidalia stated, the drivers started shouting at each other. When Vidalia drove off, the second automobile chased him into a one-way street and jammed his car against the curb, he said, and the two began to fight.

Passengers in the two vehicles watched the fight and in a clinch, Vidalia said, the second driver pulled a razor and started to work him over.

When Vidalia fell, he said the assailant and his companion drove away.

The injured man turned over the license number of the second car, police said. They are tracing the owner.

Some of the Arab states were reported alarmed that a shutdown of the canal or a long-drawn economic struggle with the West might hurt their oil revenues.

Some informants in Cairo hinted that SCUA came close to Nasser's own ideas, and there was intense interest in the forthcoming visit here of India's roving ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon.

Menon, ending a week in Cairo, declared today he was "optimistic" after his talks with Nasser on the Suez crisis, and headed for London where he said he would "contact my friends."

Menon, too, is known to have floated feelers that India would like to see the issue compromised.

SCUA, its cutting edge blunted by promises that the canal-using nations would not shoot their way through and that shipowners can do as they please about paying tolls to Egypt or the international agency, was approved by a majority of the 18 nations at the second Suez conference concluded here yesterday. The same 18 nations met flat rejection from Egypt when, at their mid-August conference, they proposed international operation of the canal.

After the judge ruled a mistrial, Morris said "I thank God this jury did not convict me because I am innocent. He said "they've tried every means to convict me" and "failed at two trials."

The husky cowboy said if he could win a permanent release from the charge "I would go back to Montana to take care of my son and train horses."

Morris' lawyers contended during the trial that the cowboy was sleeping in a station wagon and that two other people were with him the night Flink was killed.

Former New Orleans police Supt. Joseph Scheuering testified Robert M. Larkey, a Biloxi, Miss., welder, was driving Morris' station wagon the night of the shooting.

Scheuering said Larkey had told him, "If Morris is guilty, then I am guilty."

A declaration signed by all Spanish archbishops said it was an "enormous sin" for employers to deprive workers of a just wage in order to make greater profits.

"It is of such urgency to end such grave abuses that it would be difficult to find in public life a more urgent and imperious question," the declaration said.

Individual prelates have spoken out in favor of greater social justice in Spain, but this declaration was the strongest statement yet made by he church hierarchy.

The declaration was drafted by Spain's 12 archbishops Aug. 15 at a meeting of the Metropolitan, the church's highest body in Spain. It has just now been made public.

The archbishops said also it was the Christian duty of the wealthy to renounce pleasure and luxury in order to provide charity for the less fortunate.

such important ports as Galveston, Houston and Port Arthur, Tex., and New Orleans. Both New Orleans and Houston, however, are protected ports lying many miles from the open sea.

Civil defense officials at New Orleans were alerted by the weather bureau and the eighth district Coast Guard said it was taking precautions from Sabine Pass, Tex., to the Alabama-Mississippi state line near Mobile.

The Gulf Coast was last hit by a hurricane on Oct. 6, 1949, when winds howled up to 135 miles an hour in the Freeport, Texas area. A year earlier, the Mississippi Gulf Coast was heavily damaged by a hurricane.

A rarity among tropical storms, Flossy built up its circular movement over land in the wilderness of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula, once the seat of Mayan Indian culture.

Then it passed into the Gulf and as its winds sprang up to 40 to 50 miles an hour the New Orleans weather bureau said the storm "probably will develop into a hurricane" of 75 miles an hour velocity.

At 11 a.m. CST, the storm center was near latitude 23, longitude 91 or about 500 miles south of New Orleans. It was moving northward toward the upper Texas coast at about 15 miles an hour and was "a threat to the upper Texas and Louisiana coasts," the weather bulletin said.

At Miami, the weather bureau's hurricane center, forecaster Paul Moore said that Flossy was "growing all the time" and that squalliness should reach the coast Saturday night, with the center arriving much later.

Flossy, Moore said, has "more of the ingredients that go to make up a good storm" than any predecessor since "Betsy," the year's second storm which slammed Mexico with hurricane force, killing 30 and doing $10 million damage.

Whatever its course, Flossy appeared certain to tangle with a land mass. The United States Gulf Coast lay before it in a vast semi-circle from the northwest to almost due east of the center. A sharp westerly turn would send the storm against the northern Gulf Coast of Mexico. If the storm made an unlikely run to the east it conceivably could pass through the Florida Straits between Key West and Cuba into the Atlantic.

Small craft from Corpus Christi Tex., to Apalachicola on the north west Florida coast—a stretch of almost 800 miles—were warned to stay in port Saturday night. Winds and seas will increase Saturday night, the weather bureau warned.

For a second serving of fruit that you and your family need, serve the Bartlett pear, white grapes or juicy red plums. Your body needs each day one serving of citrus fruit and one other serving of a fruit. The citrus provides the vitamin C that is needed for the structure of gums, teeth, and bone; for the contraction of muscles and supporting cartilage; and for the formation of blood - forming cells. This second serving of a fruit provides for a variety of color, flavor and texture as well as minerals and vitamins.

In D. C. Schools

Rep. Davis Sees Trend Toward Resegregation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP) — Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga) said today the trend in Washington is toward a school system in effect resegregated, as white residents leave neighborhoods with large Negro school enrollments.

Meanwhile a group of capital residents, organized as the Washington Committee for the Public Schools, declared that members of the school investigating subcommittee Davis heads "have little or no interest in determining the full facts respecting the District of Columbia schools."

A spokesman for the Washington committee said it will begin early next week issuing "factual information" about Washington's integrated educational system "to bring some balance" to the picture of integration and its effects being built up in testimony before the House investigators.

The House District of Columbia subcommittee investigating public schools here, with special attention to integraion, is made up predominanly of Southerners, and only Southern members so far have attended its hearings, which began last Wednesday.

Preliminary investigations were conducted by a largely Southern staff headed by William Gerber of Memphis, Tenn., subcommittee counsel, who does most of the questioning of witnesses.

Davis referred, in an interview, to testimony by several principals and teachers of formerly all-white schools that Negro enrollment has increased from year to year under integration, now beginning its third year.

Davis said the testimony convinced him that integration has hastened the change of some Washington neighborhoods from white to Negro and has stepped up the movement of white families to the suburbs. He noted, however, that not all Washington neighborhoods are so affected.

"What it seems to show," he said, "is segregation coming again in effect as people keep moving out."

Formation of the Washington Committee for the Public Schools was announced by its chairman, Gerhard Van Arkel, Washington attorney.

Listed as members were a number of business, professional, labor, religious and political figures of various faiths and parties. Among them were former District Commissioner F. Joseph Donohue, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Mrs. Eugene Meyer, wife of the chairman of the board of the Washington Post and Times-Herald and an active participant in a number of educational undertakings; Joseph L. Rauh, national director of Americans for Democratic Action, and Victor G. Reuther, Washington representative of the United Auto Workers.

Summer Fades As Equinox Ushers In New Season

By UNITED PRESS

Summer made its last official stand Saturday and a new mass of cool air pushed out of Canada to usher in the autumn equinox.

The change of seasons occurred at 9:36 p.m. EDT, but was marked by little weather disturbance on the mainland. In the Gulf of Mexico, however, a tropical storm was brewing and weathermen issued a hurricane advisory.

Weathermen said the summer had been generally mild throughout most of the northern sections of the country, but only slightly cooler than normal. They explained the season had seemed the contrast with last summer's cooler than it actually was due to blistering heat.

The cool air moving in from Canadian areas covered most of the states from the Great Plains to the Pacific and skies over the western half of the country were generally clear.

A strong low-pressure area circulating in the upper Mississippi Valley, meanwhile, pulled the cold air into the Central States, but it was countered by a vigorous flow of southerly winds in the lower Mississippi and Southern Plains areas.

Sharply contrasting temperatures resulted. They were most marked in Kansas, where there were readings in the 40s in the west, and the high 70s in the eastern part.

The warm trend made itslef felt in most parts of the east, where it began Friday, with early morning readings of around 30 in the Ohio Valley moving upward to the 50s and 60s.

E. Carroll Woman Hurt In Collision

State Police charged Jimmy G. Morris, 37, Rt. 3, Monroe, with reckless driving. His pickup smashed into the Tidwell auto, being driven by Mrs. Tidwell's husband, as the couple drove toward Bastrop.

A Mulhearn ambulance took the injured woman to the St. Francis where she was hospitalized and reported in good condition last night. Tidwell, 29, received minor bruises in the mishap.

The impact of the collision knocked Mrs. Tidwell from the auto sending it into a ditch. Tidwell managed to get the auto back onto the highway without further serious damages.

death and downgrading of Premier Stalin. In the United States, many high-ranking Communists have been jailed as advocates of the forcible overthrow of the U. S. government.

"We are American Communists, patriots. Our allegiance is to our own country, the United States. In representing and advancing the fundamental welfare of the working class, we aim always to serve our country's true national interest."

They described their organization as "an American working clars political party" seeking ultimate 'Socialist reorganization of society in a peaceful, constitutional manner by the majority choice of the American people."

At a press conference in connection with the release of the "draft resolution," Eugene Dennis, general secretary, said the party has about 20,000 to 25,000 members, down from a reported peak of 75,000 to 100,000.

"Lists haven't been kept for a great many years because of this period of McCarthyism that this country has been subjected to," he said.

The resolution contained tacit admission that, at one time anyway, the party favored other than peaceful means of change.

U. S. Communists, it said, have abandoned the Leninist idea that war is inevitable and the Stalinist doctrine of inevitable proletaran revolution.

Judge Dawkins Orders Transfer Of Firm Assets

SHREVEPORT, La. Sept. 22—UP—Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. ordered the Mansfield Lumber Co. to transfer assets and property to the Commercial National Bank here.

The injunction grew out of a suit by former stockholders.

Stockholders charged that company officials induced them to sell their stock at less than value.

Judge Dawkins set the time limit for transfer at Sept. 24.

The complainants filed a $30,000 surety bond to cover losses by the company if found to be wrongly enjoined.

Attorneys for the company said they will appeal the injunction.

that a Constitutional Convention is the means by which the fundamental and basic law of our state come into existence, and emphasized the importance of having delegates represent the cross-section of all people, so that all phases of society may be represented.

He pointed out that it appears that an overwhelming majority of those who have qualified as delegates throughout the state are lawyers. He said he feels that other fields should not be overlooked in the selection of delegates.

Specifically, the candidate pledged himself to retain the two-thirds vote of the Legislature as a constitutional requirement before any new taxes can be levied, or present taxes increased. He pledges himself to vigorously oppose any effort to change these provisions.

He also emphasizes the fact that the present constitution declares that gambling is a vice, and directs the legislature to pass laws which shall supress it. He subscribes to this basic principle without reservation or qualification, and pledges himself that he shall not favor any constitutional provision whereby gambling might be legalized, or placed upon a localized optional basis.

While the candidate is in favor of continued adequate support for education at all levels, he is opposed to tax raises, except by means whereby local taxes may be equalized with the state level.

In connection with the educational field, in which this candidate is engaged, he states that he is unalterably opposed to the use of public funds for the use of any private schools whatsoever. lest eventually the public school system would lose its identity in the churches. Brown declares this would be contrary to the basic American concept of the separation of church and state.

The candidate promises to discuss the issues of the campaign, and to express himself on controversial questions as they arise from time to time.

"Three states — Louisiana, Alabama and Texas — have issued injunctions banning NAACP activities. Virginia, South Carolina and other states have passed laws designed to restrict activities of the association. Mississippi has announced formation of a secret police force.

" . . . Mob defiance of the Supreme Court ruling against segregation in public schools was reported by representatives from the states concerned.

"There was unanimous agreement among the conferees that this wave of persecution would not deter them from continuing to carry forward legal and constitutional efforts to secure compliance with the Supreme Court ruling.

Wilkins said the actions in Texas, Louisiana and Alabama rest on the assumption that the campaign for public school desegregation will disappear if the NAACP is put out of business.

"This is erroneous," the NAACP official declared. "Negro parents and their children who were threatened by mobs during the past three weeks proved such action will not frighten them in seeking to enjoy that which the law says they are entitled to . . ."

A near - record use of commercial fertilizer for all purposes in the United States has been reported by the National Plant Food Council. An all - time record tonnage of fertilizer used was reached in 1954, but last year the actual amount of plant food used showed an increase. This is explained by the fact that farmers, gardeners and other users are getting more actual plant food — nitrogen, phosphorus and potash — per ton. Just for the record, the total fertilizer used last year amounted to 20,416,410 tons.

PHILADELPHIA (UP)— Three persons, including a policeman, were shot and wounded early today in a "rock and roll" riot at an American Legion post here.

The riot and shooting occurred when two plain clothes patrolmen attempted to gain entrance to the post to investigate the rock and roll noise. One officer was shot in the hand and his companion was slugged with his own revolver.

Of the two civilians wounded, one was shot in the arm and the other shot in the stomach.

Miss Nancy Hair Becomes Bride Of Ensign Taugner

Miss Nancy Carolyne Hair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cornelius Hair, became the bride of Ensign Terrance Norman Taugner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joseph Taugner of Los Angeles, Cal., at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 15th, in St. Marks Episcopal Church in Crossett.

The Rt. Rev. R. Bland Mitchell, D. D., Bishop of Arkansas, performed the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. James C. Buckner, rector of St. Marks Church. The couple exchanged vows before an altar illuminated with seven-branch standing candelabra and festal lights. Twin brass vases held white chrysanthemums, and floor baskets of the same flowers stood at each end of the chancel.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. J. B. White at the organ, and Mrs. Gordon Condit, soprano, sang. Acolytes Banks Clark and John Watzek lighted the tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pearl white Dupioni silk and rose point Chantilly lace. The bateau neckline of the sculptured bodice was edged with lace medallions studded with sequins and seed pearls. A lace apron adorned the front of the voluminous skirt which swept back into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white Prayer Book with a cascade of pearl-accented gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Gray, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of green floral bow-knot print organza with green crystalette trim. She wore a matching petal wreath bandeau with a tiny veil, and carried a crescent bouquet of Fugii chrysanthemums with white net and ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ginger McDuff of DeVall's Bluff, Ark., cousin of the bride, and Miss Lynita Taugner of Los Angeles, Cal., sister of the groom. Miss Allison Mulholland was junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses identical to that of the honor attendant and carried similar bouquets with green net and ribbon. Little Karen Anne Buckner was flower girl. The green and white color scheme was further carried out in her dress which was of white nylon net with green sash. She carried a small basket-type bouquet of white chrysanthmums.

The mother of the bride wore an original dress in champagne peau de soir. The empire bodice had a hand-sewn Alencon lace top with a square neckline and tiny cap sleeves. The sheath cocktail-length skirt had a panff on the side with a floating side panel extending from the waistline. The mother of the groom wore a sheath cocktail-length dress of gray lace over pink. Both wore corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table, flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers. The cloth was of white nylon organdy over green with embroidered ruffles extending to the floor. The traditional green and white were further emphasised by the floral decorations on tables which featured green grapes, white stock, chrysanthemums and glossy-green huckleberry sprays.

SKIN SPECIALIST DEMONSTRATES

How to Rinse Away Your Blackheads

By CLAIRE HOFFMAN

New York, N. Y.—A leading skin doctor today showed an audience of men, women and skin-troubled teenagers how to clean oily skin and shrink enlarged pores with a 10-minute home medical treatment he has perfected. Then he demonstrated how you may rinse away externally caused blackheads, whiteheads and dry up adolescent pimply skin eruptions.

Before our very eyes the doctor selected a 36-year-old woman with typically oily skin. This woman had blackheads around her nose, enlarged pores and whiteheads visible to the naked eye. To this woman's face the doctor applied a cream. Within moments it firmed into a plastic-like mask. Next he sprinkled her face with water, and handed her an ordinary washcloth to rinse the mask from her skin. To her utter astonishment, clinging to the washcloth were not only grimy streaks of dirt...but several blackheads which had marred her beauty for years.

As we stared at the washcloth in disbelief, the doctor's assistant turned to us and said: "You have just seen what looks like a miracle. Yet, what has just been done for this woman's skin, you can do at home just as easily. But to understand how this formula acts to help clear skin troubles you must first knock out of your head some silly notions most people have about their complexions."

The Truth About Cosmetics

Has it ever occurred to you that you lavish more care on your face than any other part of your body ...yet isn't that where you find the most pimples, blackheads, blemishes and enlarged pores? So what do you do about it?

Nine out of 10 women simply don't or won't understand that if they have oily skins, blackheads, pimples or enlarged pores, they may not only have a cosmetic problem...but a medical problem as well.

Now why is this so? Shocking as it seems, if nature gave you either a normal or oily skin, your face is always dirty! Why? Because 24 hours a day your face is always exposed to soot, smoke, factory dirt, car exhaust, coal dust, noxious fumes and other germ-laden dirt that pours into the air. It clings to the natural oils of your skin.

Your pores become choked and clogged. Your natural oils are stopped up and hardened into blackheads or pimples. They try to push out, forcing your pores to open wider and wider. Once this condition starts (especially during adolescence, when glandular disturbances make your skin extra oily) the condition usually grows worse and worse as you grow older. And when this happens...isn't it obvious that it may become impossible to correct unless you start to change your complexion care immediately?

Do This For A Cleaner Skin

If you want to rid your face of ugly blackheads, enlarged pores and externally caused skin eruptions, these are the three things you must do:

First you must soften the hardened dirt and oils that may have accumulated in your pore openings! Second, you must remove that dirt. (But don't squeeze it out. Squeezing only forces part of the dirt deeper into your skin.) And third, you must try to tighten your skin with shrinking and antiseptic agents, not only for beauty, but to guard you against reinfection! And unless you are prepared to do all three things, it's likely you will go on wasting your time and your money the rest of your life looking for "miracle cures!"

What Happens When You Apply This Doctor's 3-Way Formula

First to prepare your skin for treatment we are going to soften and loosen the buried dirt cemented into your pores. The scientific pore cleanser which is Part One of this famous skin doctor's treatment is unlike any other cleanser you have ever used in your life, regardless of how much you can afford to pay. And here is how you can prove it on your skin.

When you see the gray streaks of dirt that come off—even after having creamed your face with any other cleanser—then will you begin to understand why you need a drastic change in complexion care.

(2) The second part of your doctor's treatment is a medicated masque which you apply.

Apply it to your face with your fingertips as you would any cream. A little thicker around the "danger area"...namely around the nose, lips, eyes and cheeks.

The first 3 or 4 minutes you will feel a strong stimulation. This is the massaging action of the medical ingredients going to work on your skin. Your face will feel alternately hot and cold. You will like it. Your skin will feel refreshed. It is like a massage without irritation, bringing fresh, purifying blood to your face to draw off the blemish causing wastes in your pores.

After a few minutes this hot and cold action goes away and a wonderful relaxation of all your tense, over-worked facial muscles sets in. Your pulse tends to slow down and you are so relaxed you feel a great tendency to fall asleep. In another moment you will feel your skin getting tighter and tighter. What is happening is this: A wonderful medical absorbing agent doctors call ARGILLA is drying on your skin. It is turning the cream on your face into a firm, plastic-like mask. You get a pleasant, drawing feeling, a relaxing feeling, there is a corrective action, there is an astringent action and an antiseptic action. You feel the ARGILLA drawing on the blackheads. Everything it touches perspiration, pore dirt, hardened oils even blackheads and whiteheads that have resisted removal for months.

After 10 minutes rinse the mask away. Hot or cold water makes no difference. It dissolves in a second. Your skin feels clean, refreshed, sparkling, smoother! Like velvet! But wait...you haven't finished your first treatment yet!

Now Apply Step 3 of Your Treatment...The Astringent

This is not merely a perfumed alcohol that tickles your skin for a few seconds. It's medicated. It penetrates into your pore openings. Kills bacteria lurking there. And even more important, leaves an invisible germ-destroying film on your skin that kills germs for hours.

Now Look Into Your Mirror!

Some of your blackheads should be gone with the very first treatment! Look for softened pimples and whiteheads that may break or be drawn out in your next treatment or two. Look at the corners of the nose, around your mouth, your cheekbones! See how your enlarged pores have tightened! Your skin will feel alive! And you will be amazed to see minor wrinkles softened—almost ironed out! And this fresh, buoyant, youthful effect will last for hours.

Is This For Normal Skin, Too?

Certainly. Simply because this is a doctor's formula doesn't mean that you have to have a "sick skin" to use it. You may be a woman past 30 who has never had a really serious skin problem, but who suspects that your skin is not as beautiful and freshlooking as it could be... but your cosmetic creams can't give it to you. In that case...we think you'll be thrilled by the sheer, smooth, silken beauty that one or two treatments can give you.

On the other hand...if you have an adolescent, broken-out skin; if you are a man who is troubled by blemishes or a "sandpaper skin" and you are sensible enough not to be ashamed to use a so-called "woman's treatment" in the privacy of your own home...or if you are a woman who has abused her complexion with improper and inadequate cosmetic preparations... then this is vital.

We promise you dramatic improvement with your first 15-minute home treatment. Your mirror will show it to you, and we promise you further rapid improvement for the next 14 days.

After 14 days, you will discover whether you have to keep using all or part of the treatment every day, once a week, or once a month, depending on how fast your complexion begins to clear.

Try This Skin Treatment In Your Own Home Without Risking A Penny!

The name of this 3-day doctor's formula is the Queen Helene Skin Treatment. It is named in honor of the nurse who worked at the doctor's side for 15 years while this formula was being developed. Your Queen Helene 3-way formula, enough for 33 home treatments, includes your scientific cleansing cream, your medicated mask cream and your medicated pore astringent. The cost is $3.98...less than 13 cents a treatment. Yes, less than 13 cents for a skin specialist's 3-way skin and beauty treatment.

Follow your daily progress in your mirror and after each treatment, if your Queen Helene treatment does not do for your skin everything we have led you to believe it will do. Miss Nancy Hair Becomes Bride Of Ensign Taugner

Miss Nancy Carolyne Hair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cornelius Hair, became the bride of Ensign Terrance Norman Taugner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joseph Taugner of Los Angeles, Cal., at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 15th, in St. Marks Episcopal Church in Crossett.

The Rt. Rev. R. Bland Mitchell, D. D., Bishop of Arkansas, performed the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. James C. Buckner, rector of St. Marks Church. The couple exchanged vows before an altar illuminated with seven-branch standing candelabra and festal lights. Twin brass vases held white chrysanthemums, and floor baskets of the same flowers stood at each end of the chancel.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. J. B. White at the organ, and Mrs. Gordon Condit, soprano, sang. Acolytes Banks Clark and John Watzek lighted the tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pearl white Dupioni silk and rose point Chantilly lace. The bateau neckline of the sculptured bodice was edged with lace medallions studded with sequins and seed pearls. A lace apron adorned the front of the voluminous skirt which swept back into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white Prayer Book with a cascade of pearl-accented gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Gray, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of green floral bow-knot print organza with green crystalette trim. She wore a matching petal wreath bandeau with a tiny veil, and carried a crescent bouquet of Fugii chrysanthemums with white net and ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ginger McDuff of DeVall's Bluff, Ark., cousin of the bride, and Miss Lynita Taugner of Los Angeles, Cal., sister of the groom. Miss Allison Mulholland was junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses identical to that of the honor attendant and carried similar bouquets with green net and ribbon. Little Karen Anne Buckner was flower girl. The green and white color scheme was further carried out in her dress which was of white nylon net with green sash. She carried a small basket-type bouquet of white chrysanthmums.

The mother of the bride wore an original dress in champagne peau de soir. The empire bodice had a hand-sewn Alencon lace top with a square neckline and tiny cap sleeves. The sheath cocktail-length skirt had a panff on the side with a floating side panel extending from the waistline. The mother of the groom wore a sheath cocktail-length dress of gray lace over pink. Both wore corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table, flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers. The cloth was of white nylon organdy over green with embroidered ruffles extending to the floor. The traditional green and white were further emphasised by the floral decorations on tables which featured green grapes, white stock, chrysanthemums and glossy-green huckleberry sprays.

After a wedding trip to the West Coast, the couple will be at home in Kodiak, Alaska, where Ensign Taugner will be stationed at the Kodiak Naval Air Base.

SKIN SPECIALIST DEMONSTRATES

By CLAIRE HOFFMAN

New York, N. Y.—A leading skin doctor today showed an audience of men, women and skin-troubled teenagers how to clean oily skin and shrink enlarged pores with a 10-minute home medical treatment he has perfected. Then he demonstrated how you may rinse away externally caused blackheads, whiteheads and dry up adolescent pimply skin eruptions.

Before our very eyes the doctor selected a 36-year-old woman with typically oily skin. This woman had blackheads around her nose, enlarged pores and whiteheads visible to the naked eye. To this woman's face the doctor applied a cream. Within moments it firmed into a plastic-like mask. Next he sprinkled her face with water, and handed her an ordinary washcloth to rinse the mask from her skin. To her utter astonishment, clinging to the washcloth were not only grimy streaks of dirt... but several blackheads which had marred her beauty for years.

As we stared at the washcloth in disbelief, the doctor's assistant turned to us and said: "You have just seen what looks like a miracle. Yet, what has just been done for this woman's skin, you can do at home just as easily. But to understand how this formula acts to help clear skin troubles you must first knock out of your head some silly notions most people have about their complexions."

The Truth About Cosmetics

Has it ever occurred to you that you lavish more care on your face than any other part of your body ...yet isn't that where you find the most pimples, blackheads, blemishes and enlarged pores? So what do you do about it?

Nine out of 10 women simply don't or won't understand that if they have oily skins, blackheads, pimples or enlarged pores, they may not only have a cosmetic problem... but a medical problem as well.

Now why is this so? Shocking as it seems, if nature gave you either a normal or oily skin, your face is always dirty! Why? Because 24 hours a day your face is always exposed to soot, smoke, factory dirt, car exhaust, coal dust, noxious fumes and other germ-laden dirt that pours into the air. It clings to the natural oils of your skin.

Your pores become choked and clogged. Your natural oils are stopped up and hardened into blackheads or pimples. They try to push out, forcing your pores to open wider and wider. Once this condition starts (especially during adolescence, when glandular disturbances make your skin extra oily) the condition usually grows worse and worse as you grow older. And when this happens...isn't it obvious that it may become impossible to correct unless you start to change your complexion care immediately?

If you want to rid your face of ugly blackheads, enlarged pores and externally caused skin eruptions, these are the three things you must do:

First you must soften the hardened dirt and oils that may have accumulated in your pore openings! Second, you must remove that dirt. (But don't squeeze it out. Squeezing only forces part of the dirt deeper into your skin.) And third, you must try to tighten your skin with shrinking and antiseptic agents, not only for beauty, but to guard you against reinfection! And unless you are prepared to do all three things, it's likely you will go on wasting your time and your money the rest of your life looking for "miracle cures!"

What Happens When You Apply This Doctor's 3-Way Formula

First to prepare your skin for treatment we are going to soften and loosen the buried dirt cemented into your pores. The scientific pore cleanser which is Part One of this famous skin doctor's treatment is unlike any other cleanser you have ever used in your life, regardless of how much you can afford to pay. And here is how you can prove it on your skin.

When you see the gray streaks of dirt that come off—even after having creamed your face with any other cleanser—then will you begin to understand why you need a drastic change in complexion care.

(2) The second part of your doctor's treatment is a medicated masque which you apply.

Apply it to your face with your fingertips as you would any cream. A little thicker around the "danger area"... namely around the nose, lips, eyes and cheeks.

The first 3 or 4 minutes you will feel a strong stimulation. This is the massaging action of the medical ingredients going to work on your skin. Your face will feel alternately hot and cold. You will like it. Your skin will feel refreshed. It is like a massage without irritation, bringing fresh, purifying blood to your face to draw off the blemish causing wastes in your pores.

After a few minutes this hot and cold action goes away and a wonderful relaxation of all your tense, over-worked facial muscles sets in. Your pulse tends to slow down and you are so relaxed you feel a great tendency to fall asleep. In another moment you will feel your skin getting tighter and tighter. What is happening is this: A wonderful medical absorbing agent doctors call ARGILLA is drying on your skin. It is turning the cream on your face into a firm, plastic-like mask. You get a pleasant, drawing feeling, a relaxing feeling, there is a corrective action, there is an astringent action and an antiseptic action. You feel the ARGILLA drawing on the blackheads. Everything it touches perspiration, pore dirt, hardened oils even blackheads and whiteheads that have resisted removal for months.

After 10 minutes rinse the mask away. Hot or cold water makes no difference. It dissolves in a second. Your skin feels clean, refreshed, sparkling, smoother! Like velvet! But wait... you haven't finished your first treatment yet!

Now Apply Step 3 of Your Treatment... The Astringent

This is not merely a perfumed alcohol that tickles your skin for a few seconds. It's medicated. It penetrates into your pore openings. Kills bacteria lurking there. And even more important, leaves an invisible germ-destroying film on your skin that kills germs for hours.

Now Look Into Your Mirror!

Some of your blackheads should be gone with the very first treatment! Look for softened pimples and whiteheads that may break or be drawn out in your next treatment or two. Look at the corners of the nose, around your mouth, your cheekbones! See how your enlarged pores have tightened! Your skin will feel alive! And you will be amazed to see minor wrinkles softened—almost ironed out! And this fresh, buoyant, youthful effect will last for hours.

Is This For Normal Skin, Too?

Certainly. Simply because this is a doctor's formula doesn't mean that you have to have a "sick skin" to use it. You may be a woman past 30 who has never had a really serious skin problem, but who suspects that your skin is not as beautiful and freshlooking as it could be... but your cosmetic creams can't give it to you. In that case... we think you'll be thrilled by the sheer, smooth, silken beauty that one or two treatments can give you.

On the other hand... if you have an adolescent, broken-out skin; if you are a man who is troubled by blemishes or a "sandpaper skin" and you are sensible enough not to be ashamed to use a so-called "woman's treatment" in the privacy of your own home... or if you are a woman who has abused her complexion with improper and inadequate cosmetic preparations... then this is vital.

We promise you dramatic improvement with your first 15-minute home treatment. Your mirror will show it to you, and we promise you further rapid improvement for the next 14 days.

After 14 days, you will discover whether you have to keep using all or part of the treatment every day, once a week, or once a month, depending on how fast your complexion begins to clear.

MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL ETHERIDGE

Miss Adams Is Married In Church Rites

WINNSBORO — Beauty and simplicity of detail characterized the wedding at which two pioneer families of Franklin parish were united. Miss Carolyn Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams of Winnsboro, and Russell Etheridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Etheridge, also of Winnsboro, were united in holy wedlock.

The Beouf River Baptist church at Liddiville, was the scene of the impressive double ring ceremony which was solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon on September 1. The Reverend Joe Silvio, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

Cathedral tapers burned in wrought iron candelabras, entwined with smilax, against a back ground of magnolia leaves, smilax, and fern interspersed with white gladioli. Tall standards filled with white gladioli were used on either side. Forming the central decor of the altar was a white Bible on a pedestal.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a gown designed with three tiers of white bordered embroideried organdy, with the bodice of plain white organdy. The scooped neckline featured a scalloped ruffle of embroidered organdy with a yoke of tulle. The bride's veil of illusion was fingertip length and was attached to a small coronet of the same material as that of the gown. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. E. A. Adams, who wore a ballerina length dress of rose colored antique taffeta and designed with a low neckline. Her headpiece was of the same material as the gown. She carried a white basket filled with daisies the same shade as her dress.

Bridesmaids for the wedding were Mrs. Jerry Williams, Miss Ann Finley, Mrs. N. G. Porter, and Mrs. Hunter Etheridge. Their dresses were similar to the one worn by the matron of honor, in pastel shades, with headdresses of the same material. They also carried baskets filled with painted daisies to match their dresses.

Candlelighters were Miss Ione Etheridge and Miss Margie Adams. Their dresses were made with long torso, featuring scalloped collars with small ruffles and made of light green antique taffeta. They wore corsages of pink rose buds.

Mrs. Etheridge, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing black tucked cotton with which she wore black and white accessories, and her flowers were white carnations.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and was centered with an arrangement of late summer flowers in a crystal compote. Crystal candleholders held the tall tiered wedding cake were placed on either side of the arrangement. The crystal punch service and the tiered widding cake were placed on either end of the table. Miss Nellie Faye Lee presided at the punch service and Mrs. J. B. Etheridge, Jr., served the wedding cake.

For traveling, the bride changed to a dress of grey nail head cotton featuring a white collar trimmed in the same material as the dress. Their weeks' wedding trip was spent at the Lake of the Ozarks, in Missouri.

The bride attended Ogden High school and was a student at Northeastern State college, Monroe, for one year.

Mr. Ethridge graduated from Winnsboro High school and will be a senior at Southwestern this term.

MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL ETHERIDGE

Miss Adams Is Married In Church Rites

WINNSBORO — Beauty and simplicity of detail characterized the wedding at which two pioneer families of Franklin parish were united. Miss Carolyn Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams of Winnsboro, and Russell Etheridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Etheridge, also of Winnsboro, were united in holy wedlock.

The Beouf River Baptist church at Liddiville, was the scene of the impressive double ring ceremony which was solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon on September 1. The Reverend Joe Silvio, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

Cathedral tapers burned in wrought iron candelabras, entwined with smilax, against a back ground of magnolia leaves, smilax, and fern interspersed with white gladioli. Tall standards filled with white gladioli were used on either side. Forming the central decor of the altar was a white Bible on a pedestal.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a gown designed with three tiers of white bordered embroideried organdy, with the bodice of plain white organdy. The scooped neckline featured a scalloped ruffle of embroidered organdy with a yoke of tulle. The bride's veil of illusion was fingertip length and was attached to a small coronet of the same material as that of the gown. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. E. A. Adams, who wore a ballerina length dress of rose colored antique taffeta and designed with a low neckline. Her headpiece was of the same material as the gown. She carried a white basket filled with daisies the same shade as her dress.

Bridesmaids for the wedding were Mrs. Jerry Williams, Miss Ann Finley, Mrs. N. G. Porter, and Mrs. Hunter Etheridge. Their dresses were similar to the one worn by the matron of honor, in pastel shades, with headdresses of the same material. They also carried baskets filled with painted daisies to match their dresses.

Candlelighters were Miss Ione Etheridge and Miss Margie Adams. Their dresses were made with long torso, featuring scalloped collars with small ruffles and made of light green antique taffeta. They wore corsages of pink rose buds.

Mrs. Etheridge, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing black tucked cotton with which she wore black and white accessories, and her flowers were white carnations.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and was centered with an arrangement of late summer flowers in a crystal compote. Crystal candleholders held the tall tiered wedding cake were placed on either side of the arrangement. The crystal punch service and the tiered widding cake were placed on either end of the table. Miss Nellie Faye Lee presided at the punch service and Mrs. J. B. Etheridge, Jr., served the wedding cake.

For traveling, the bride changed to a dress of grey nail head cotton featuring a white collar trimmed in the same material as the dress. Their weeks' wedding trip was spent at the Lake of the Ozarks, in Missouri.

The bride attended Ogden High school and was a student at Northeastern State college, Monroe, for one year.

Mr. Ethridge graduated from Winnsboro High school and will be a senior at Southwestern this term.

In an 8 o'clock ceremony Saturday at the Emmanual Baptist church, Miss Helen Cruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cruse, became the bride of Jerry Sikes, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sikes.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was wearing a model of beige embroidered satin with a white feathered hat. Her bouquet was a white orchid, surrounded by tuberoses, and mounted on a white Bible, with long white satin streamers scattered with lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Glen Cook of Bonita. Todd McDowell, of Houston, Tex., brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Stell chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue crepe dress. Mrs. McDowell, the groom's mother, was attired in a black crepe. Both wore corsages of miniature white chrysanthemums.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's table was overlaid with an imported cut - worked linen cloth. Centering the table was a tiered wedding cake, embossed with wedding emblems and mounted with a miniature bride and groom. Crystal holders with white tapers were on either side. Pink punch filled the crystal punch bowl and was served by Mrs. William W. McCready of Bastrop.

Miss Ann Reeves of Bonita presided at the bride's book.

Mr. and Mrs. McDowell departed immediately for a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark. Upon return, they will make their home in Monroe, where Mr. McDowell is a junior at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Kitchen Arithmetic: You'll need a tablespoon of mayonnaise, a half teaspoon of vinegar, a quarter teaspoon prepared mustard, an eighth teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper for one stuffed egg. Just mash the hard - cooked egg yolk with the seasonings and then pile back into the egg white. Flute with fork tines and sprinkle with paprika.

News From The Public Library

For the past several weeks I have been so busy with the expansion plans of the Library that I have not had time to tell our patrons about the new books that have been added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. However, the fall publishing season is now getting into full swing and we will have many more new books. Added this week were a number of interesting books of fiction. Some will appeal to one person and some to another. However, there is a book here for every reader and I am sure you will find the one you want.

"The Rival Shores" is the title of a new book by A. R. Beverly-Giddings. This is an unusual historical novel set in the lovely tidewater section of Maryland in the days just prior to the American Revolution. It is a story of the conflict between the Loyalists and the Separatists set in the lovely town of Princess Anne. There is a fascinating love story and a great deal of intrigue. Another historical novel is "Roll Shenandoah" by Bruce Lancaster. This is the story of the battles in the Shenandoah valley which had so much to do with the final outcome of the Civil War. It portrays the interesting and dashing figures on both dies of the struggle and gives us a picture of a beautiful woman who played an important part in the background of the picture. Those who like to read Civil War novels will certainly want to read this one.

Angela Thirkell is an English novelist who has a wide and devoted audience. She has written a number of very interesting stories about the imaginary Parish of Barsetshire in England. Her latest one is called "Never Too Late" and brings us again many of our favorite characters with some new ones to add spice and interest.

Those of us who read and enjoyed Pearl Buck's latest novel "The Imperial Woman" are happy to have another story dealing with the same period. It is called "The Fabulous Concubine" and was written by a Chinese writer, Chang Hsin-hai. This is the story of another woman who had quite an influence on China at the turn of the century. It covers the period between 1895 and 1904 and gives us a fascinating picture of diplomatic life at that period. "The Trembling Hills" by Phyllis A. Whitney is a romantic novel of San Francisco at the time of the great fire and earthquake of 1906. It is the gripping story of a young woman caught in the tentacles of an imposed will and is filled with currents of terror and suspense.

"Mamba" by Stuart Cloete is another of the books written by a famous author who knows Africa as well as the palm of his hand. It is an intense and violent novel with its setting in the black heart of the Congo. It is a story of strong loves and hates and it is a fascinating account of white people caught up in a foreign way of life.

A very popular team who write mystery stories is made up of Frances and Richard Lockridge. Their latest story is called "The Faceless Adversary". It is the story of a man accused of a crime he didn't commit and who had to prove he did not do it. From the first page this is a book that holds your interest. Don't miss this if you like a good mystery. A fascinating story for teenagers is "Fireball" by Harlow Meyers. It has its setting on a Dude Ranch in Idaho. It is a story for all horse lovers to read and enjoy.

Novels with a contemporary setting are always popular and we have three new ones this week. "The Sleeping Partner" by Winston Graham is the story of a modern London businessman who discovered too late that his preoccupation with business had cost him his wife. "The Loving Couple" by Virginia Roawns is a most unusual book. In reality it is two books. One her story and the other his story. Together they give an account of a marriage that could not survive the strain of suburban living. This is a book for young moderns. Nella Gardner White who has written a number of fine books has produced a new one called "A Little More Than Kin". It is the story of twin brothers and the woman they both loved. It is a story with a tragic ending and one that provides food for thought.

Watch this column each Sunday for news of other books at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. It is time to start your fallreading, visit one of the branches as soon as possible.

The first meeting was held Tuesday with Fred Fudickar, Jr., local attorney, speaking on "Spotlight on the Louisiana Constitutional Convention." Mr. Fudickar has served as district attorney and has spoken to Delta Rho Delta sorority twice previously.

October 8 date has been accepted by Wayne H. Huckaby, local commissioner of streets and parks. He is to show color slides and talk on "Four Seasons of Picturesque Monroe." Mr. Huckaby has compiled his slides from many pictures made over a period of years which depict the beauty of Monroe.

On November 12, Mrs. Eugene Scott will demonstrate "Holiday Flower Arrangements." Mrs. Scott, a local florist, is an active civic and church woman.

Mrs. C. Roger Johnson will give the traditional Christmas story on December 10. Mrs. Johnson, the wife of Rev. C. Roger Johnson of Central Baptist Church, herself an accomplished musician, will present the Christmas story with the assistance of felt scenes.

On January 14 "Woman Power in the Modern World" will be discussed by Mrs. Madelyn C. Hildreth of Shreveport who came to the south from Rochester, New York, in which state she was a popular platform speaker. She is associated with a plant in Shreveport and has previously worked in war plants as a counselor. She specializes in psychology and personnel management.

Howard Lance, a well known local interior decorator, will fill the date of February 11 with a talk entitled "Your Home Reflects Your Personality."

On March 11, Dr. Medford Evans with the faculty of Northwestern State College, Natchitoches, will be guest speaker. Dr. Evans is a former resident of Dallas, where he was editor of Facts Forum and coordinator of Facts Forum programs. He has been a member of the atomic energy commission and is the author of several books and many magazine articles on this timely subject. His talk is titled, "Demagogues in Our Midst."

On April 8, Dr. Edward M. Foster, prominent West Monroe physician, will speak on, "Revival of an Ancient Art — Hypnotism." He plans to bring two other doctors with him to form a panel type of discussion and to answer questions.

On May 13, Prof. E. E. Dale from the University of Houston, Houston, Tex., will be a guest. Prof. Dale is presently with the history department of the University of Oklahoma where he was once acting dean, but is slated to return to Houston the first of the year. He has taught at the University of Texas, College of William and Mary, Ohio State University and the Universities of Nebraska, Missouri, and Michigan. Over the years Prof. Dale has written many books and articles on the pioneers of the southwest. He has also traveled extensively and his talk on "An American in Australia" is based on his frequent and long sojourns in that country.

The series will close on June 10 with a book review by Mrs. F. H. Peterson, a local nurse, whose many hobbies include reading and reviewing timely books.

Worthy patrons of Sigma chapter are Judge David I. Garrett and Atty. Carl H. McHenry. Mrs. Ida Metcalf of West Monroe is an honorary counselor and Mrs. Lena W. Hinton is serving as the membership director.

Miss Mary Louise Farr is Louisiana state secretary and the honorary chapter founder is Mrs. LeVerne Riddle.

Honorary members are Mesdames A. D. Tisdale, Lewis C. Slator, James A. Noe, and J. R. White.

The lectures are held each second Monday, ordinarily, at the Virginia Hotel from 8 until 9 p. m. There are also monthly business meetings and socials.

The chapter's service activities include a scholarship loan fund at Northeast State College, which allows young women of merit to borrow funds to cover enrollment fees, repaying the loan upon securing employment and as finances will allow; a revolving loan fund at Northeast State allowing small short term loans to young women to meet temporary financial crises; and the "Puppets," the proceeds from shows paying outstanding bills for crippled children, as well as providing entertainment for young and old.

The annual convention will be held in San Antonio, Texas, this year, November 16-18, with Theta chapter there as hostess. Headquarters will be at the New Hilton Hotel, formerly the Plaza Hotel. Around 300 are expected to attend from Monroe and Shreveport, the two chapters each from Fort Worth and Houston, Dallas, Beaumont, San Antonio, and Oklahoma City, and Tulsa.

Ouachita HDC Plan For Fair

Have you seen the new Ouachita Valley Fair 1956 catalog? It's truly modern. It is only two pages. Each exhibitor will simply put her name and address and a check mark by the articles she expects to exhibit. This is your entry sheet. Do not write anything in lines on back of card. This space is to be used by fair secretary. One card catalog is for adult exhibitors; another for juniors. Adults may get catalogs from my office, juniors may get other from Mrs. Dawson and Mr. Mophett. (The agents cannot mail these). Fair dates are October 8-13, so get your catalog, read it carefully and follow rules as to when to enter products.

Council Doings

Plans For Fair — The Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council had a most enthusiastic meeting to be sure everything would be in readiness for the fair opening. Members from twenty-two of the twenty-three Home Demonstration clubs were present. Twenty-two clubs will put up an educational booth, also, each club will assist in operating the concession booth. Following is the schedule, as worked out by clubs: Saturday, Liberty; Monday - Okaloosa, Better Homemaker; Tuesday - Progressive, Claiborne, Bosco; Wednesday - Swartz, Logtown, McGuire, Lamkin; Thursday - Cheniere, Drew, Colony, McClendon; Friday - Thrifty Homemaker, Watson, Woodlawn, Lakeview; Saturday - Cypress, Eureka, Cadeville, Sterlington.

The Fair Concession Chairman, Mrs. E. W. Earl, Colony Club, reported the concession would be screened and in readiness Saturday, October 6th. The fair to the Home Demonstration members is like a home coming — a place to see old friends and meet new ones. They're happily looking forward to it.

Officers Elected

The Council elected the following officers to serve for the next two years. Mrs. J. G. Haynes, Sr., Watson Club, was elected vice-president; Mrs. Pete Holcomb, Lenwil Club, recording secretary, and Mrs. E. W. Earl, Treasurer. These officers will be installed at the November Council meeting and will take over their duties in January. Mrs. E. W. Granberry, who has been serving as president-elect for the past year, will at this same time be installed as president for two years.

Mrs. Fred Riser, president, will become the historian for two years.

Council President Will Attend National Meeting

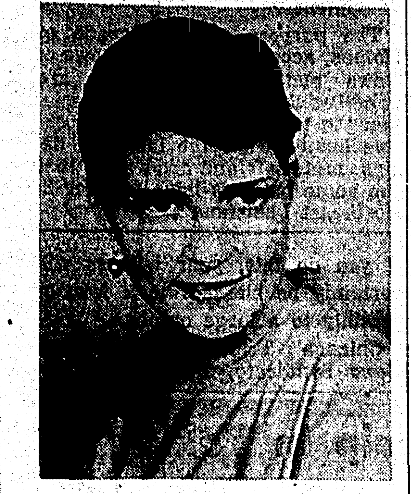
Although there was much business to attend to, the Council has a splendid demonstration given on "Fall Fashions and Fabrics" by Miss Marie Williamson, who displayed swatches of many new fabrics giving fibers content and names. Among these were cotton and blends of many fibers. Some with body and some which drape well. For sheath dress material with body should be used. She, also, had an exhibit of garments she had styled of these fall fabrics. Colors listed as most in demand this season she stated are: Electric blue, rose and brown.

The cotton Festival for North Louisiana will be September 25-26. A list of exhibits and premiums may be secured from my secretary, Mrs. Fite, at the Agriculture Building. These cannot be mailed, so please call for them.

Removing Grease Stains From New Fabrics

Care of new fabrics is important. There are suggestions on removing grease stains. Removing greasy stains successfully from washable fabrics with special finishes calls for extra time and care. Tests with cottons, rayons and linens finished for crease resistance, crispness and sheen, or decorative effects show that grease spots are more stubborn than on unfinished fabrics. One way to remove such spots is to work soap or a liquid dishwashing detergent thoroughly into the stain, and then rinse it out with hot water. Repeat this treatment if necessary before the garment goes into the regular wash. Another way is to sponge the spot well with ordinary cleaning fluid and let the fluid evaporate before laundering. This treatment also may need repeating.

BMI GRADUATE



Irene Newton

Miss Newton, a graduate of Winnsboro High School, class of 1955, was graduated from the General Business Course at Bish Mathis Institute on September 6, 1956. She attended school regularly and made a very dependable and cooperative student. She is one of the latest employees to join the staff of the Southern Bell Telephone Company as secretary. We feel that she will have no difficulty in serving her employer to the highest degree.

Miss Newton says: "I like my job very much as secretary with the Telephone Company and do not believe I could have found a friendlier group anywhere to work with. I know that I would not have attained the position I now have if it had not been for the training I received at B M I."

Girl Scout News

With new troops being organized and old ones reorganized, it's good to hear of troops that start right off when school starts, pick up right where they left off in the spring. Troops 58 and 60 come under the latter heading, both third grade troops made up of girls who attend Sherrouse School. Troop 60, Mrs. C. C. Walters, leader, has had two meetings already, the first devoted to catching up on what had transpired during the summer and particularly on what each had been doing to be a good Brownie, the second to a nature hike. Several girls in this troop went to day camp last July and are ready to share the skills they acquired there.

Troop 58, Mrs. D. T. DeMasterson, leader also held its first meeting out of doors. The girls went for a short hike to collect leaves, grasses, flowers. Returning to their meeting place, they learned to make blueprints, turning out some very attractive prints, their leader says.

The fly-ups, as girls who've just come up from the Brownie ranks are called, of Troop 41, are lucky girls. For almost their very first activity they are going on an overnight to Pine Wood with leaders Mrs. Cyril Yancey and Mrs. Richard Pierce. Of course, their meetings now are filed with planning for the trip, which will afford a good opportunity to fulfill some of the Second Class requirements.

Troop 64 and 65 of Farmerville have a date on the Calendar for an overnight soon. The girls of Troop 65, now Senior Scouts, have had troop and established camp experience which they can share with the younger girls of Troop 64. Mrs. W. A. Downs, Mrs. Jack Scott, Mrs. Lyle Gresham and Mrs. J. T. Spencer will accompany the troop. Mrs. J. S. Wachowski, troop camp chairman for the council suggests going to camp for the day or longer as a good way to start the fall program in any troop.

New troops have been asked for in many parts of the Twin Cities, with organization meetings scheduled for Mitchell School, St. Matthews, Our Lady of Fatima, and probably others this week. A training course for new leaders will start at the office, 513 Breard, Wednesday morning at 9:30. Recruit at least one person to come. There's no obligation, but we'll do our best to expose her to Scouting.

We are happy that this community of ours is supporting the plan for United Givers. Girl Scouts believe in united giving as the most practical method of raising money for essential community services. The experience of recent years with multiple fund drives should prove to all of us the need to support this plan. Girl Scouting in Ouachita Parish will be a member of United Givers. The Girl Scout family will work for and give to the fund for united giving.

Mrs. Reese Talks To Mangham Literary Club

At their meeting of September 11, the Mangham Literary club voted to prepare a chicken spaghetti supper the night of Mangham's homecoming game, October 19. The proceeds of last year's dinner benefitted the local Teen Club. After routine business was handled, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Frellsen Reese, who spoke on her experiences in Japan.

Mrs. Reese, nee Margie Wooten, is the daughter of the late Dr. M. W. Wooten and Mrs. Maud Wooten of Mangham. She is a grgaduate of Mangham High school, and attended both L. S. U. and Louisiana Tech. She is the wife of Lt. Col. Frellsen Reese, recently returned from a two - year tour of duty with the Army Corps of Engineers at Camp Zama, on the Japanese island of Honshu. They plan to move to Washington, D. C., with their sons, Marshall, 14, and Robert, 7, on a new assignment.

After Mrs. Reese had answered a number of questions, the hostesses, Mrs. John F. Boughton and Mr. O. E. DeVille, served refreshments to Mesdames R. L. Bell, Jr., Reese Boles, Manning Boughton, R. B. Boughton, Miss Ola Cooper, Mesdames C. E. Henkel, Theo Jones, L. Lyles, K. E. McDonald, Mabel Nash, Frellsen Reese and H. O. Welch.

The Pilot Club

The Monroe Pilot Club held its regular monthly program meeting at the Frances Hotel on Tuesday night, September 18, 1956, with 20 members present.

The following guests were also present, Dr. Christine P'Simer, dean of women at Northeast State, Miss Alice Woods, Miss Ruth Carter, and Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Miss Woods, who was sponsored to Pelican Girls State this year by the Pilot Club, gave a very interesting talk on how this experience helped her in her work at school this year.

Sheriff Grant, the guest speaker, gave a splendid talk on the work of the law enforcement officers in the parish and city.

Father Honored On Birthday

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Odom of Baskin, formerly of Flora, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Myrick, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Horne and son of Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. Lillie Eckles, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ouachita HDC Plan For Fair

Have you seen the new Ouachita Valley Fair 1956 catalog? It's truly modern. It is only two pages. Each exhibitor will simply put her name and address and a check mark by the articles she expects to exhibit. This is your entry sheet. Do not write anything in lines on back of card. This space is to be used by fair secretary. One card catalog is for adult exhibitors; another for juniors. Adults may get catalogs from my office, juniors may get other from Mrs. Dawson and Mr. Mophett. (The agents cannot mail these). Fair dates are October 8-13, so get your catalog, read it carefully and follow rules as to when to enter products.

Council Doings

Plans For Fair — The Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council had a most enthusiastic meeting to be sure everything would be in readiness for the fair opening. Members from twenty-two of the twenty-three Home Demonstration clubs were present. Twenty-two clubs will put up an educational booth, also, each club will assist in operating the concession booth. Following is the schedule, as worked out by clubs: Saturday, Liberty; Monday - Okaloosa, Better Homemaker; Tuesday - Progressive, Claiborne, Bosco; Wednesday - Swartz, Logtown, McGuire, Lamkin; Thursday - Cheniere, Drew, Colony, McClendon; Friday - Thrifty Homemaker, Watson, Woodlawn, Lakeview; Saturday - Cypress, Eureka, Cadeville, Sterlington.

The Fair Concession Chairman, Mrs. E. W. Earl, Colony Club, reported the concession would be screened and in readiness Saturday, October 6th. The fair to the Home Demonstration members is like a home coming — a place to see old friends and meet new ones. They're happily looking forward to it.

Officers Elected

The Council elected the following officers to serve for the next two years. Mrs. J. G. Haynes, Sr., Watson Club, was elected vice-president; Mrs. Pete Holcomb, Lenwil Club, recording secretary, and Mrs. E. W. Earl, Treasurer. These officers will be installed at the November Council meeting and will take over their duties in January. Mrs. E. W. Granberry, who has been serving as president-elect for the past year, will at this same time be installed as president for two years.

Mrs. Fred Riser, president, will become the historian for two years.

Council President Will Attend National Meeting

Although there was much business to attend to, the Council has a splendid demonstration given on "Fall Fashions and Fabrics" by Miss Marie Williamson, who displayed swatches of many new fabrics giving fibers content and names. Among these were cotton and blends of many fibers. Some with body and some which drape well. For sheath dress material with body should be used. She, also, had an exhibit of garments she had styled of these fall fabrics. Colors listed as most in demand this season she stated are: Electric blue, rose and brown.

The cotton Festival for North Louisiana will be September 25-26. A list of exhibits and premiums may be secured from my secretary, Mrs. Fite, at the Agriculture Building. These cannot be mailed, so please call for them.

Removing Grease Stains From New Fabrics

Care of new fabrics is important. There are suggestions on removing grease stains. Removing greasy stains successfully from washable fabrics with special finishes calls for extra time and care. Tests with cottons, rayons and linens finished for crease resistance, crispness and sheen, or decorative effects show that grease spots are more stubborn than on unfinished fabrics. One way to remove such spots is to work soap or a liquid dishwashing detergent thoroughly into the stain, and then rinse it out with hot water. Repeat this treatment if necessary before the garment goes into the regular wash. Another way is to sponge the spot well with ordinary cleaning fluid and let the fluid evaporate before laundering. This treatment also may need repeating.

BMI GRADUATE

Irene Newton

Miss Newton, a graduate of Winnsboro High School, class of 1955, was graduated from the General Business Course at Bish Mathis Institute on September 6, 1956. She attended school regularly and made a very dependable and cooperative student. She is one of the latest employees to join the staff of the Southern Bell Telephone Company as secretary. We feel that she will have no difficulty in serving her employer to the highest degree.

Miss Newton says: "I like my job very much as secretary with the Telephone Company and do not believe I could have found a friendlier group anywhere to work with. I know that I would not have attained the position I now have if it had not been for the training I received at B M I." —Adv.

Girl Scout News

With new troops being organized and old ones reorganized, it's good to hear of troops that start right off when school starts, pick up right where they left off in the spring. Troops 58 and 60 come under the latter heading, both third grade troops made up of girls who attend Sherrouse School. Troop 60, Mrs. C. C. Walters, leader, has had two meetings already, the first devoted to catching up on what had transpired during the summer and particularly on what each had been doing to be a good Brownie, the second to a nature hike. Several girls in this troop went to day camp last July and are ready to share the skills they acquired there.

Troop 58, Mrs. D. T. DeMasterson, leader also held its first meeting out of doors. The girls went for a short hike to collect leaves, grasses, flowers. Returning to their meeting place, they learned to make blueprints, turning out some very attractive prints, their leader says.

The fly-ups, as girls who've just come up from the Brownie ranks are called, of Troop 41, are lucky girls. For almost their very first activity they are going on an overnight to Pine Wood with leaders Mrs. Cyril Yancey and Mrs. Richard Pierce. Of course, their meetings now are filed with planning for the trip, which will afford a good opportunity to fulfill some of the Second Class requirements.

Troop 64 and 65 of Farmerville have a date on the Calendar for an overnight soon. The girls of Troop 65, now Senior Scouts, have had troop and established camp experience which they can share with the younger girls of Troop 64. Mrs. W. A. Downs, Mrs. Jack Scott, Mrs. Lyle Gresham and Mrs. J. T. Spencer will accompany the troop. Mrs. J. S. Wachowski, troop camp chairman for the council suggests going to camp for the day or longer as a good way to start the fall program in any troop.

New troops have been asked for in many parts of the Twin Cities, with organization meetings scheduled for Mitchell School, St. Matthews, Our Lady of Fatima, and probably others this week. A training course for new leaders will start at the office, 513 Breard, Wednesday morning at 9:30. Recruit at least one person to come. There's no obligation, but we'll do our best to expose her to Scouting.

We are happy that this community of ours is supporting the plan for United Givers. Girl Scouts believe in united giving as the most practical method of raising money for essential community services. The experience of recent years with multiple fund drives should prove to all of us the need to support this plan. Girl Scouting in Ouachita Parish will be a member of United Givers. The Girl Scout family will work for and give to the fund for united giving.

Mrs. Reese Talks To Mangham Literary Club

At their meeting of September 11, the Mangham Literary club voted to prepare a chicken spaghetti supper the night of Mangham's homecoming game, October 19. The proceeds of last year's dinner benefitted the local Teen Club. After routine business was handled, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Frellsen Reese, who spoke on her experiences in Japan.

Mrs. Reese, nee Margie Wooten, is the daughter of the late Dr. M. W. Wooten and Mrs. Maud Wooten of Mangham. She is a grgaduate of Mangham High school, and attended both L. S. U. and Louisiana Tech. She is the wife of Lt. Col. Frellsen Reese, recently returned from a two - year tour of duty with the Army Corps of Engineers at Camp Zama, on the Japanese island of Honshu. They plan to move to Washington, D. C., with their sons, Marshall, 14, and Robert, 7, on a new assignment.

After Mrs. Reese had answered a number of questions, the hostesses, Mrs. John F. Boughton and Mr. O. E. DeVille, served refreshments to Mesdames R. L. Bell, Jr., Reese Boies, Manning Boughton, R. B. Boughton, Miss Ola Cooper, Mesdames C. E. Henkel, Theo Jones, L. Lyles, K. E. McDonald, Mabel Nash, Frellsen Reese and H. O. Welch.

Different Types Of Shade Trees

For a real treat, drive by 315 North Fifth street (late in afternoon) and see the moon vine in bloom. When I talked to Mrs. Edney today she said there were twenty blooms last night and close to a hundred buds. The blossoms open in late afternoon, so the vine is ideal for planting close to the patio where you eat at night. For extra measure, the aroma is enchanting. Mrs. Edney has also used the moon vine for a ground cover for forcing out weeds and grass. It's lovely running all over a slope or terrace, too.

Now is the time to decide on the type shade trees you want to plant. You'll set these out in December, January or February, our three planting months, but now is the time to make your selection. After the leaves fall many trees look so much alike.

One of our deciduous trees that is showy with or without foliage is the sycamore. The trunks are grayish white. The leaves are large, giving a variety of foliage.

The pecan makes a beautifully shaped tree, giving you nuts at the same time. I have found it a fast growing plant, too, because we kept our mulched and fertilized.

The cypress is a lacy, fine-textured tree, but you'll need a low, damp area for this. The sweet gum is a fast - growing tree and gives you such gorgeous foliage at this time of year.

Tulip trees give you coarse foliage and heavenly chartreuse colored blossoms in early spring. The pin oak is slower growing, the leaves are small and make wonderful mulch. Gingko is slower growing and is a ball of yellow in the fall.

Live oaks grow so very large that they completely overpower the small garden. Pines and Louisiana magnolias make wonderful windbreaks. Plant any shade tree where you need it for shade and remember to keep away from light and telephone wires.

Garden Jobs

If you need some garden jobs to do these cooler days, soak the daisies well and transplant them.

Some gardeners have asked about pruning evergreens now, such as ligustrum, photinia and pittosporum. If you prune now, you'll have to look at the "straggly" bush all winter. Unless the shrubs are obstructing an entrance or walk, why not wait until next February? Then the plants will put out in March and you'll have their beauty to enjoy all winter.

Christmas week is an excellent time to prune holly, youpons and pyracanthas. Just cut branches of berries for your house, your church, school or your friends.

October is one of the most successful months to root verbena. Just put the cuttings in the bed where you plan to leave them and keep wet. Mulch the bed well. The verbena will run on top of the mulch and you'll not have the grass problem.

Lowly little sweet alyssum is blooming now, and will bloom until it freezes. These little seed can be planted any month of the year.

Men's Styles

According to the chairman of the Custom Tailors' Guild of America, the Italian look is manifested in men's suits and overcoats, shirts, ties, shoes and hats. The vogue is for shorter jackets with narrow peaked lapels, narrower shoulders, higher waistlines and tapered sleeves. Trousers will be narrower and tapered this season. You men may storm at this news, but really you're just as fashion conscious as your wife. Just wait — you'll be out soon in a paisley shirt. Paisley is showing up in just about everything in men's wear —pajamas, robes, sport shirts, neckties, underwear and scarfs.

Just Talking

The latest development of an old idea is a meal in a match box, yes, a tasty meal of chopped beef, mashed potatoes and yellow turnips, preceded by soup and followed by apple puree, can be carried around in a match box in dried form. These foods can be reconstituted and made extremely palatable by the mere addition of hot water. This process of dehydration is claimed to be far more efficient and productive of much better flavor as well as more attractive in appearance than anything heretofore achieved in this field.

Food News

It's back to the sea for everyone as America celebrates National Canned Tuna Week from September 13 through the 22nd. Supplies of this seafood favorite are very plentiful and prices are now at the lowest level in the past few years. There's been excellent tuna fishing this past spring and summer.

Canned tuna in oil is easy, quick and good eating at a low, low cost. Tuna is tops as a protein-rich food that adds protein, vitamins A and B, calcium and iron. This is easy to prepare and can be purchased as fancy or solid pack, chunk style, flakes or grated. Solid or chunk styles are packed as "white" or "light" meat. The white meat chunk style is your highest price pack, your dark flake or grated your cheapest.

Get out the tuna recipes and use this fish as a meat substitute while the prices are low. Here are two recipes we believe you'll like:

Tuna Chowder

Serves 4

Dash of pepper.
1 cup milk or cream.

Stir in flour blended with 2 tablespoons water, thyme and pepper.

Heat, but do not boil.

Serve hot, garnished with parsley or paprika.

Sunday Night Special
Barbecued Tuna Burgers

2 tablespoons vinegar.

Current supplies of fish sticks are ample in this area. They're easy to prepare and always look so appetizing. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has set up grade standards for these sticks. The Grade A are those of highest quality. They're practically free from defects such as bones, broken sticks damaged sticks and free from blemishes. Any fish sticks less than this quality are placed in the Grade B class.

October food shoppers will have a wide choice of protein foods for main dishes. There is still an abundance of broilers, fryers, turkeys, pork, beef, eggs and chickens.

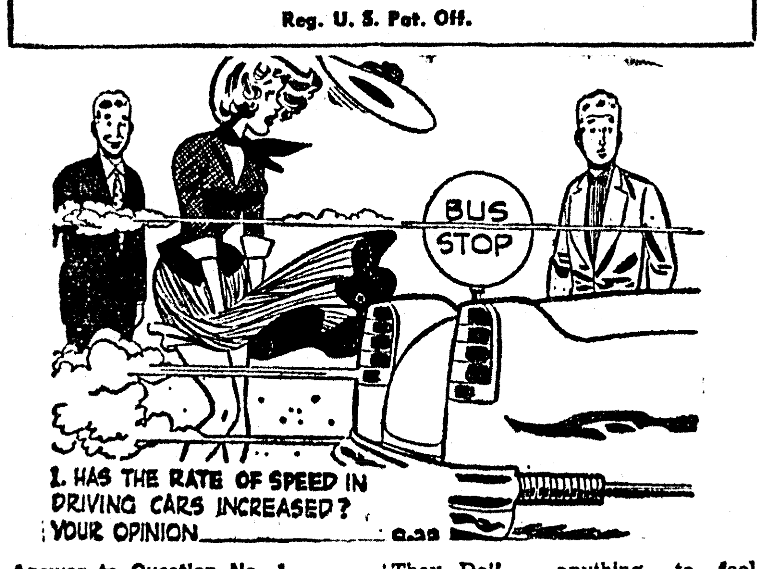
LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



1. HAS THE RATE OF SPEED IN DRIVING CARS INCREASED?
YOUR OPINION__________

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, according to the Bureau of Public Roads, Americans drove faster in 1955 than ever before. In a survey made in 33 states the average speed of 397,303 observed motor vehicles was 50 m.p.h. Officials said the rising national average speed is a continuing phenomenon as highways get better and automobiles, trucks, and buses improve. In 1947, average speed for all types vehicles was 46 m.p.h. Last year average for passenger cars was 52; trucks, 45; and buses, 52 m.p.h. Fifty-seven per cent of passenger cars went faster than 50 m.p.h., and 18 per cent more than 60. Slow down — live — and let live!

Is there a way to overcome the opposition to "child psychology"?

Yes —— No ——

2. Yes, call it something else, such as "Why Kids Behave As They Do" — anything, to fool them into accepting it, because heaven knows, all parents need it. I lectured for 6 years on medical and dental inspection in the schools, when the idea was new. I called my lecture "Dollars and Sense." I also lectured twenty years on heredity and eugenics. But if I had called it that, not even ten people would have come to hear me. So, I called it "Climbing Your Family Tree" and often had audiences of 10,000.

"I hope he doesn't ask . . ."

Do you feel this way about explaining sex to your child? If so, you need the Public Affairs non-profit booklet, "How To Tell Your Child About Sex." Send 25c (coin only) and your name and address to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, Public Affairs Committee, in care of your newspaper.

Can you determine how many calories you need for good health?

Your opinion ——

The result of a study made of college girls showed if you eat 29 calories per inch of your height, this is probably an adequate diet. In the study, of 61 girls, 40 maintained weight on about 2,000 calories a day. This is below the 2,400 set by the National Research Council for group 16-20 and the 2,300 for 25-year-old women. Average of the 61 college girls was 19.6 per inch of weight. This study seems to support the suggestion of other scientists that body-fuel needs and food should be revaluated in the light of labor-saving devices, shorter working hours, and more leisure time.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Kitchen Items Used As Vase For Flower Designs

"Containers from the Kitchen" were featured in the one man show by John A. Wright of Louisiana Tech at the Garden Center this week. Mr. Wright designed and discussed the arrangements on television on Wednesday and they were on display at the Garden Center from Wednesday through Saturday. There are many household items that are not primarily designed to hold flowers that can be effectively used as "containers for arrangements" in today's contemporary living. Some of them are, pitchers, teapots, inkwells, gravy boats, as well as many others.

Mr. Wright's first design was triangular in form. A cup type holder was placed in the beautiful mahogany nut bowl which was employed in this instance as a container. The triangular lines were formed with branches of clipped pine. Snow on the mountain was used as a filler, and double pink altheas as a center of interest. Staged against a pink background this design was most appealing.

A black iron dutch oven was used for the second arrangement. Bold foliage of the loquat was arranged in a triangular pattern, with the buds and blooms of the red spider lily massed in the foreground. The combination of testures and colors most striking. This was staged against a chartreuse background.

A glass casserole set in a black wrought iron holder was chosen for the next design. A line mass design was created with Snow on the Mountain. Zinnias in bright colors were massed within the line pattern which flowed over the rim of the container in a graceful manner. Unusual handling of commonplace material gave this arrangement a lot of personality.

One of the most arresting designs was a vertical. The container was an individual casserole in blue-green pottery. This was set on a small round bread tray of woven straw. The vertical line was established with a stalk of green castor bean pods. Red spider lilies followed the vertical line. A few leaves of gardenia were tucked in low to add depth. Simplicity itself but most effective.

A beautiful blue and white frying pan of Dutch Ware was used for the next arrangement which was horizontal in design. Ginger lily foliage was placed in a flat pattern following the lines of the wooden handle. Red spider lilies and buds were used to enhance the horizontal line. Very decorative. We are taught that the horizontal line induces a feeling of slow or reserved motion, giving a sense of tranquility.

Here is the most exciting announcement of the week. Mrs. W. M. Harper, second grade teacher at Plum Street School announces that the Second Grade Students, will stage a flower show on Tuesday September 25 at the school. The time is 1:30 p.m. and the admission is five cents (5c). All the second grade students have formed a garden club within their class and are most interested in growing flowers and arranging them at school and at home. The admission charge will be used to purchase containers and needlepoint holders for the class to use. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Announcement has just been received from Mrs. Jo Evans, Director of Region 13, that the Regional meeting of the American Hemerocallis Society will be held in Alexandria-Pineville area next year. Mrs. John Kerper, Route 1, Pineville, is chairman of guest plants. If you are interested in having some of your own day lilies on display in the garden during the meeting, mail the plants to Mrs. Kerper. They will have the best culture possible and you will get them back as soon as the meeting is over. Having the day lilies on display in a garden at the Regional meeting lots more of the judges see them and evaluate them.

Ground Covers For Garden Beauty

Nothing adds more to a garden than ground covers, and evergreen ones are a delight to the eye as well as time and labor savers. During winter, different shades of green provided by the many kinds of ivy and by periwinkle, ophiopogons and liriopes give a rich permanent appearance to any planting, large or small.

Ground covers will, of course, not grow any till spring if we plant them now, but the greenery can be enjoyed this whole winter through, and the plants will take off and grow faster when they have had the whole season in which to make roots. Even if you plant your ground cover in little patches, the whole effect is pleasing.

You will not want a very large-leaved ground cover for small spaces only a few feet wide and long. The less rampant, finer eaved plants like the liriopes and ophiopogons are best for places. Periwinkle is all right if it will not bother you by running over onto a walk. Pachysandra is beautiful where you can see it close at hand. It does not run about, either to any extent. Pacrysandra will not last in hot dry places even in the shade, and it needs to be kept fed. It is a member of the Box Family, like boxwood is, and has little greenish heads of flowers that resemble ivy flowers. Ivy, too, is a member of this same plant family.

For very large areas ten and twenty feet and more across, some of the large leaved ivies are very handsome. If the space is big enough, even the huge heart shaped leaves of the "Canary Ivy" are handsome to look at. An occasional specimen of the variegated form of the marvelous evergreen will be as beautiful as any flowers during the winter months. You will probably wish to cut pieces of the fancier ivies for the house, to be sure to plant them where they can be got at without getting your feet wet in winter rains.

There are many delicate little fancy leaved ivies in gardens here and there. They are very lovely to plant near a path or on a log or wall for winter beauty. Variegated periwinkle of tall kinds is a beautiful plant, too, and so is the variegated ophiopogon we see sold in plant stands with house plants sometimes. The most elegant of all the golden leaved plants, however, is the spotted leaved farfugium, sometimes called "gold dust plant" (not aucuba, however). One seldom sees this plant grown out of doors because we Southerns do not realize that it is perfectly hardy through our winters. There are even some pinkish and some silvery spotted types of this far-fugium in house plant catalogues, and they are hardy, too.

MY ANSWER

by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I am a Christian, a trained office machine worker, and have a good job. My problem is that all day long I hear talk about things which are either suggestive or downright vulgar What should I do? L. P.

ANSWER: The easy way out, except for losing your job, is to quit. But, the easy way is not always the right way. I can advise you but you should do nothing until you have acted on this advice. Make this a matter of definite prayer. God knows the siuation and He loves all of those people who are now indulging in vulgar talk. Tell Him you are willing to do whatever He leads you to do, then ask Him to show you what it is. It may be that God will give you the wisdom to talk to these people, not in a prudish way but by saying there are so many good and lovely things to talk about and by helping you to change the general habits of conversation in the office. Let those around you realize that their talk distresses you but be sure you do this with both tact and patience. I know of instances where this very thing has transformed an entire office. Once it happened in a shop where one Christian man was used to change the entire atmosphere of the place. As a Christian, remember that you are both light and salt. Let your lifght shine and be sure that your life gives forth the savor of salt which is good. If you do this, your witness will certainly be blessed: to a few, or possibly to a large number.

Different Types Of Shade Trees

For a real treat, drive by 315 North Fifth street (late in afternoon) and see the moon vine in bloom. When I talked to Mrs. Edney today she said there were twenty blooms last night and close to a hundred buds. The blossoms open in late afternoon, so the vine is ideal for planting close to the patio where you eat at night. For extra measure, the aroma is enchanting. Mrs. Edney has also used the moon vine for a ground cover for forcing out weeds and grass. It's lovely running all over a slope or terrace, too.

Now is the time to decide on the type shade trees you want to plant. You'll set these out in December, January or February, our three planting months, but now is the time to make your selection. After the leaves fall many trees look so much alike.

One of our deciduous trees that is showy with or without folliage is the sycamore. The trunks are grayish white. The leaves are large, giving a variety of foliage.

The pecan makes a beautifully shaped tree, giving you nuts at the same time. I have found it a fast growing plant, too, because we kept our mulched and fertilized.

The cypress is a lacy, fine-textured tree, but you'll need a low, damp area for this. The sweet gum is a fast - growing tree and gives you such gorgeous foliage at this time of year.

Tulip trees give you coarse foliage and heavenly chartreuse colored blossoms in early spring. The pin oak is slower growing, the leaves are small and make wonderful mulch. Gingko is slower growing and is a ball of yellow in the fall.

Live oaks grow so very large that they completely overpower the small garden. Pines and Louisiana magnolias make wonderful windbreaks. Plant any shade tree where you need it for shade and remember to keep away from light and telephone wires.

Garden Jobs

If you need some garden jobs to do these cooler days, soak the daisies well and transplant them.

Some gardeners have asked about pruning evergreens now, such as ligustrum, photinia and pittosporum. If you prune now, you'll have to look at the "straggly" bush all winter. Unless the shrubs are obstructing an entrance or walk, why not wait until next February? Then the plants will put out in March and you'll have their beauty to enjoy all winter.

Christmas week is an excellent time to prune holly, youpons and pyracanthas. Just cut branches of berries for your house, your church, school or your friends.

October is one of the most successful months to root verbena. Just put the cuttings in the bed where you plan to leave them and keep wet. Mulch the bed well. The verbena will run on top of the mulch and you'll not have the grass problem.

Lowly little sweet alyssum is blooming now, and will bloom until it freezes. These little seed can be planted any month of the year.

Men's Styles

According to the chairman of the Custom Tailors' Guild of America, the Italian look is manifested in men's suits and overcoats, shirts, ties, shoes and hats. The vogue is for shorter jackets with narrow peaked lapels, narrower shoulders, higher waistlines and tapered sleeves. Trousers will be narrower and tapered this season. You men may storm at this news, but really you're just as fashion conscious as your wife. Just wait — you'll be out soon in a paisley shirt. Paisley is showing up in just about everything in men's wear —pajamas, robes, sport shirts, neckties, underwear and scarfs.

Just Talking

The latest development of an old idea is a meal in a match box, yes, a tasty meal of chopped beef, mashed potatoes and yellow turnips, preceded by soup and followed by apple puree, can be carried around in a match box in dried form. These foods can be reconstituted and made extremely palatable by the mere addition of hot water. This process of dehydration is claimed to be far more efficient and productive of much better flavor as well as more attractive in appearance than anything heretofore achieved in this field.

Food News

It's back to the sea for everyone as America celebrates National Canned Tuna Week from September 13 through the 22nd. Supplies of this seafood favorite are very plentiful and prices are now at the lowest level in the past few years. There's been excellent tuna fishing this past spring and summer.

Canned tuna in oil is easy, quick and good eating at a low, low cost. Tuna is tops as a protein-rich food that adds protein, vitamins A and B, calcium and iron. This is easy to prepare and can be purchased as fancy or solid pack, chunk style, flakes or grated. Solid or chunk styles are packed as "white" or "light" meat. The white meat chunk style is your highest price pack, your dark flake or grated your cheapest.

Get out the tuna recipes and use this fish as a meat substitute while the prices are low. Here are two recipes we believe you'll like:

Serves 4
½ cup chopped celery.
1 medium sized onion, chopped.
1 bay leaf.
¾ teaspoon salt.
2 cups water.
2 tablespoons flour.
2 tablespoons water.
¼ teaspoon thyme.
Dash of pepper.
1 cup milk or cream.
1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained or flaked.
Chopped parsley or paprika.

Simmer celery, onion, potato and bay leaf in 2 cups slated water 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender.

Stir in flour blended with 2 tablespoons water, thyme and pepper.

Heat, but do not boil.

Serve hot, garnished with parsley or paprika.

Sunday Night Special
Barbecued Tuna Burgers

1 clove garlic, minced.
1 tablespoon butter or margarine.
1 can (8) oz.) tomato sauce.
2 tablespoons vinegar.
1 tablespoon brown sugar.
⅓ teaspoon chili powder.
1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked.
4 hamburger buns, split.

Cook garlic in butter or margarine 1 minute.

Add remaining ingredients, except tuna.

Add tuna and heat thoroughly.

Toast buns and spoon barbecued tuna over buns.

Current supplies of fish sticks are ample in this area. They're easy to prepare and always look so appetizing. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has set up grade standards for these sticks. The Grade A are those of highest quality. They're practically free from defects such as bones, broken sticks damaged sticks and free from blemishes. Any fish sticks less than this quality are placed in the Grade B class.

October food shoppers will have a wide choice of protein foods for main dishes. There is still an abundance of broilers, fryers, turkeys, pork, beef, eggs and chickens.

1. HAS THE RATE OF SPEED IN DRIVING CARS INCREASED? YOUR OPINION ______

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, according to the Bureau of Public Roads, Americans drove faster in 1955 than ever before. In a survey made in 33 states the average speed of 397,303 observed motor vehicles was 50 m.p.h. Officials said the rising national average speed is a continuing phenomenon as highways get better and automobiles, trucks, and buses improve. In 1947, average speed for all types vehicles was 46 m.p.h. Last year average for passenger cars was 52; trucks, 45; and buses, 32 m.p.h. Fifty-seven per cent of passenger cars went faster than 50 m.p.h., and 18 per cent more than 60. Slow down — live — and let live!

Is there a way to overcome the opposition to "child psychology"?

Yes —— No ——

2. Yes, call it something else, such as "Why Kids Behave As They Do" — anything, to fool them into accepting it, because heaven knows, all parents need it. I lectured for 6 years on medical and dental inspection in the schools, when the idea was new. I called my lecture "Dollars and Sense." I also lectured twenty years on heredity and eugenics. But if I had called it that, not even ten people would have come to hear me. So, I called it "Climbing Your Family Tree" and often had audiences of 10,000.

"I hope he doesn't ask . . ."

Do you feel this way about explaining sex to your child? If so, you need the Public Affairs nonprofit booklet, "How To Tell Your Child About Sex." Send 25c (coin only) and your name and address to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, Public Affairs Committee, in care of your newspaper.

Can you determine how many calories you need for good health?

Your opinion ——

The result of a study made of college girls showed if you eat 29 calories per inch of your height, this is probably an adequate diet. In the study, of 61 girls, 40 maintained weight on about 2,000 calories a day. This is below the 2,400 set by the National Research Council for group 16-20 and the 2,300 for 25-year-old women. Average of the 61 college girls was 19.6 per inch of weight. This study seems to support the suggestion of other scientists that body-fuel needs and food should be revaluated in the light of labor-saving devices, shorter working hours, and more leisure time.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Kitchen Items Used As Vase For Flower Designs

"Containers from the Kitchen" were featured in the one man show by John A. Wright of Louisiana Tech at the Garden Center this week. Mr. Wright designed and discussed the arrangements on television on Wednesday and they were on display at the Garden Center from Wednesday through Saturday. There are many household items that are not primarily designed to hold flowers that can be effectively used as "containers for arrangements" in today's contemporary living. Some of them are, pitchers, teapots, inkwells, gravy boats, as well as many others.

Mr. Wright's first design was triangular in form. A cup type holder was placed in the beautiful mahogany nut bowl which was employed in this instance as a container. The triangular lines were formed with branches of clipped pine. Snow on the mountain was used as a filler, and double pink altheas as a center of interest. Staged against a pink background this design was most appealing.

A black iron dutch oven was used for the second arrangement. Bold foliage of the loquat was arranged in a triangular pattern, with the buds and blooms of the red spider lily massed in the foreground. The combination of testures and colors most striking. This was staged against a chartreuse background.

A glass casserole set in a black wrought iron holder was chosen for the next design. A line mass design was created with Snow on the Mountain. Zinnias in bright colors were massed within the line pattern which flowed over the rim of the container in a graceful manner. Unusual handling of commonplace material gave this arrangement a lot of personality.

One of the most arresting designs was a vertical. The container was an individual casserole in blue-green pottery. This was set on a small round bread tray of woven straw. The vertical line was established with a stalk of green castor bean pods. Red spider lilies followed the vertical line. A few leaves of gardenia were tucked in low to add depth. Simplicity itself but most effective.

A beautiful blue and white frying pan of Dutch Ware was used for the next arrangement which was horizontal in design. Ginger lily foliage was placed in a flat pattern following the lines of the wooden handle. Red spider lilies and buds were used to enhance the horizontal line. Very decorative. We are taught that the horizontal line induces a feeling of slow or reserved motion, giving a sense of tranquility.

Here is the most exciting announcement of the week. Mrs. W. M. More Than 250 Fish And Game Violators Held

Fish and game law enforcement for the first three months of the administration of Ernest S. Clements, as director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, has been unusually productive with regard to the apprehension and conviction of more than 250 law violators according to the announcement made by Director Clements today.

With Louis E. LeBlanc, chief of the law enforcement division, and Julius Book, assistant chief, laying particular stress on the campaign against major law violations, this three - month record surpasses considerably the total of arrests made during the three - month period prior to the induction of the present Wild Life and Fisheries administration.

Chief LeBlanc has devoted considerable time in directing the fight against the fish electrocution menace, with the result that 24 violators have been arrested, fined, and given jail sentences that are mandatory under the law for this type of violation. In a number of instances the fines have been $250 each, in addition to the jail sentences.

Assistant Chief Book has been campaigning against illegal shrimp trawling with the result that 101 cases of this type of violation have been recorded with convictions in each instance. One man, Tom Holland, of Biloxi, was fined $100 and cost by Justice of the Peace Riess in St. Bernard parish, after he had been captured trying to evade paying the severance tax on his shrimp catch at the port of entry at Grand Pass. Assistant Chief Book pointed out that under the law it would have been possible to have seized the violator's boat, trawl, and other equipment, and in the future shrimp trawling violations will result in seizures of this kind. In the shrimp cases made under the supervision of Assistant Chief Book, seven of them were for trawling at night time; 92 were for trawling during the closed season, and one was for possessing undersized shrimp.

According to Chief LeBlanc, 54 arrests were made during the three - month period for hunting squirrels during the closed season; 23 for hunting doves during the closed season; six for hunting at night, and six for having over the limit of game fish in their possession.

Another arrest that is important to sports fishermen was made by Assistant Chief Book when he apprehended Lester White of St. Bernard parish trawling in Nine Mile Bayou, which Director Clements has again designated as a closed area for commercial trawling. Prior to 1953 Director Clements had kept Nine Mile Bayou closed to trawlers, but when he took over again, May 31, 1956, he found it necessary to once more close this body of water to the benefit of sports fishermen.

Director Clements, Chief LeBlanc and Assistant Chief Book are impressing on game agents throughout the state the necessity for sincere effort in the fight against law violators, especially those in the major catagories, and all three are agreed that with the opening of the hunting season considerable emphasis is to be placed on seeking out hunters who have not obtained hunting licenses. These licenses have been in the hands of the sheriffs in the various parishes throughout the state in ample time for everyone to obtain a license before the opening of the hunting season, and there will be no excuses accepted when violators of this type are discovered.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Every human needs time for contemplation. . . such times will keep you youthful.

Time Spent Alone Is Like Magic Potion

Every human needs time for contemplation! Even if we do not pray in the conventional way, we need chunks of time when we can completely relax and allow the hectic pieces of life to fall into place in order to achieve some sembance of beauty and symmetry in living.

It is impossible to come into contact with the "feel" of life, and its sweep, when a child is crying, the radio is blaring, the biscuits are burning or your husband is waiting to play gin rummy with you.

Unless you consciously plan for these revitalizing times alone you will not have them. Probably the best time for the woman is in the late evening after the last child is tucked into bed, or in the early morning before the family is stirring. It must be a time when you will not be interrupted. Then you can completely relax and let the forces of life flow into you.

Such times will keep you youthful. They will bring problems into focus, they will renew energy, they will deepen your sleep and brighten your days. They will bring new eagerness to daily living and replace fear with courage.

Many people go for day upon day and week upon week and sometimes month upon month, without ever being alone for a period of complete relaxation. This means physical limpness, and mental and emotional uncoiling. Once you tap this source of inspiration and health you will not allow life to rob you of it again.

We live in the midst of so much confusion, so many problems, so much noise, so many demands and so many associations and duties, that we fail to realize how great our need for these times is until we try this therapy.

The correlation between the emotion and health is so certain and strong that any procedure which promotes the good of both is a magic potion.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Individual Happiness" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 65 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Milford Weeks, Rounding Out 51 Years, To Retire

The Missouri Pacific Railroad will lose, through retirement, another valued employe, according to Supt. D. T. Barksdale. This time it is Milford F. Weeks, general yeardmaster in Monroe, who has rounded out 51 years of railroad work in highly successful manner. His home is at 400 Rochelle Avenue.

Mr. Weeks was born in Boyce, La., Oct. 12, 1886, and began his railroad work as a switchman, coming to the Missouri Pacific Aug. 12, 1911. He transferred to Monroe as general yardmaster on November 16, 1945, after he had served in many capacities in McGehee, Ark., Alexandria, La., and then in Monroe.

Superintendent Barksdale stated he is deeply regretful at the loss of such a faithful and capable employe. This retirement is coming to the railroad here in rather close sequence to the retirement of Ed Morris, freight agent in Monroe of the same railroad which occurred last April.

As a small token of appreciation of services through the years by Mr. Weeks, a coffee hour for both Mr. and Mrs. Weeks has been planned. It will be Thursday in the Booster hall of the Missouri Pacific railroad in Monroe from 5 to 7 p.m.

All railroad men and women and all friends in the Twin Cities and this area, are cordially invited, Superintendent Barksdale stated.

It is expected there will be a little informal program but employes of the road are asked to drop by the hall in work clothes.

Man's Pants And $300 Are Burned

This hard luck story exceeds any we have heard in quite a while.

An occupant of a local hotel W. M. Hammons, fell asleep with a cigarette burning in his hand. While he was snoozing, the lighted cigarette fell on his pants, reducing them, plus $300 he had stashed in his pants pockets, to ashes.

The only redeming factor in Hammons' hard luck story is that his pants were on the floor—not on him — when they caught fire.

Appeal Is Filed In Suit Against Howard, M'Sherry

A request for a new trial was filed Friday by two plaintiffs in a suit against the Monroe central Democratic committee, Mayor W. L. Howard and Commissioner of Finance and Utilities H. W. McSherry. The suit was filed in fourth district court by an attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Woods.

On July 16, of this year, Judge Jesse Heard in fourth district court threw out a suit asking that the municipal elections be ruled null and void. At the time Judge Heard ruled that there was no cause for action.

The request for a new trial was asked because the "judgment rendered herein on the 16th day of July, 1956, in open court is contrary to the law and the evidence." The suit contends that the judgment was rendered on only one exception of no cause of action, with no allusions made to any other exception.

More Than 250 Fish And Game Violators Held

Fish and game law enforcement for the first three months of the administration of Ernest S. Clements, as director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, has been unusually productive with regard to the apprehension and conviction of more than 250 law violators according to the announcement made by Director Clements today.

With Louis E. LeBlanc, chief of the law enforcement division, and Julius Book, assistant chief, laying particular stress on the campaign against major law violations, this three - month record surpasses considerably the total of arrests made during the three - month period prior to the induction of the present Wild Life and Fisheries administration.

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 23, 1956.

The Golden Text is: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Phil. 4:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near" (Isa. 55:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious or eternal" (335).

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 23, 1956.

The Golden Text is: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Phil. 4:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near" (Isa. 55:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious or eternal" (335).

Man Who Commits Suicide Atop Of Volcano Identified

HOUSTON (UP) — The widow of a 32-year-old mystery man who shot himself to death atop a volcano sacred to the Aztecs in Mexico identified him today as a nephew of a famed German novelist.

Mrs. Lucy Lopez Berg, wife of John Jack Berg of Houston and New York, said he was really Hans Jacob Feuchtwanger, a nephew of German novelist Lion Feuchtwanger.

Berg, or Feuchtwanger, vanished from Houston last May 15, leaving a trail of worthless $50 checks behind him at supermarkets. He was found dead, shot in the head, last Sunday atop Mt. Popocatepetl in Mexico.

Mrs. Berg received a letter from him the following day, saying he had made "foolish investments" and was going to kill himself to find "peace."

Mrs. Berg flew to Mexico to bury him at the little town of Chalco. A distant relative in Mexico, meanwhile, had also identified Berg as Feuchtwanger and said he left a wife in New York.

Mrs. Berg said she knew nothing of the other wife, or that Berg was being investigated by the Internal Revenue Service. She said they took the name of Berg "because he wanted to live away from his family."

Lion Feuchtwanger, who fled to America from the Nazis in 1940, is best known for his books "The Ugly Duchess," "Exile," "The Pretender" and "The Oppermanns."

STAMPS

The 1956 Olympics soon to be held in Australia have received special philatelic attention from the Netherlands. A cleverly designed set of four adhesives depicts silhouette outlines of popular Olympic sports.

The 2 cents plus 3 blue and white features a sailboat. The 5 cents plus 3 yellow and black shows a swift runner. The 10 cent plus 5 gray and black pictures a hockey player in action. The 25 cents plus 8 green and black illustrates water polo. A 7 cents plus 5 brown and black stamp, included in the set but not featuring silhouette sports, depicts an ancient Greek vase with Olympic runners carved on the side.

The surtax on the stamps will help defray the expenses of the Netherlands Olympic team. That country last issued an Olympic set in 1928.

Three more stamps in its "province" series have been issued by Argentina, reports the New York Stamp Co. The 50 centavos blue honors the new province of La Pampa. The 1 peso red is for the province of Chaco and the 1.50 peso green for the province of Misiones.

The Western zone of Germany has become quite prolific in issuing new stamps. Here are some of the latest issues: Two stamps of identical design to honor the Protestant Synod which met at Frankfort ad one stamp for the Catholic meetings in Cologne; one stamp issued to commemorate the International Police Show (IPA) in Essen; a 20 pfenning red stamp released as a tribute to the first anniversary of Thomas Mann's death.

The fourth commemorative stamp of 1956 to be issued by the United Nations postal administration will be the Human Rights Day adhesive on Dec. 10. It will come in two denominations — 3 cent red and 8 cent blue.

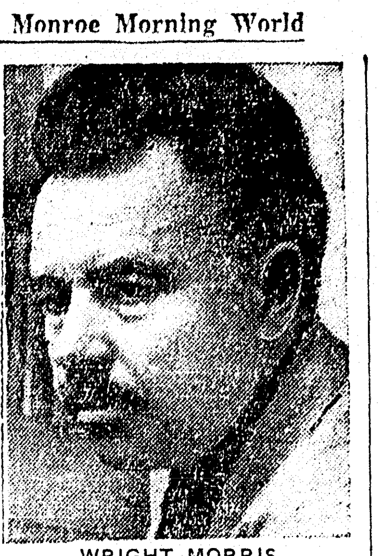
The design features a flame symbolizing human rights, illuminating the globe, Rashid-ud Din of Pakistan was the stamp's designer. First day details will be announced soon.

Northern Morocco has issued eight new stamps for regular postage. Two bear a portrait of the Sultan Mohamed V. Other designs depict the part of Villa Sanjurjo, the polytechnical school and the cultural school.

From Melbourne, Australia comes word that an "All Australian" home there featured a room with lamp shades made of transparent cellulose decorated with Australian stamps.

The Institute for Crippled and Disabled has had designed an electric mat which will open its doors automatically to the slightest touch of a patient's wheelchair or crutch tip.



WRIGHT MORRIS

BOOKS

The Field of Vision By Wright Morris. Harcourt, Brace.

Old man Scanlon, nearing 90, the "man who knew Buffalo Bill;" his daughter Lois; her husband McKee; the grandson Gordon with his pistol and Davy Crockett coonskin cap, have all come down from Lone Tree by station wagon to Mexico and, as this novel opens, are attending a bullfight. With them are an old friend, Gordon Boyd, who had tried to walk on the water and tried to make a play of it, and Dr. Leopold Lehmann and Paul-Paula Kahler.

The stone benches are cold; they sit on the shady side of the great bowl-shaped arena. The fights go on. Egged on by Boyd, the boy squirts streams of pop from the bottle, the bulls now miss a youngster, now gore a matador.

But these disturbing sights drive the thoughts of these alien Americans back to their early years, to the time when Boyd kissed Lois before McKee ever got around to it, when they ran wagon wheels over new graves to fool marauding Indians, when Mrs. Norton suffered her fate. As McKee says, "he had to come to a bullfight to remember he had shot a hog."

With bull fight and glittering arena the catalyst with mysterious prodding from the insistent present, they are thrust back upon a still more insistent, relevant, and formative American past. This comes closer to documentation of the mid-American experience than fictionalization of it, despite the restriction to a single afternoon of action; I like it, but I think Morris has put more difficulties in the reader' way than he needed to.

Record Review

Wild Bill Davison's name long has been linked with a free-wheeling trumpet that blows the hottest music this side of New Orleans.

So it was considered something unusual when Davison detached himself temporarily from various Dixieland combos and made an album for Columbia with sidemen playing violins and such.

But Davison justifies his decision because "Pretty Wild" is a fine album and most of the numbers are jazz tunes, such as "Sugar," or pop standards of ancient vintage like "Just a Gigolo" and "She's Funny That Way."

From the west coast comes an album, Good Time Jazz's "The Bay City Jazz Band," which is pure Dixie. This combo was inspired by the great work of the Yerba Buena Jazz Band of the early 1940's and follows its pattern. Good work by Everett Farey on cornet, Al Vavallin on trumpet, Sanford Newbauer on trombone, Roy Giomi on clarinet, Don Keeler on piano, Walt Yost on tuba, Lloyd Byassee on drums and Tito Patri on banjo. Numbers include "Snake Rag," "Arab Strut" and Newbauer's own "Auntie Soshal's Social."

Recommended Cool Jazz — "The Hawk in Hi-Fi," starring Coleman Hawkins (RCA-Victor); "Duane Tatro's Jazz for Moderns" (Contemporary), and Vols. 1 and 2 of "The Birdland Stars on Tour" (RCA-Victor).

Records worth watching — "He Who Loves and Runs Away," by the Four Freshmen (Capitol); "The Swiss Bell Waltz" by Bob Kames (Bally); "It Happened Again" by Sarah Vaughan (Mercury), "Pretty Blue Jeans" by Floyd Cramer (M-G-M) and "Two Hearts" (Dot).

TV notes

Some manufacturers are announcing price rises of approximately $10 on certain of their black and white TV sets. Increased production costs are cited. This is the first increase in several years, reversing the previous trend.

Three top Broadway comediennes are now involved in Sid Caesar's show as against the one big distaff personality there in the past. Janet Blair, Shirl Conway and Pat Carroll all have had personal successes in the theater.

When the Sid Caesars had a third child in July, the comedian had to make a slight corporate change. His Shellric Corporation combined the names of his children Shelly and Richard. Karen Amy's arrival was acknowledged by adding a "k" to Shellric.

The first of Ray Bolger's NBC series, "Washington Square," will be presented Oct. 2. There will be 17 of these one-hour musical "book" shows, alternating in the 4 to 5 p.m. spot Sundays with "Wide Wide World." The main characters will be seen on each show, following a continuing story line. It's described as a sort of "Our Town" type of entertainment, involving show business.

The fall premiere show of "The Kaiser Aluminum Hour" on NBC Sept. 25 will reunite the team responsible for the celebrated TV play, "Patterns," two season back. The author of the new one, "Mr. Finchley versus the Bomb," is Rod Serling and its director is Fielder Cook.

Lawrence Welk's second hour-long musical variety show for the ABC network will first be seen Oct. 8. "Lawrence Welk's Top Tunes and New Faces" is the title and it will be on Mondays at 9:30 p.m.

The second "Red Goose Kiddie Spectacular" for ABC will be on Oct. 6 at 11 a.m. It will be a fantasy revolving around Alene Dalton, well known in TV as the "Story Princess." Lee Cooley, producer of Perry Como's shows for years, is in charge.

After seeing some of the material Alfred Hitchcock HAS used on his TV series of crime dramas, there must be some really macabre stuff in an anthology bearing his name which will be published soon by Simon and Schuster. It's called "They Wouldn't Let Me Do These on TV." Alfred Hitchcock's Mystery Magazine is also in the works; due this winter.

The bidding:

South, 4 hearts; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, 4 spades.

South, 5 hearts; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, Pass.

Opening lead: Five of spades.

Today's offering is a tale of intrigue. In the auction, South adopted the policy of "treating them rough while telling them nothing," and in the play what little he told was false. He accomplished his purpose, though, as is frequently the case in situations of this character, the victim might have avoided the disaster by the use of inductive reasoning.

The first round of bidding was entirely normal. South's leap to four hearts indicated perhaps a lack of curiosity. With the king of spades behind the spade bidder and a void of the other adverse suit, most persons would have given mild consideration to slam possibilities. Possession of the ace and king of hearts by North would place the partnership well on the way to slam.

Convinced that he had no defense against the heart contract, East decided to sacrifice. The choice of four spades may seem daring, but actually it was sent out as a feeler. In view of West's vulnerable overcall, a five club bid should not prove too costly, and East did not intend to stand for spades if he ran into a double.

West opened the five of spades. Declarer, realizing it was a singleton, since surely East's bidding indicated a six card suit, saw that the contract was doomed by reason of the impending spade ruff. In this extremity he dropped the king of spades under the ace. This was convincing enough for East, who returned a club permitting declarer to unload his losing spade.

Despite the apparent futility of trying to cash another spade trick, analysis will show that the queen of spades is the proper play at trick two. Attempting to set up a club trick is an empty gesture. Declarter can have at the most only one club, and if West has a six card club suit declarer will have none. If the jack of spades is established it will provide declarer with only one discard. And what can he discard on the jack of spades? A diamond, but it is clear that one diamond discard will not be helpful to South, who is marked with several of that suit.

WHAT'S NEW? A flash unit with a radically different flat-face reflector and a handy flash exposure dial on its back, is now available. The spherical reflector allows a spill-over of light and achieves a "bounce" light quality, it is claimed. The large dial, easy to set, easy to read, provides the proper lens setting at various distances. A deluxe model features a pushbutton handle and a universal bracket for easy removal when shooting flash off the camera. An extension outlet permits multiple flash firing—up to four units.

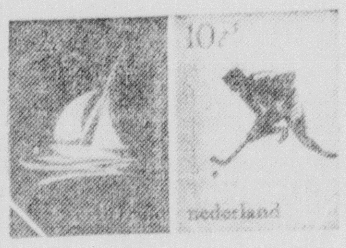
The 1956 Olympics soon to be held in Australia have received special philatelic attention from the Netherlands. A cleverly designed set of four adhesives depicts silhouette outlines of popular Olympic sports.

The 2 cents plus 3 blue and white features a sailboat. The 5 cents plus 3 yellow and black shows a swift runner. The 10 cent plus 5 gray and black pictures a hockey player in action. The 25 cents plus 8 green and black illustrates water polo. A 7 cents plus 5 brown and black stamp, included in the set but not featuring silhouette sports, depicts an ancient Greek vase with Olympic runners carved on the side.

The surtax on the stamps will help defray the expenses of the Netherlands Olympic team. That country last issued an Olympic set in 1928.



Three more stamps in its "province" series have been issued by Argentina, reports the New York Stamp Co. The 50 centavos blue honors the new province of La Pampa. The 1 peso red is for the province of Chaco and the 1.50 peso green for the province of Misiones.

The Western zone of Germany has become quite prolific in issuing new stamps. Here are some of the latest issues: Two stamps of identical design to honor the Protestant Synod which met at Frankfort ad one stamp for the Catholic meetings in Cologne; one stamp issued to commemorate the International Police Show (IPA) in Essen; a 20 pfenning red stamp released as a tribute to the first anniversary of Thomas Mann's death.

The fourth commemorative stamp of 1956 to be issued by the United Nations postal administration will be the Human Rights Day adhesive on Dec. 10. It will come in two denominations — 3 cent red and 8 cent blue.

The design features a flame symbolizing human rights, illuminating the globe. Rashid-ud Din of Pakistan was the stamp's designer. First day details will be announced soon.

Northern Morocco has issued eight new stamps for regular postage. Two bear a portrait of the Sultan Mohamed V. Other designs depict the part of Villa Sanjurjo, the polytechnical school and the cultural school.

From Melbourne, Australia comes word that an "All Australian" home there featured a room with lamp shades made of transparent cellulose decorated with Australian stamps.

The Institute for Crippled and Disabled has had designed an electric mat which will open its doors automatically to the slightest touch of a patient's wheelchair or crutch tip.

WRIGHT MORRIS

BOOKS

Old man Scanlon, nearing 90, the "man who knew Buffalo Bill;" his daughter Lois; her husband McKee; the grandson Gordon with his pistol and Davy Crockett coonskin cap, have all come down from Lone Tree by station wagon to Mexico and, as this novel opens, are attending a bullfight. With them are an old friend, Gordon Boyd, who had tried to walk on the water and tried to make a play of it, and Dr. Leopold Lehmann and Paul-Paula Kahler.

The stone benches are cold; they sit on the shady side of the great bowl-shaped arena. The fights go on. Egged on by Boyd, the boy squirts streams of pop from the bottle, the bulls now miss a youngster, now gore a matador.

But these disturbing sights drive the thoughts of these alien Americans back to their early years, to the time when Boyd kissed Lois before McKee ever got around to it, when they ran wagon wheels over new graves to fool marauding Indians, when Mrs. Norton suffered her fate. As McKee says, "he had to come to a bullfight to remember he had shot a hog."

With bull fight and glittering arena the catalyst with mysterious prodding from the insistent present, they are thrust back upon a still more insistent, relevant, and formative American past. This comes closer to documentation of the mid-American experience than fictionalization of it, despite the restriction to a single afternoon of action; I like it, but I think Morris has put more difficultics in the reader' way than he needed to.

Record Review

Wild Bill Davison's name long has been linked with a free-wheeling trumpet that blows the hottest music this side of New Orleans.

So it was considered something unusual when Davison detached himself temporarily from various Dixieland combos and made an album for Columbia with sidemen playing violins and such.

But Davison justifies his decision because "Pretty Wild" is a fine album and most of the numbers are jazz tunes, such as "Sugar," or pop standards of ancient vintage like "Just a Gigolo" and "She's Funny That Way."

From the west coast comes an album, Good Time Jazz's "The Bay City Jazz Band," which is pure Dixie. This combo was inspired by the great work of the Yerba Buena Jazz Band of the early 1940's and follows its pattern. Good work by Everett Farey on cornet, Al Vavallin on trumpet, Sanford Newbauer on trombone, Roy Giomi on clarinet, Don Keeler on piano, Walt Yost on tuba, Lloyd Byassee on drums and Tito Patri on banjo. Numbers include "Snake Rag," "Arab Strut" and Newbauer's own "Auntie Soshal's Social."

Recommended Cool Jazz — "The Hawk in Hi-Fi," starring Coleman Hawkins (RCA-Victor); "Duane Tatro's Jazz for Moderns" (Contemporary), and Vols. 1 and 2 of "The Birdland Stars on Tour" (RCA-Victor).

Records worth watching — "He Who Loves and Runs Away," by the Four Freshmen (Capitol); "The Swiss Bell Waltz" by Bob Kames (Bally); "It Happened Again" by Sarah Vaughan (Mercury), "Pretty Blue Jeans" by Floyd Cramer (M-G-M) and "Two Hearts" (Dot).

Some manufacturers are announcing price rises of approximately $10 on certain of their black and white TV sets. Increased production costs are cited. This is the first increase in several years, reversing the previous trend.

Three top Broadway comediennes are now involved in Sid Caesar's show as against the one big distaff personality there in the past. Janet Blair, Shirl Conway and Pat Carroll all have had personal successes in the theater.

When the Sid Caesars had a third child in July, the comedian had to make a slight corporate change. His Shellric Corporation combined the names of his children Shelly and Richard: Karen Amy's arrival was acknowledged by adding a "k" to Shellric.

The first of Ray Bolger's NBC series, "Washington Square," will be presented Oct. 2. There will be 17 of these one-hour musical "book" shows, alternating in the 4 to 5 p.m. spot Sundays with "Wide Wide World." The main characters will be seen on each show, following a continuing story line. It's described as a sort of "Our Town" type of entertainment, involving show business.

The fall premiere show of "The Kaiser Aluminum Hour" on NBC Sept. 25 will reunite the team responsible for the celebrated TV play, "Patterns," two season back. The author of the new one, "Mr. Finchley versus the Bomb," is Rod Serling and its director is Fielder Cook.

Lawrence Welk's second hour-long musical variety show for the ABC network will first be seen Oct. 8. "Lawrence Welk's Top Tunes and New Faces" is the title and it will be on Mondays at 9:30 p.m.

The second "Red Goose Kiddie Spectacular" for ABC will be on Oct. 6 at 11 a.m. It will be a fantasy revolving around Alene Dalton, well known in TV as the "Story Princess." Lee Cooley, producer of Perry Como's shows for years, is in charge.

After seeing some of the material Alfred Hitchcock HAS used on his TV series of crime dramas, there must be some really macabre stuff in an anthology bearing his name which will be published soon by Simon and Schuster. It's called "They Wouldn't Let Me Do These on TV." Alfred Hitchcock's Mystery Magazine is also in the works; due this winter.

The bidding:

South, 4 hearts; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, 4 spades.

South, 5 hearts; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, Pass.

Opening lead: Five of spades.

Today's offering is a tale of intrigue. In the auction, South adopted the policy of "treating them rough while telling them nothing," and in the play what little he told was false. He accomplished his purpose, though, as is frequently the case in situations of this character, the victim might have avoided the disaster by the use of inductive reasoning.

The first round of bidding was entirely normal. South's leap to four hearts indicated perhaps a lack of curiosity. With the king of spades behind the spade bidder and a void of the other adverse suit, most persons would have given mild consideration to slam possibilities. Possession of the ace and king of hearts by North would place the partnership well on the way to slam.

Convinced that he had no defense against the heart contract, East decided to sacrifice. The choice of four spades may seem daring, but actually it was sent out as a feeler. In view of West's vulnerable overcall, a five club bid should not prove too costly, and East did not intend to stand for spades if he ran into a double.

West opened the five of spades. Declarer, realizing it was a singleton, since surely East's bidding indicated a six card suit, saw that the contract was doomed by reason of the impending spade ruff. In this extremity he dropped the king of spades under the ace. This was convincing enough for East, who returned a club permitting declarer to unload his losing spade.

Despite the apparent futility of trying to cash another spade trick, analysis will show that the queen of spades is the proper play at trick two. Attempting to set up a club trick is an empty gesture. Declarter can have at the most only one club, and if West has a six card club suit declarer will have none. If the jack of spades is established it will provide declarer with only one discard. And what can he discard on the jack of spades? A diamond, but it is clear that one diamond discard will not be helpful to South, who is marked with several of that suit.

WHAT'S NEW? A flash unit with a radically different flat-face reflector and a handy flash exposure dial on its back, is now available. The spherical reflector allows a spill-over of light and achieves a "bounce" light quality, it is claimed. The large dial, easy to set, easy to read, provides the proper lens setting at various distances. A deluxe model features a pushbutton handle and a universal bracket for easy removal when shooting flash off the camera. An extension outlet permits multiple flash firing—up to four units.

'Bus Stop Boasts 'New' Marilyn; At Paramount

Marilyn Monroe returns to the screen of the Paramount Theatre today in "Bus Stop," Twentieth Century - Fox's CinemaScope-De Luxe color version of William Inge's successful Broadway play. After an absence of 14 months the screen's Number One glamour girl emerges with a new acting technique acquired at the famed Actor's Studio in New York but with the same curves and beauty she has always displayed.

Opposite Miss Monroe will be Don Murray, a new and exciting Broadway actor, who will be making his screen debut. He was selected for the important cowboy role over thirty-odd young actors who were tested for the part. Producer Buddy Adler surrounded them with top talent — Oscar nominee Arthur O'Connell; Broadway actresses Betty Field and Eileen Heckart; Robert Bray, Hope Lange, Hans Conried and Casey Adams.

George Axelrod, who wrote "The Seven Year Itch" and "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?," two highly successful plays adapted Inge's comedy romance between the chanteuse of the Blue Dragon Cafe in Phoenix, Arizona and the naive, but brash cowboy from the Susie-Q ranch in Montana, Their hilarious love-making is carried on in a bus, at a roadside diner, in the cafe and at the Jaycee World's Championship Rodeo.

Joshua Logan, who directed the screen version of Inge's "Picnic," handled the directorial duties on "Bus Stop." To give greater scope to the picture than the play had, Director Logan took his company of 80 players and technicians on location first to Phoenix, where the annual rodeo as in progress, and to Sun Valley, Idaho for scenic backgrounds. For the rodeo scenes Logan used 10,000 spectators as extras to cheer Marilyn and Don Murray, who does some bronco riding of his own. Top riders, including Casey Tibbs, World's All-Around Rodeo Champion, participate in the authentic round-up. Moving his troupe on later to Sun Valley, Logan made use of the vast expanse of snowcovered mountains for the equally realistic snowbound outdoor scenes that keep the "passengers" marooned at the "Bus Stop" for several hours.

Milton Krasner, ASC who photographed Miss Monroe in "The Seven Year Itch," handled the CinemaScope cameras for "Bus Stop," which emerges as a handsomely mounted film treat.

NO. 1 BLONDE—The beautiful curver, the provocative glance reveals a Marilyn Monroe in better-than-ever form in her return to the screen in "Bus Stop." The 20th Century Fox screen version of the smash Broadway comedy hit makes its long-awaited debut today at the Paramount Theatre.

FEATURE TIMES SUNDAY

Paul Newman, as Rocky Graziano, and Pier Angeli, as the wife who helped turn him from a bum into a celebrity in "Somebody Up There Likes Me," M-G-M filmization of Graziano's colorful autobiography. Starts today at the Jim Theatre.

Newman, Angeli Score In Rocky Graziano Story

The extradordinary and fascinating story of Rocky Graziano, who rose from an environment of squalor, reform school and the New York City Penitentiary to become not only middleweight champion of the world but a regenerated human being, is unfolded on the Jim Theatre screen in M-G-M's "Somebody Up There Likes Me."

Based on his intimately revealing autobiography, with Paul Newman portraying Graziano and Pier Angeli cast as Norma, the girl who married him and who was largely responsible for his "turning the leaf," "Somebody Up There Likes Me" provides engrossing drama in its story of a no-good punk who was determined to be top dog.

Rocky Graziano's real name was Rocco Barbella. An incorrigible hoodlum, street fighter, petty thief, gang leader and cop dodger, he was the toughest kid on the East Side. Up to the age of twenty he spent more than half his youth in various jails, detention homes, reform schools and the prison on Rikers Island. But the turning point in his life came after he had served nine months in the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth for being absent without leave from the Army and for knocking out first a corporal and then a captain. When he left Leavenworth, Rocco Barbella was to become the professional fighter Rocky Graziano.

In scenes of colorful action and unflagging interest the story now depicts Rocky's "legitimate" life—his marriage to the encouraging Norma, the three years during which he rose to celebrity as one of the biggest draws in Madison Square Garden before being defeated by the world champion Tony Zale (enacted by Courtland Sheppard) and the $1,000,000 scandal in which Rocky, fearing disclosure of his past, refuses to name the men who had attempted to bribe him to throw a fight. But in the final scenes he rebounds from a man facing the prejudice of his public and uncertainty of himself to achieve both victory and regeneration. And all of New York's Lower East Side cheers the new Champ in a glorious victory parade down Second Avenue.

Since "Somebody Up There Likes Me" is primarily the story of a mal-adjusted youngster who won a battle with himself, the role of Graziano called for an actor who could reveal the character facets which made Rocky what he was. The bill is filled to perfection by Paul Newman, one of Hollywood's newest stars. Starting out as the streetcorner punk with a chip on his shoulder and a total contempt for the law, Newman builds up his characterization with a disarming honesty and in the end you are rooting for him to come out on top as a "legit" guy.

Pier Angeli is exactly right as the young wife and mother whose loyalty and encouragement played a prominent part in Rocky's ultimate triumph, and others meriting applause include Everett Sloane as the loconic manager, Eileen Heckart as Rocky's pathetic mother, Sal Mineo as a pal of his cop-dodging period, Sammy White as a trainer and Harold Stone as Nick Barbella, a washed-up fighter who gave his son a bad start in life.

"Somebody Up There Likes Me" was produced by Charles Schnee and was directed by Robert Wise.

Winner of the Coty, Burdine, and Gold Coast Awards, his talents today give Special Rewards to you—to your figure and dressmaking talents. And so very easy to make!

Choose the fabric of the Original, a rich silk, or bengaline, peau de soie, brocade, sheer wool. It's a wonderful afternoon dress to go with furs, to dine in, to dance in, to wear when you want to look your very, very best!

The Swing

Here is another cut-out to use in your theater. Paste this picture on cardboard, and cut out the figure and the swing bar. Make small holes as indicated by A and B on the hands, swing seat and bar.

Using the design shown at the top left, cut out a square frame that will fit inside the front opening of the theater. Fasten this inside with thumb tacks.

Take a piece of string and make a big knot in one end. Bring the string up through the hole A in the swing seat, carry it up over Sally's legs, behind her left hand, through the hole and up to the bar. Pass behind the bar into the hole A, across to B and out.

Then bring it down behind Sally's right hand, through the hole in her hand, over her right arm, under her left arm and legs. Bring the string out through hole B on the seat and make a big knot.
